Remembering The Fifties Growing Up In Western Canada:

Roughing it in the Suburbs Valerie J. Korinek, 2000-01-01 Korinek shows that rather than promoting domestic perfection Chatelaine did not cling to the stereotypes of the era but instead forged ahead providing women with a variety of images ideas and critiques of women's role in society As I Recall... Growing up in the 1950s, 60s, and 70s in Kenmore, NY and Beyond Gregory Granger Laker, 2021-07-19 AS I RECALL Growing Up in the 1950s 60s and 70s in Kenmore NY and Beyond Antics Escapades in Kenmore NY has something that anyone who grew up in the same time period can connect with The Canadian Historical Review ,1998 Canadian Books in Print ,2000 "Women and the Material Culture of Needlework and Textiles, 1750-1950" Maureen Daly Goggin, 2017-07-05 Rejecting traditional notions of what constitutes art this book brings together essays on a variety of fiber arts to recoup women's artistic practices by redefining what counts as art Although scholars over the last twenty years have turned their attention to fiber arts redefining the conditions practices and products as art there is still much work to be done to deconstruct the stubborn patriarchal art craft binary With essays on a range of fiber art practices including embroidery knitting crocheting machine stitching rug making weaving and quilting this collection contributes to the ongoing scholarly redefinition of women's relationship to creative activity Focusing on women as producers of cultural products and creators of social value the contributors treat women as active subjects and problematize their material practices and artifacts in the complex world of textiles Each essay also examines the ways in which needlework both performs gender and in turn constructs gender Moreover in concentrating on and theorizing material practices of textiles these essays reorient the study of fiber arts towards a focus on process the making of the object including the conditions under which it was made by whom and for what purpose as a way to rethink the fiber arts as social praxis Changing Women, Changing History Diana Lynn Pedersen, 1996 Changing Women Changing History is a bibliographic guide to the scholarship both English and French on Canadian's women's history Organized under broad subject headings and accompanied by author and subject indices it is accessible and comprehensive Growing Up in San Francisco's Western Neighborhoods Frank Dunnigan, 2014-08-19 From football games at Kezar Stadium to a perfectly broiled Zim burger San Franciscans have fond memories of the decades after World War II Dressing up for a movie at the Fox Theatre on Market Street catching the train at the old S P Station on Third and Townsend taking the streetcar downtown to see magnificent displays in the Emporium's windows or spending a day at Golden Gate Park the outside lands of San Francisco were teeming with youngsters and the young at heart alike Western Neighborhoods Project columnist and San Francisco native Frank Dunnigan offers a charming collection of nostalgic vignettes about the thriving Western communities of unforgettable people and places that defined generations Quill & Quire ,2004 Depicting Canada's Children Loren Lerner, 2011-04-07 Depicting Canada's Children is a critical analysis of the visual representation of Canadian children from the seventeenth century to the present Recognizing the importance of methodological diversity these essays discuss understandings of children and childhood derived from depictions across a wide range of media and contexts But rather than simply examine images in formal settings the authors take into account the components of the images and the role of image making in everyday life The contributors provide a close study of the evolution of the figure of the child and shed light on the defining role children have played in the history of Canada and our assumptions about them Rather than offer comprehensive historical coverage this collection is a catalyst for further study through case studies that endorse innovative scholarship This book will be of interest to scholars in art history Canadian history visual culture Canadian studies and the history of children

This Life, This World: New Essays on Marilynne Robinson's Housekeeping, Gilead, and Home, 2015-09-29 This book explores the author's award winning novels while also engaging her non fiction As the first book devoted entirely to Robinson and to her diverse contributions to literature and scholarship This Life This World familiarizes readers with the major currents in her thought and moves scholarly dialogue into new theoretical directions An interdisciplinary group the contributors bring to their subject a diversity of perspectives Romanticism ecocriticism medicine and literature religion and literature theology American Studies critical race theory and feminist and gender studies that reflects the amplitude and fecundity of Robinson's art and thought The book begins with an annotated timeline and concludes with a substantive written interview with Robinson wherein she reflects on her work and its reception A tremendous resource for Robinson enthusiasts and for readers interested in the questions she raises in her fiction and non fiction Whistle Posts West Mary Trainer, Brian Antonson, Rick Antonson, 2015 Everybody has a train story Whether it comes from a distant relative who worked on the railways or from a family train trip that formed a lasting impression of the Canadian landscape trains inspire a sense of wonder and nostalgia They are embedded in the history of Canada as a whole and western Canada in particular and for generations they were how most people travelled and saw the country Today trains get the most attention in the context of tragedy in the aftermath of rare but catastrophic derailments However train stories go beyond these modern day disaster tales or romantic glimpses into the past Whistle Posts West presents a compelling array of stories that illustrate how and why the railways continue to capture our imaginations From the heartbreaking to the humorous from the awe inspiring to the absurd this fascinating collection of railway tales from BC Alberta and Yukon is sure to please Canadian Books in Print

Marian Butler, 2000 My Oatway Harrison Story Derek Oatway, 2020-09-10 The Canadian prairies at the turn of the twentieth century was a land of opportunity but struggle and trial waited around every corner The Oatway and Harrison families were pioneers in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta My Oatway Harrison Story tells the history of how these two families came together through marriage Homesteaders broke land picked rock and lived in sod shacks Later they experienced the challenges of war depression and unemployment Within these pages are stories of war heroes who didn't return accidents reunions and even jail time There is also celebration of life and love initiative and creativity such as unique curling rock trophies Packed with family memorabilia personal stories and regional history My Oatway Harrison Story is a treasure for anyone interested in the history of family and the history of the Canadian prairies Dispatches from the Frontlines Howard J. Wiarda, 2014-05-08 Dispatches from the Frontlines analyzes some of the world's most contentious hotspots. It focuses on such compelling global issues as Third World development, the role of the state, corporatism, and foreign aid. Dispatches from the Frontlines is a thought-provoking book for anyone interested in foreign policy, comparative politics, and international affairs.

