Creolization and Contraband Linda M. Rupert, 2012-07-01 When Curaçao came under Dutch control in 1634 the small island off South America's northern coast was isolated and sleepy The introduction of increased trade both legal and illegal led to a dramatic transformation and Curaçao emerged as a major hub within Caribbean and wider Atlantic networks It would also become the commercial and administrative seat of the Dutch West India Company in the Americas The island's main city Willemstad had a non Dutch majority composed largely of free blacks urban slaves and Sephardic Jews who communicated across ethnic divisions in a new creole language called Papiamentu For Linda M Rupert the emergence of this creole language was one of the two defining phenomena that gave shape to early modern Curaçao The other was smuggling Both developments she argues were informal adaptations to life in a place that was at once polyglot and regimented They were the sort of improvisations that occurred wherever expanding European empires thrust different peoples together Creolization and Contraband uses the history of Curaçao to develop the first book length analysis of the relationship between illicit interimperial trade and processes of social cultural and linguistic exchange in the early modern world Rupert argues that by breaking through multiple barriers smuggling opened particularly rich opportunities for cross cultural and interethnic interaction Far from marginal these extra official exchanges were the very building blocks of colonial society Adriaan

Koerbagh, A Light Shining in Dark Places, to Illuminate the Main Questions of Theology and Religion Michiel R. Wielema, 2011-11-11 Ever since it was first written Adriaan Koerbagh's anti Christian work A Light Shining in Dark Places has been nearly inaccessible Had it been known during the Enlightenment it would have been a great inspiration to radical thinkers However it was suppressed and the author died in jail The full text is now available in English Koerbagh demolishes such Christian notions as the Creator the Trinity the divinity of Jesus heaven and hell angels devils and miracles Instead he presents a monistic world view in which Nature and God are identical Theology is a part of natural science God can only be worshipped by acting rationally Koerbagh's rational religion is intended to contribute to a free peaceful and liberal society
