Moral Problems What Does A Christian Do:

Moral Problems Michael Pennock, 1979 Presents a systematic method based in Catholic morality for resolving problems concerning such issues as drugs alcohol premarital sex abortion euthanasia poverty prejudice and the arms race Moral Issues and Christian Responses Patricia Beattie Jung, L. Shannon Jung, 2012-09-01 Previously published by Cengage Wadsworth this popular anthology for the study of Christian ethics has been a mainstay of undergraduate courses for nearly thirty years Shannon and Patricia Jung provide an introduction to contemporary moral issues from decidedly yet diverse Christian moral perspectives The anthology intentionally seeks a range of voices to produce a kind of point counterpoint discussion of the ethical issue Among the classic issues considered are sexuality and reproductive rights prejudice biomedical ethics the environment immigration terrorism war and globalization New issues include development ethics personal finance and consumerism workplace ethics health care and citizenship Christian Ethics and Contemporary Moral Problems Michael C. Banner, 1999-09-28 This book addresses such key ethical issues as euthanasia the environment biotechnology abortion the family sexual ethics and the distribution of health care resources Michael Banner argues that the task of Christian ethics is to understand the world and humankind in the light of the credal affirmations of the Christian faith and to explicate this understanding in its significance for human action through a critical engagement with the concerns claims and problems of other ethics He illustrates both the distinctiveness of Christian convictions in relation to the above issues and also the critical dialogue with practices based on other convictions which this sense of distinctiveness motivates but does not prevent The book's importance lies in its attempt to show the crucial difference which Christian belief makes to an understanding of these issues whilst at the same time demonstrating some of the weaknesses and confusions of certain popular approaches to them The Moral Disciple Kent A. Van Til, 2012-08-08 The ability to judge good from bad right from wrong is a uniquely human characteristic However given the complexity of life it is often difficult to discern which choice to make where our responsibilities lie or what the consequences of an action or of a nonaction will be In The Moral Disciple Kent Van Til surveys the skills and dispositions that we need to address moral issues responsibly This basic introduction to Christian ethics the systematic evaluation of morality highlights the centrality of Christ and the Christian faith in moral formation and it offers an ethical framework to guide Christians as they engage a host of moral dilemmas including those surrounding wealth sexuality and the end of life Using easy to read prose and defining terms carefully Van Til provides an accessible introduction to this crucial and practical subject Exploring Moral Problems Steven M. Cahn, Andrew Forcehimes, 2018 Exploring Moral Problems is an up to date inclusive collection of readings on contemporary moral problems covering both standard issues and often neglected topics Each reading has been expertly edited to make them accessible to students with no prior exposure to philosophy Christians, Politics and Violent Revolution J. G. Davies, 2017-04-20 This book is an impressive attempt by a distinguished British theologian to grapple with problems put to him by friends from the Third World and particularly the question If there seems no way to alter a situation except by joining in violent revolution is it possible to be involved and still remain a Christian In his discussion Professor Davies first considers how far obedience is a constant imperative and in what circumstances disobedience may be the right choice As resistance to the state is necessarily to act illegally he then reviews the subject of law and order To this point the considerations are largely theological However the climax of the book comes in a discussion of revolution in human terms together with the criticisms often raised against it There is also a survey of the means of revolution non violent and violent and the basis of Christian moral choice in such a situation

Escaping My Responsibility Hugo Strandberg,2009 What is morality This is the question this book is dealing with The aim of the study is to show the distorting character of many common pictures of what morality is pictures found inside and outside of philosophy The central idea of the book is that the distorting character of these pictures is that they make it possible for me to escape my moral responsibility Focusing on responsibility and our attempts to shut our eyes to it questions such as the following are discussed Is there a moral reality Is it possible to show someone else what is good and bad What is the relation between morality and religion Are there moral truths What can philosophically be said about the meaning of life

The Sources of Christian Ethics Servais Pinckaers,1995 First published in 1985 as Les sources de la morale chrétienne by University Press Fribourg this work has been recognized by scholars worldwide as one of the most important books in the field of moral theology

Facing Ethical Issues Patrick T. McCormick,Russell B. Connors,2002 Pat McCormick and Russ Connors build on the insights of fundamental Christian ethics and apply them in making concrete judgments about a number of very specific contemporary moral problems relating to the economy war and violence medicine sexuality and the environment Facing Ethical Issues is must reading for anyone wishing to make sense of our increasingly complex world

