Renaissance Charles McCorquodale, 1995 The Renaissance Charles McCorquodale, 1994 The European Renaissance 1400-1600 Robin Kirkpatrick, 2014-10-17 With Italy at its centre but encompassing the whole of Renaissance Europe this evocative history challenges some of the popularly held views on the Renaissance period In particular whilst always acknowledging the brilliance and exuberance of Renaissance culture Robin Kirkpatrick draws equal attention to the strangeness and often unresolved tensions that lay beneath the surface of that culture Insisting on a European rather than purely Italian viewpoint he embraces Renaissance thinking and culture in all its diversity from Northern thinkers such as Cusanus Luther and Calvin to the painting of Van der Weyden and El Greco and the music of the Flemish musicians Josquin des Prez and Orlando Lassus Special attention is also paid to the unique contribution made by Marguerite of Navarre to the development of humanist culture The book concludes with a study of Shakespeare in which his plays are viewed as a searching critique of some of the main principles of Renaissance culture Art of the Korean Renaissance, 1400-1600 Soyoung Lee, JaHyun Kim Haboush, Sunpyo Hong, Chin-Sung Chang, 2009 Northern Renaissance Art, 1400-1600 Wolfgang Stechow, 1989 Making Copies in European Art 1400-1600, 2018-11-26 Making Copies in European Art 1400-1600 comprises sixteen essays that explore the form and function manner and meaning of copies after Renaissance works of art The authors construe copying as a method of exchange based in the theory and practice of imitation and they investigate the artistic techniques that enabled and facilitated the production of copies They also ask what patrons and collectors wanted from a copy which characteristics of an artwork were considered copyable and where and how copies were stored studied displayed and circulated Making Copies in European Art in addition to studying many unfamiliar pictures incorporates previously unpublished documentary materials Handbook of European History 1400-1600: Late Middle Ages, Renaissance and Reformation Thomas Brady, Oberman, James D. Tracy, 2018-11-12 The Handbook of European History 1400-1600 brings together the best scholarship into an array of topical chapters that present current knowledge and thinking in ways useful to the specialist and accessible to students and to the educated non specialist Forty one leading scholars in this field of history present the state of knowledge about the grand themes main controversies and fruitful directions for research of European history in this era Volume 1 Structures and Assertions described the people lands religions and political structures which define the setting for this historical period Volume 2 Visions Programs Outcomes covers the early stages of the process by which newly established confessional structures began to work their way among the populace Authority in European Book Culture 1400-1600 Pollie Bromilow, 2016-04-08 Through its many and varied manifestations authority has frequently played a role in the communication process in both manuscript and print This volume explores how authority whether religious intellectual political or social has enforced the circulation of certain texts and text versions or acted to prevent the distribution of books pamphlets and other print matter It also analyzes how readers writers and printers have sometimes rebelled against the constraints and restrictions of authority publishing controversial works anonymously or counterfeiting authoritative texts and how the written or printed word itself has sometimes been perceived to have a kind of authority which might have had ramifications in social political or religious spheres Contributors look at the experience of various European cultures English French German and Italian to allow for comparative study of a number of questions pertinent to the period Among the issues explored are local and regional factors influencing book production the interplay between manuscript and print culture the slippage between authorship and authority and the role of civic and religious authority in cultural production Deliberately conceived to foster interdisciplinary dialogue between the history of the book and literary and cultural history this volume takes a pan European perspective to explore the ways in which authority infiltrates and is in turn propagated or undermined by book culture

The urge to create pictures of our world has been with us ever since early man daubed a fingerful of pigment on a rock or used primitive colours to create exquisite images of the beasts he hunted images so breathtakingly powerful they have never been surpassed however sophisticated we have become This book tells the story of what painting has meant to us and how its role has changed over the centuries In the crisp unstuffy commentary on each of 150 landmark works Christie's art expert Roy Bolton leads us through the development of painting until our own age where painting as a painterly craft has been overtaken by a proliferation of new forms introduced by contemporary art To the question Is the death of painting upon us the introductory chapter by Matthew Collings the multi award winning TV art presenter art historian and cultural critic gives an inspiring answer Painting justifies itself Rather than pathetically struggling to keep up with the new freak show culture of videos and installations painting will only be worth having if it reconnects with its own inner life where the old and the new are the same Roy Bolton's selection takes us from the Ancient World via the Italian Renaissance Rococo and Classicism to Impressionism Modernism and the Contemporary World Each painting with its context and artist is explained in terms designed to encourage us to judge art for ourselves Written with authority and full of original and helpful insights this is a history of art for our times While I find it interesting to think about all sorts of art I prefer painting to any of it Painting is soulful important serious and humane Matthew Collings We need to demystify art by stripping it down to its bare essentials then rebuilding it ourselves using our own minds and eyes without all the pompous clutter Roy Bolton
