Monumenta Cartographica:

The Dias Voyage, 1487-1488 Eric Axelson, 1988      Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa Elizabeth A. Sutton, 2017-07-05
Using Pieter de Marees Description and Historical Account of the Gold Kingdom of Guinea 1602 as her main source material author Elizabeth Sutton brings to bear approaches from the disciplines of art history and book history to explore the context in which De Marees account was created Since variations of the images and text were repeated in other European travel collections and decorated maps Sutton is able to trace how the framing of text and image shaped the formation of knowledge that continued to be repeated and distilled in later European depictions of Africans She reads the engravings in De Marees account as a demonstration of the intertwining domains of the Dutch pictorial tradition intellectual inquiry and Dutch mercantilism At the same time by analyzing the marketing tactics of the publisher Cornelis Claesz this study illuminates how early modern epistemological processes were influenced by the commodification of knowledge Sutton examines the book's construction and marketing to shed new light on the social milieu that shared interests in ethnography trade and travel Exploring how the images and text function together Sutton suggests that Dutch visual and intellectual traditions informed readers' choices for translating De Marees text visually Through the examination of early modern Dutch print culture Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa expands the boundaries of our understanding of the European imperial enterprise

Reflexive Cartography Emanuela Casti, 2015-08-13 Reflexive Cartography addresses the adaptation of cartography including its digital forms GIS WebGIS PPGIS to the changing needs of society and outlines the experimental context aimed at mapping a topological space Using rigorous scientific analysis based on statement consistency relevance of the proposals and model accessibility it charts the transition from topographical maps created by state agencies to open mapping produced by citizens Adopting semiotic theory to uncover the complex communicative mechanisms of maps and to investigate their ability to produce their own messages and new perspectives Reflexive Cartography outlines a shift in our way of conceptualizing maps from a plastic metaphor of reality as they are generally considered to solid tools that play the role of agents assisting citizens as they think and plan their own living place and make sense of the current world Applies a range of technologies to theoretical perspectives on mapping to innovatively map the world's geographic diversity Features a multi-disciplinary perspective that weaves together geography the geosciences and the social sciences through territorial representation Authored and edited by two of the world's foremost cartographic experts who combine more than 60 years of experience in research and in the classroom Presents more than 60 figures to underscore key concepts      Geographers Geoffrey Martin, 2015-12-14 Geographers is an annual collection of studies on individuals who have made major contributions to the development of geography and geographical thought Subjects are drawn from all periods and from all parts of the world and include famous names as well as those less well known including explorers independent thinkers and scholars Each paper describes the geographer's education life and work and discusses their influence and spread of academic ideas

Each study includes a select bibliography and a brief chronology The work includes a general index and a cumulative index of geographers listed in volumes published to date Published under the auspices of the International Geographical Union

Mapping Narrations - Narrating Maps Ingrid Baumgärtner, 2022-06-06 This volume offers the author's central articles on the medieval and early modern history of cartography for the first time in English translation A first group of essays gives an overview of medieval cartography and illustrates the methods of cartographers Another analyzes world maps and travel accounts in relation to mapped spaces A third examines land surveying cartographical practices of exploration and the production of Portolan atlases

Cartography between Christian Europe and the Arabic-Islamic World, 1100-1500, 2021-06-17 Medieval Christian European and Arabic Islamic cultures are both notable for the wealth and diversity of their geographical literature yet to date there has been relatively little attempt to compare medieval Christian and Islamic mapping traditions in a detailed manner Cartography between Christian Europe and the

Arabic Islamic World offers a timely assessment of the level of interaction between the two traditions across a range of map genres including world and regional maps maps of the seven climes and celestial cartography Through a mixture of synthesis and case study the volume makes the case for significant but limited cultural transfer Contributors are Elly Dekker Jean Charles Duc ne Alfred Hiatt Yossef Rapoport Stefan Schr der Emmanuelle Vagnon The New Cambridge Medieval History: Volume 7, C.1415-c.1500 Rosamond McKitterick,1995 This volume covers the last century interpreted broadly of the traditional western Middle Ages Often seen as a time of doubt decline and division the period is shown here as a period of considerable innovation and development much of which resulted from a conscious attempt by contemporaries to meet the growing demands of society and to find practical solutions to the social religious and political problems which beset it The volume consists of four sections Part I focuses on both the ideas and other considerations which guided men as they sought good government and on the practical development of representation Part II deals with aspects of social and economic development at a time of change and expansion Part III discusses the importance of the life of the spirit religion education and the arts Moving from the general to the particular Part IV concerns itself with the history of the countries of Europe emphasis being placed on the growth of the nation states of the early modern world Crucial Maps in the Early Cartography and Place-Nomenclature of the Atlantic Coast of Canada William F. Ganong,1964-12-15 The Transactions of the Royal Society of Canada for the years from 1929 to 1937 included a series in nine parts of important papers on Crucial Maps which have been a frequent source of reference ever since for students of the history of discovery and of early cartography Their author William Francis Ganong had a life long interest in the natural and human history of his native province New Brunswick Although he was primarily a botanist with four full length books and an amazing number of articles to his credit it was through his series of monographs in the Transactions of the Royal Society of Canada that the breadth of his interests became known For over fifty years he contributed almost annually to the Transactions the results of his systematic investigations into New Brunswick s physiography aborigines early explorations wars and settlements Crucial Maps which concluded in 1937 was the last series of articles Ganong was the first investigator to employ a critical classification of maps based upon groupings by period and type although the cartography of Canada s east coast had earlier been introduced by Baron Alexander von Humboldt Ganong s contributions to cartography are enormous for example his reconstruction of Cabot s voyages while all may not agree with it is a masterpiece of inductive analysis which will remain a model in historical research his chapters on Gomez Verrazzano and Fagundes are still the chief secondary sources on these discoverers There have been notable additions to the bibliography of discovery and maps since Ganong wrote recently published works as well as the complete file of Ganong s correspondence with his fellow cartographer G R F Prowse were consulted by Theodore E Layng Map Division Public Archives of Canada in preparing the commentaries which accompany this edition of Crucial Maps These commentaries with Mr Layng s introduction also provide an interesting sketch of Dr

