Love, Liberation, and Escaping Slavery Barbara McCaskill, 2015 The spectacular 1848 escape of William and Ellen Craft 1824 1900 1826 1891 from slavery in Macon Georgia is a dramatic story in the annals of American history Ellen who could pass for white disguised herself as a gentleman slaveholder William accompanied her as his master's devoted slave valet both traveled openly by train steamship and carriage to arrive in free Philadelphia on Christmas Day In Love Liberation and Escaping Slavery Barbara McCaskill revisits this dual escape and examines the collaborations and partnerships that characterized the Crafts activism for the next thirty years in Boston where they were on the run again after the passage of the 1850 Fugitive Slave Law in England and in Reconstruction era Georgia McCaskill also provides a close reading of the Crafts only book their memoir Running a Thousand Miles for Freedom published in 1860 Yet as this study of key moments in the Crafts public lives

argues the early print archive newspapers periodicals pamphlets legal documents fills gaps in their story by providing insight into how they navigated the challenges of freedom as reformers and educators and it discloses the transatlantic British and American audiences changing reactions to them By discussing such events as the 1878 court case that placed William s character and reputation on trial this book also invites readers to reconsider the Crafts triumphal story as one that is messy unresolved and bittersweet An important episode in African American literature history and culture this will be essential reading for teachers and students of the slave narrative genre and the transatlantic antislavery movement and for researchers investigating early American print culture
