Monument And Memory:

Monuments and Memory, Made and Unmade Robert S. Nelson, Margaret Olin, 2003 How do some monuments become so socially powerful that people seek to destroy them After ignoring monuments for years why must we now commemorate public trauma but not triumph with a monument To explore these and other questions Robert S Nelson and Margaret Olin assembled essays from leading scholars about how monuments have functioned throughout the world and how globalization has challenged Western notions of the monument Examining how monuments preserve memory these essays demonstrate how phenomena as diverse as ancient drum towers in China and ritual whale killings in the Pacific Northwest serve to represent and negotiate time Connecting that history to the present with an epilogue on the World Trade Center Monuments and Memory Made and Unmade is pertinent not only for art historians but for anyone interested in the turbulent history of monuments a history that is still very much with us today Contributors Stephen Bann Jonathan Bordo Julia Bryan Wilson Jas Elsner Tapati Guha Thakurta Robert S Nelson Margaret Olin Ruth B Phillips Mitchell Schwarzer Lillian Lan ying Tseng Richard Wittman Wu Hung Monuments Judith Dupré, 2007 From the award winning bestselling author of Skyscrapers Churches and Bridges comes a stunning visual history that serves as a tribute to classic American landmarks

Commemoration in America David Gobel, Daves Rossell, 2013-09-03 Commemoration lies at the poetic historiographic and social heart of human community It is how societies define themselves and is central to the institution of the city Addressing the complex ways that monuments in the United States have been imagined created and perceived from the colonial period to the present Commemoration in America is a wide ranging volume that focuses on the role of remembrance and memorialization in American urban life The volume s contributors are drawn from a spectrum of disciplines social and urban history urban planning architecture art history preservation and architectural history and take a broad view of commemoration In addition to the making of traditional monuments the essays explore such commemorative acts as building preservation biography portraiture ritual performance street naming and the planting of trees Providing an overview of American memorialization and the impulses behind it Commemoration in America emphasizes a universal tendency for individuals and groups to use monuments to define their contemporary social identity and to construct historical narratives The volume shows that while commemorative acts and objects affect the community in fundamental ways their meaning is always multivalent and conflicted attesting to both triumphs and tragedies Constituting a vital part of both individual and national identity commemoration s contradictions strike at the core of American identity and speak to the importance of remembrance in the construction of our diverse national cultural landscape Contributors Jhennifer A Amundson Judson University Catherine W Bishir North Carolina State University Libraries Thomas J Campanella University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Glenn T Eskew Georgia State University Glenn Forley Parsons The New School for Design Sally Greene University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Alison K Hoagland Michigan Technological University Lynne Horiuchi University

Memory Sabina Tanović, 2019-11-28 This innovative study of memorial architecture investigates how design can translate memories of human loss into tangible structures creating spaces for remembering Using approaches from history psychology anthropology and sociology Sabina Tanović explores purposes behind creating contemporary memorials in a given location their translation into architectural concepts their materialisation in the face of social and political challenges and their influence on the transmission of memory Covering the period from the First World War to the present she looks at memorials such as the Holocaust museums in Mechelen and Drancy as well as memorials for the victims of terrorist attacks to unravel the private and public role of memorial architecture and the possibilities of architecture as a form of agency in remembering and dealing with a difficult past The result is a distinctive contribution to the literature on history and memory and on architecture as a link to the past Monuments to the Lost Cause Cynthia Mills, Cynthia J. Mills, Pamela Hemenway Simpson, 2003 This richly illustrated collection of fourteen essays examines the ways in which Confederate memorials from Monument Avenue to Stone Mountain and the public rituals surrounding them testify to the tenets of the Lost Cause a romanticized narrative of the war Several essays highlight the creative leading role played by women's groups in memorialization while others explore the alternative ways in which people outside white southern culture wrote their very different histories on the southern landscape The authors who include Richard Guy Wilson Catherine W Bishir W Fitzhugh Brundage and William M S Ramussen trace the origins objectives and changing consequences of Confederate monuments over time and the dynamics of individuals and organizations that sponsored them Thus these essays extend the growing literature on the rhetoric of the Lost Cause by shifting the focus to the realm of the visual They are especially relevant in the present day when Confederate symbols and monuments continue to play a central role in a public and often emotionally charged debate about how the South's past should be remembered The editors Art Historian Cynthia Mills a specialist in nineteenth century public sculpture is executive editor of American Art the scholarly journal of the Smithsonian American Art Museum Pamela H Simpson is the Ernest Williams II Professor of Art History at Washington and Lee University She is the coauthor of The Architecture of Historic Lexington Documents of the Assembly of the State of New York New York (State).