Ganong and his work Another important feature of this edition is the index prepared by William Morley of the John Carter Brown Library In much of his work Ganong was a pioneer and while subsequent studies have reached different conclusions on some points many of his results have seldom been challenged Students of the present and future will still use and quote from Crucial Maps Royal Society of Canada Special Publications No 7      The Shaping of Africa Francesc

Relaño,2019-06-04 This title was first published in 2002 When did Africa emerge as a continent in the European mind This book aims to trace the origins of the idea of Africa and its evolution in Renaissance thought Particular attention is given to the relationship between the process of acquiring knowledge through travel and exploration and its representation within a discourse which also includes previously acquired cosmographical elements Among the themes investigated are How did the image of Africa evolve from the conception of a symbolic space to a Euclidean representation How did the Renaissance rediscovery of Antiquity interact with the Portuguese discoveries along the African coast And once Africa was circumnavigated how was the inner landmass depicted in the absence of first hand knowledge Also overall in this whole process what was the interplay of myth and reality      Regnum Chinae: The Printed Western Maps of China to 1735 Marco Caboara,2022-10-24 Listen to the New Books Network Podcast The first European map of China faintly relied on the copy of a Chinese original obtained through bribing and espionage the last covered in this book was the result of the largest land survey ever made until that time These two and another 125 maps depict sometimes uniquely sometimes copying each other a country whose images were so different that it was hard to understand which to trust This study reproduces and describes for the first time all the maps of China printed in Europe between 1584 and 1735 unravelling the origin of each individual map their different printing issues and publication dates It also tells for each the unique story that made possible these visions from another world stories marked by scholarly breakthroughs obsession missionary zeal commercial sagacity and greed For a presentation from the author related to the publication entitled China on Copper Plates The First 150 Years of Chinese Maps in Western Prints 1584 1735 see here A summary On June 23 2022 the fourth session of the academic lecture series on The Weavers of Four Dimensional Space Time and Their Creation on the History of Maps was held in the form of an online seminar at the Kuang Chi International Scholars Center Dr Marco Caboara an Italian scholar from the Lee Shau Kee Library of Hong Kong University of Science and Technology gave a lively presentation entitled China on Copperplate the First 150 Years of Western Printed Maps of China 1584 1735 The lecture was conducted in both Chinese and English Associate Professor Lin Hong from the School of Humanities of Shanghai Normal University served as the moderator and translator Dr Yang Xunling Deputy Director of the Library of Macau University of Science and Technology served as the main responder Professor Huang Yijun of Minzu University of China and Deputy Youth Associate of Fudan University Researcher Ding Yannan Dr Catarina Batista and Dr ngela Gil from the Library of Macau University of Science and Technology and Dr Zheng Man from the Free University of Berlin participated in the discussion Many domestic and foreign scholars and map

Imagining the Americas in Print

Michiel van Groesen, 2019-09-16 In Imagining the Americas in Print Michiel van Groesen reveals the variety of ways in which publishers and printers in early modern Europe gathered information about the Americas constructed a narrative and used it to further colonial ambitions in the Atlantic world 1500-1700 The essays examine the creative ways in which knowledge was manufactured in printing workshops Collectively they bring to life the vivid print culture that determined the relationship between the Old World and the New in the Age of Encounters and chart the genres that reflected and shaped the European imagination and helped to legitimate ideologies of colonialism in the next two centuries The Vienna-Klosterneuburg Map

A Draught of the South Land Paul Moon, 2024-01-01 The story of how the map of New Zealand emerged is a fascinating one The first full map of the islands was published in London in 1773 which might seem the natural starting point but over the preceding 150 years fragments of charts and intelligence about New Zealand ricocheted around various parts of the world In A Draught of the South Land Paul Moon provides the first comprehensive account of this piecemeal process Moon's investigation covers several continents over more than a century and reveals the personalities blunders strategic miscalculations scientific brilliance and imperial power plays that were involved Above all he examines the roles played by explorers and traders Mori and European rulers scientific societies and military groups as well as specialist cartographers and publishers At a time when maps as colonial tools enablers of trade and objects of curiosity are being studied anew his careful analysis and engaging narrative will be of interest to scholars everywhere

Re-exploring the

Links Jorge Manuel Flores, 2007 The island of Ceilao occupied a permanent and singular place in the political imagination of early modern Portugal Concurrently the Portuguese left a strong imprint in the Sri Lankan collective memory of the period Five centuries later a group of historians art historians anthropologists and linguists reflect on the multiple dimensions of this phenomenon by rethinking texts and maps ruined churches and ivory caskets oral tales and Creole communities

Authored by 15 international scholars Re-exploring the Links is divided in four parts Political Realities and Cultural

Imagination Religion Conflict and Interaction Space and Heritage Construction Representation Language and Ethnicity

Identity and Memory While published on the occasion of the Portuguese arrival in Sri Lanka five centuries ago this book is far from being a celebratory piece Re-exploring the Links does not conform to nationalist models of historical interpretation and refuses both the rhetoric of discovery and the rhetoric of aggression The aim of the volume is not to celebrate encounters but to reinvent an academic debate independent of any political agenda and concerning a history that is Portuguese and Sri Lankan alike
