contention that the Renaissance was in many respects an age of paganism is readily belied here by the 471 Italian drawings the great majority of which are religious subjects Antiquity provided a veneer beneath which sixteenth century artists could cloak their Christianity to make it seem fresh reminding believers of the origins of their faith and reviving the purity of Christian doctrine in its early years It is no surprise then to find numerous drawings of antiquities and mythologies among the many subjects A corpus this large can be representative in many ways offering a cross section of media subjects drawing types and collectors Of the 471 Italian drawings scattered across Midwestern America here we reassemble many that were at one time in one or more prominent collections Every drawing was examined for the following information Artist place of birth and death with dates biography title of drawing date of drawing dimensions in mm and in inches media institutional credit line accession number technical condition inscriptions collectors marks watermark provenance exhibitions bibliography comments Old Master Drawings from the Woodner Collection ,1992 European Drawings 4 Nicholas