Galatians Scot McKnight,2009-05-26 The NIV Application Commentary helps you communicate and apply biblical text effectively in today s context In Galatians Paul reminds us of the total sufficiency of Jesus in securing our salvation and of the leadership of the Holy Spirit for living it out Calling us back to the simplicity of Christ Galatians is as critically important for us today as it was when Paul first penned it Exploring the links between the Bible and our own times Scot McKnight shares perspectives on the letter to the Galatians that reveal its enduring relevance for our twenty first century lives To bring the ancient messages of the Bible into today s context each passage is treated in three sections Original Meaning Concise exegesis to help readers understand the original meaning of the biblical text in its historical literary and cultural context Bridging Contexts A bridge between the world of the Bible and the world of today built by discerning what is timeless in the timely pages of the Bible Contemporary Significance This section identifies comparable situations to those faced in the Bible and explores relevant application of the biblical messages The author alerts the readers of problems they may encounter when seeking to apply the passage and helps them think through the issues involved This unique award winning commentary is the ideal resource for today's preachers, teachers and serious students of the Bible giving them the tools, ideas and insights they need to communicate God's Word with the same powerful impact it had when it was first written. On Becoming a Catholic: The Challenge of Christian Initiation Regis A. Duffy, 2010-05-01 This handbook to the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) written by a renowned religious educator and theologian invites converts, the clergy and all those engaged in the catechumenal process to appreciate anew the richness of the Catholic faith. Regis Duffy articulates the requirements for becoming and remaining a full Christian committed to gospel values on every level of life to the building of the Kingdom of God. On Becoming a Catholic is a complete introduction to the essentials of the catechumenal process and clearly relates what the church teaches to its members. Duffy's exposition stresses the theology of the Cross as the root of all Christian conversion and formation and its meaning for individual Christians and parish life. The Word of God as prophetic Word in parish, familial and personal lives; learning to recognize the Lord in unexpected places of our lives and world; and nurture, openness and responsiveness to the Word. How to live and act as one marked by the Cross and the Word of God participating in a conversion process that profoundly changes our priorities, values, lifestyle and most importantly our involvement in worship and sacraments. What it means to be a Christian community discovering the meaning of the Liturgical Year and the Church's role as teacher. The value of Lenten observance, the meaning of Good Friday and the centrality of the Easter event as basis for a practical theology of our redemptive need and God's enduring response. How honest Eucharistic participation embodies a renewed sense of personal commitment to Christ and sense of mission and ministry in the community.

Every person's truth made in the image of God: called to do the work of God. Freedom: exploring a dangerous topic. False steps on the path to happiness: losing our way and finding it back. Finding a story worth handing on: narrative and the moral life. Doing what the good requires: conscience and prudence in the moral life. The gift that makes all gifts possible: learning the language of love. Reimagining the world: why the happiness of one demands justice for all. An Introduction to Christian Ethics Robin W. Lovin, 2011. Introduces Christian ethics to a new generation of students. Transforming GOD's People Living Morality III,

Christian Ethics Introduced Hans O. Tiesel, 2024-03-11. Christian Ethics Introduced asks why humans count as ends in themselves. The biblical answer was that humans have standing inherent worth as creatures in the image of God. This traditional answer yielded to seventeenth and eighteenth century enlightenment secularism. To these secularists, human reason promised to be a surer and more peaceable foundation for a just culture than religion. Human rationality, the light of human reason, would enlighten and improve the human condition. Two world wars and more realistic trends in new social sciences created not just awareness of human irrationality but fostered skepticism of sound foundations for morality and justice It seemed that both traditional religion and enlightened reason fell short of what had been hoped And the cause of failure may not lie in traditional religion or in human irrationality Rather the problem might lie in human conduct Specifically it may lie in the human inclination to favor self over others of the me outranking the we Christian responses to the human failure to live a moral and just life recognize the persistence of immoral conduct acknowledge it in regard to oneself ask for forgiveness and make amends and peace with God and with those wronged

Christian Ethical Implications of the Presence of the Kingdom as God's Performative Action in the Light of Speech Act Theory Anna Cho ,2019 This book presents a novel Biblical ethical hermeneutic approach that emerges from an understanding of the presence of the kingdom of God in the Biblical text The approach is predicated upon the use of speech act theory abbreviated as SAT in relation to kingdom language in the Biblical text The approach shows how the notion of kingdom language as God's divine activity is elicited in the contemporary Christian's life by allowing it to operate beyond the world of the Biblical text In other words this approach establishes a Biblical ethical hermeneutic bridge between the text and its context and the context of contemporary readers of the text The alternative linguistic epistemology in SAT considers the principle of the kingdom of God in the past locution level the present illocutionary level and the future perlocutionary level The dynamic equivalences of the past present and future of the kingdom of God based on an SAT approach to the Biblical text can inform Christian ethical theory and moral action in the present world It can also provide a new moral sensibility in relation to God's sovereignty and the responsibility of Christians in contemporary society

