Harlot's Moon Meryl Taylor, 2019-03-01 This is the most recent in Meryl Taylor's long series of literary offerings since 1987 when she first published Earthbound as a tribute to Elizabeth Steinberg a murdered child from New York City. Proceeds went to the World Hunger Coalition. Since then SCRAPS 1988 with New Horizons in Chula Vista donated funds to Humane Society Brown Mare with Avant Garde in Missouri gifted WWF Big Trouble on Hog's Back helped Wounded Warriors and her other works with Xibris aided animal charities across the world. She was widely published in magazines under pen names in the late 70s and won contests with her teachers' help. Writing has been her passion and solace. Now with her love Charles at her side she reaches out to those who hurt, need to heal, survive, move on, and grow past life that no longer works. Living in Dayton, Ohio, she writes for adults and children who need to laugh at lives that may not always seem funny. With a freshly minted PhD she soars into the stratosphere to entertain and enlighten. A mother and grandmother she sees life as a challenge, a tunnel where that light is no roaring train but an opportunity. To aspiring authors write on, publish or perish.

Daemon in the Sanctuary Wendy C. Hamblet,2013 Daemon in the Sanctuaryexplores the uncanny contradiction between the phenomenological experience of home as a site of nurture and security and the empirical reality that people are far more likely to be hurt and even killed in their own homes by their intimates rather than at the hands of strangers Moving from the syrupy tributes of the god of love in Plato s Symposiumto the subject of domestic violence appears to be a giant leap but he author shows that embroidered romantic ideas about love prepare the initiate poorly for the reality of intimate connection Poets and philosophers who lead us to believe that love is heaven sent can leave us craving an extreme experience We crave an earth shaking life altering intrusion on our tranquility as evidence that love is real Thus the naive initiate can easily mistake the flutter of the pulse the quickening of the heart rate the flush the confused emotions and the painful longing as signs of the god's gift But these are also the signs of fear Wendy C Hamblet a philosopher in the phenomenological lineage examines the truth value of phenomenological experience through the lens of the problem of intimate violence If Husserl is right and phenomenological method provides the ground of all empirical truth then what is to be made of the fundamental contradiction between the lived experience of home as a site of nurture and security and of intimates as guardians and caretakers and the empirical fact evident in every human society that people are far more likely to be harmed and even killed in their homes or in the homes of their intimates and at the hands of those charged with their care Hamblet carefully choreographs a dance between the two opposing truths to expose how the lived sense of home colored by ideals can tint people's expectations about intimate connection and cloud their ability to recognize the signs of intimate abuse This book illuminates the dangers and pitfalls of unhealthy intimacy and offers a regimen for loosening the grip of a sickened love's pathological hold
