Miss X Or The Wolf Woman:

Miss X, Or The Wolf Woman Christine M. Crow, 1990 Myth and Fairy Tale in Contemporary Women's Fiction Susan Sellers, 2017-03-14 Woman as gorgon woman as temptress the classical and biblical mythology which has dominated Western thinking defines women in a variety of patriarchally encoded roles This study addresses the surprising persistence of mythical influence in contemporary fiction Opening with the question what is myth the first section provides a wide ranging review of mythography It traces how myths have been perceived and interpreted by such commentators as Sigmund Freud Carl Jung Bruno Bettelheim Roland Barthes Jack Zipes and Marina Warner This leads to an examination of the role that mythic narrative plays in social and self formation drawing on the literary feminist and psychoanalytic theories of Julia Kristeva Luce Irigaray Helene Cixous and Judith Butler to delineate the ways in which women's mythos can transcend the limitations of logos and give rise to potent new models for individual and cultural regeneration In this light Susan Sellers offers challenging new readings of a wide range of contemporary women's fiction including works by A S Byatt Angela Carter Anne Rice Michele Roberts Emma Tennant and Fay Weldon Topics explored include fairy tale as erotic fiction new religious writing vampires and gender bending mythic mothers genre fiction the still persuasive paradigm of feminine beauty and the radical potential of comedy

The Apparitional Lesbian Terry Castle, 1993 In essays on literary images of lesbianism from Defoe and Diderot to Virginia Woolf and Djuna Barnes on the homosexual reputation of Marie Antoinette on the lesbian writings of Anne Lister Sylvia Townsend Warner and Janet Flanner and on Henry James's The Bostonians Castle shows how a lesbian presence can be identified in the literature history and culture of the past three centuries

Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies

Gendering the Nation Christopher Whyte, 2019-08-08 Too often seen as a ghost from the past nationalism has resurfaced as a major factor in European politics and culture A powerful commitment to national autonomy has marked Scottish writing throughout the twentieth century How has the emergence of new voices from feminist gay and lesbian critics transformed that commitment How critical and pluralistic can the new nationalisms be This collection serves notice that the tradition is being read in new and disruptive ways Five women and four men examine the relationship between gender and nationality how male and female authors portray women the treatment of sexuality in Scottish writing the construction of Scottish masculinity and its relation to class and homophobia Covering modern fiction and theatre poetry film and television it is a provocative reassessment of the gender and culture of a stateless nation The Literature of Lesbianism Terry Castle, 2003 Since the Renaissance countless writers have been magnetized by the notion of love between women This anthology registers that fact in as encompassing and enlightening a way as possible Castle explores the emergence and transformation of the idea of lesbianism Cyberfeminism Susan Hawthorne, Renate Klein, 1999 This collection explores the possibilities for feminism in cyberspace It also looks at the pitfalls of the medium with theorists examining trafficking of women perception of the body and the problems of global and homogenised culture The Butterfly Effect Susan Hawthorne, 2005 This is a concept from physics in which it is surmised that small actions can have enormous consequences and that the flutter of a butterfly's wing on one side of the world can cause devastating storms on the other side This work includes poems on a range of subjects including death history culture physics and more Who's Who in Lesbian and Gay Writing Gabriele Griffin, 2003-09-02 A lively and accessible guide to lesbian and gay literary culture Featuring authors of works with lesbian or gay content as well as known lesbian and gay writers it offers an invaluable guide to a rich and varied literary culture Myth of the Modern Homosexual Rictor Norton, 2016-10-06 With careful reasoning supported by wide ranging scholarship this study exposes the fallacies of social constructionist theories within lesbian and gay studies and makes a forceful case for the autonomy of queer identity and culture It presents evidence that queers are part of a centuries old history possessing a unified historical and cultural identity The volume reviews the fundamental historiographical issues about the nature of queer history arguing that a new generation of queer historians will need to abandon authoritarian dogma founded upon politically correct ideology rather than historical experience Norton offers a clear exposition of the evidence for ancient indigenous and pre modern queer cultural continuity revealing how knowledge of that history has been suppressed and censored and sets out the queer cultural essentialist position on the key topics of queer history role identity bisexuality orientation linguistics social control homophobia subcultures and kinship patterns History of Scottish Women's Writing Douglas Gifford, 2020-03-31 No detailed description available for A History of Scottish Women's Writing Narrative, Social Myth and Reality in Contemporary Scottish and Irish Women's Writing Tudor Balinisteanu, 2009-10-02 This book offers an original interdisciplinary analysis of the relations between myth identity and social reality involving elements of narratology theory linguistics philosophy anthropology and social theory harnessed to support an argument firmly located in the area of literary criticism This analysis yields a fairly extensive reinterpretation of the concept of myth which is applied to the examination of the relationship between narrative and social reality as represented in texts by contemporary Scottish and Irish women writers The main theoretical sources are Mikhail Bakhtin's theories of heteroglossia Jacques Derrida's theories of citationality and Judith Butler's theories of subjectivity The analysis framework developed in the book uses these theories to create a new way of understanding how literary texts change readers' worldviews by enticing them to accept alternative possibilities of cultural expression of identity and social order The texts analysed in this book reconfigure naturalised stories that have become normative and constraining in conveying identities and visions of legitimate social orders The book's focus on feminine identities places it alongside feminist analyses of reconstructions of fairy tales myths or canonical stories that establish what counts as legitimate feminine identity Studied here for the first time together the writers whose texts form the interest of this book continue the revisionist work begun by other women writers who engage with the male generated literary philosophical and humanist tradition They share a view of narratives as tools for continually negotiating our identities social worlds and socialisation scenarios While the high level theoretical discourse of the first part of the book requires specialised knowledge the second part of the book offering close readings of the texts is both lively and accessible and should engage the interest of the general reader and academic alike This book is written for all those who are interested in the power words have to hold sway over our inner and outer social worlds The 1931-1940: American Film Institute Catalog of Motion Pictures Produced in the United States American Film Institute,1993 The entire field of film historians awaits the AFI volumes with eagerness Eileen Bowser Museum of Modern Art Film Department Comments on previous volumes The source of last resort for finding socially valuable films that received such scant attention that they seem lost until discovered in the AFI Catalog Thomas Cripps Endlessly absorbing as an excursion into cultural history and national memory Arthur Schlesinger Jr Outwrite Gabriele Griffin,1993 Heavenly Love?