Outline of Christian Ethics Kwing Hung,2014-10-14 Outline of Christian Ethics is a Q yet the extent of the book is broad and deep Dr Hung does not use purely rational and argumentative methods he employs the method of lighthearted conversation with the reader Every chapter is introduced with some stories to stir up the interest of the reader Furthermore statistical facts are added to strengthen the persuasive power of the points made The wealth of information contained in this book will help busy pastors and Christians find the necessary information quickly Rev Dr Peter Au principal Canadian Chinese School of Theology at Tyndale Seminary Toronto

Communities of Resistance and Solidarity Sharon D. Welch,2017-01-05 How many times have we asked what would be an appropriate North American equivalent to the base communities and the liberation theology of Latin America Now in Sharon Welch's fluent but solid book we have an answer Drawing on a wide variety of philosophical and theological sources and viewing the whole from a critical feminist perspective Welch suggests how subjugated forms of knowledge can be recuperated as human communities learn to support each other in resisting our socio cultural death wish A passionate and poetic book which strikes a new chord in theology both in style and in substance Harvey Cox author of Religion in the Secular City In this book Sharon Welch contributes to a vital conversation namely in what sense feminist liberation theologians for that matter all honest theologians must acknowledge both the relativist insights of their truth claims and the ethically normative value of their work This is a critical dialectic and Welch's theology helps sharpen it Carter Heyward Professor of Theology Episcopal Divinity School Sharon Welch offers here not simply a feminist theology of liberation but a new way of doing theology as such. She brings together the resources of Christian faith, the creativity and passions of personal experience and finely honed instruments of analysis found in Michel Foucault and Ernst Bloch. The results are exciting, dangerous, memory genealogies of resistance, poetics of revolution. It would be difficult to read this work and continue to think in the usual ways about men and women, faith, power, theology, in fact about anything. Edward Farley, Vanderbilt Divinity School.

Sharon Welch is the quintessential scholar-activist, one who has never let her devotion to the academy and signal accomplishments there preclude a profound commitment to changing the real world in which we live. William F. Schulz, former Executive Director of Amnesty International USA and President of the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee.

I think of Welch as the best kind of activist academic and consider her a role model. Her recent focus on alternatives to the binary ways of thinking about morality and war, peace initiatives, and her honest explorations of the amoral character of religion are truly exciting. That she refuses to romanticize religious traditions, even as she attends with utter seriousness to the possibilities for liberative and humane possibilities for global life, gives Welch a kind of realistic wisdom unusual for an academic. Dr. Mary McClintock Fulkerson, Associate Professor of Theology, Duke Divinity School.

Sharon Welch is a social ethicist who currently serves as Provost and Professor of Religion and Society at the Unitarian Universalist theological school in Chicago, Meadville Lombard. She has held positions as Professor and Chair of Religious Studies, Professor of Women's and Gender Studies, and Adjunct Professor of Educational Leadership and Policy Analysis at the University of Missouri from 1991-2007. She was assistant and then associate professor of Theology and Religion and Society at Harvard Divinity School from 1982 to 1991. Welch is currently a member of the Social Enterprise Alliance, the Unitarian Universalist Peace Ministry Network, and a Fellow of the Institute for Humanist Studies. In her work as Provost, Welch has led in the development of a contextual model of theological education that is grounded in deep immersion in both the social and natural worlds that surround us and sustain us. Welch is the author of five books and numerous articles in the field of social ethics. She is the recipient of numerous awards, many of which recognize her excellence in teaching. Among these are the Internationalizing the Curriculum Course Development Award 2002 and the College of Education High Flyer Teaching Award several years. She also received the Annual Gustavus Myers Award Honorable Mention for her 1999 book Sweet Dreams in Invitation to Christian Ethics.

Ken Magnuson, 2020-09-29

A comprehensive introduction to Christian ethics addressing today's most challenging moral issues. Invitation to Christian Ethics is an indispensable guide for helping pastors, counselors, and everyday Christians navigate today's difficult moral questions. Readers will benefit from Ken Magnuson's survey of ethics from a biblical perspective as well as contemporary theories of moral reasoning.