The Dutch Diaspora Howard J. Wiarda, 2007-01-01 The Dutch Diaspora is a comprehensive and personal study of the former colonial empire of the Netherlands. The Netherlands is considered one of the most successful societies and at one point was the world's largest empire, stretching from Japan to the United States. The author, Howard Wiarda, who grew up in western Michigan and is himself of Dutch descent, combines thorough scholarship with first-hand experience of travels to the far-flung former colonies. The study analyzes how colonies reacted to the ideological beliefs implanted by the Dutch settlers and how those colonies evolved in terms of cultural, religious, and political beliefs. For example, the Dutch in the seventeenth century brought Calvinism to South Africa and entrepreneurialism to New Amsterdam and Curaçao, and in the nineteenth century supported slave plantation systems in Indonesia and Suriname. But as time passed, the evolution of the colonies was telling. The United States outgrew Great Britain in wealth and power, but while Calvinism declined in the Netherlands, it remained vibrant and progressive in the American Midwest. In many ways, the former colonies adapted to modernization better than the mother country. The Dutch Diaspora is an insightful and accessible study of colonialism, useful to upper-level undergraduates and all students and researchers of Dutch history.

Working as Indigenous Archaeologists George Nicholas, Joe Watkins, 2024-09-30 Working as Indigenous Archaeologists explores the often contentious relationship between Indigenous and other formerly colonized peoples and Archaeology through their own voices. Over the past 35-plus years, the once novel field of Indigenous Archaeology has become a relatively familiar part of the archaeological landscape. It has been celebrated, criticized, and analyzed as to its practical and theoretical applications and its political nature. No less important are the life stories of its Indigenous practitioners. What has brought some of them to become practicing archaeologists or heritage managers? What challenges have they faced from both inside and outside their communities? And why haven't more pursued Archaeology as a vocation or avocation? This volume is a collection of 60 autobiographical chapters by Indigenous archaeologists and heritage specialists from around the world, some community-based, some academic, some in other realms, who are working to connect past and present in meaningful and especially personal ways. As Archaeology continues to evolve, there remain strong tensions between an objective, science-oriented, evidentiary-based approach to knowing the past and a more subjective, relational, humanistic approach informed by local values, traditional knowledge, and holistic perspective. While there are no maps for these new territories, hearing directly from those Indigenous individuals who have pursued Archaeology reveals the pathways taken. Those stories will provide inspiration and confidence for those curious about what lies ahead. This is an important volume for anyone interested in the present state and future of the archaeological discipline Engaging in Narrative Inquiry D. Jean Clandinin, 2016-06-16

Narrative inquiry examines human lives through the lens of a narrative honoring lived experience as a source of important knowledge and understanding In this concise volume D Jean Clandinin one of the pioneers in using narrative as research updates her classic formulation on narrative inquiry with F Michael Connelly clarifying extending and refining the method based on an additional decade of work A valuable feature is the inclusion of several exemplary cases with the author s critique and analysis of the work The rise of interest in narrative inquiry in recent years makes this is an essential guide for researchers and an excellent text for graduate courses in qualitative inquiry Counseling Psychology Mark M. Leach, 2017-03-02

Since its beginnings after WWII Counseling Psychology has grown to become an applied specialty within psychology with unique areas of emphasis This book introduces readers to the field by presenting its history emphases trends and relationships to other areas within psychology followed by seminal articles that have significantly influenced counselors and researchers The volume is organized around the six general themes of history and professional development personal counseling career counseling cross cultural counseling counseling process and outcome and internationalizing Counseling Psychology In presenting articles representing these six themes that have defined counseling psychology readers are given an essential overview to the past the present and future directions of this applied specialty in psychology Mad Men, Women, and Children Heather Marcovitch, Nancy Batty, 2012-08-02

This book edited by Heather Marcovitch and Nancy Batty offers multiple perspectives on the representation of women and children in the popular AMC series Mad Men These essays explore the rich historical and social context portrayed in the series and connect the concerns and tumult of the sixties to the contemporary moment Teacher Acculturation Edward R. Howe, 2022-03-16

This book evolved from decades of transcultural experiences Edward Howe s comparative ethnographic narrative a blend of narrative inquiry and reflexive ethnography uniquely captures the essence of teacher acculturation Each chapter is filled with intriguing teachers stories based on lived experiences connected through the common thread of learning to teach Compelling teacher narratives spanning seven decades show that much of what teachers do is learned implicitly and is culturally embedded Teacher Acculturation provides a window into the world of novice teachers from the 1950s through present day The thought provoking stories provide a springboard for critical discussions about gender sexuality culture race ethnicity Indigenous perspectives SES class religion location space time and the challenges facing teachers in different contexts The author highlights the importance of teacher relationships built on mutual understanding trust mentorship leadership and guidance Beginning teachers are largely required to work in isolation to learn their practice through trial and error left to sink or swim There is little provision for mentorship and insufficient time to reflect on teaching practices Collaborative and reflective self study as illustrated in Teacher Acculturation shows great promise to ameliorate this pervasive problem in teacher induction Thus the book will appeal to teacher educators teachers and to anyone interested in the fascinating lives of teachers
