Animal-Assisted Psychotherapy Nancy Parish-Plass, 2013-07-15 The integration of animals into the therapy setting by psychotherapists has been a growing trend Psychological problems treated include emotional and behavioral problems attachment issues trauma and developmental disorders An influential 1970s survey suggests that over 20 percent of therapists in the psychotherapy division of the American Psychological Association incorporated animals into their treatment in some fashion Anecdotal evidence suggests that the number is much higher today Since Yeshiva University psychologist Boris Levinson popularized the involvement of animals in psychotherapy in the 1960s Israel has come to be perhaps the most advanced country in the world in the area of animal assisted psychotherapy AAP This is true especially in the areas of academic training programs theory building and clinical practice Great effort has been put into understanding the mechanisms behind AAP as well as into developing ethical guidelines that take into account the therapist's responsibility toward both client and animal This book exposes the world to the theory and practice of AAP as conceived and used in Israel It emphasizes evidence based and clinically sound applications with psychotherapeutic goals as differentiated from other animal assisted interventions such as AAE animal assisted education and AAA animal assisted activities which may have education or skills oriented goals Not just anyone with a dog can call him or herself an animal assisted therapist This volume demonstrates not only the promise of animal assisted psychotherapeutic approaches but also some of the challenges the field still needs to overcome to gain widespread legitimacy

Animal Messengers Regula Meyer, 2015-05-29 An animal by animal guide that reveals the meaning behind each encounter we have with animals Provides sophisticated psychological insight into encounters with more than 150 animals birds reptiles insects and aquatic life Explores how animals reflect our inner world drawing our attention to inner turmoil relationship issues spiritual growth and the deepest needs of the soul Explains how the meaning of each encounter depends on whether the animal was hunting fleeing hiding or acting indifferent when sighted We each feel connections to animals in our own way Some of us have pets Others admire animals in the wild Because the outer world often reflects our internal states and animals are highly sensitive to our energies each encounter with an animal signals something about our inner world and innermost concerns The spontaneous surprising contacts are the telling ones a sparrow landing next to you a fox darting across the road or a bee alighting on your hand However even regular encounters with our pets can draw attention to our inner world and what needs to be thought over and grappled with from psychic turmoil and relationship issues to spiritual growth and the deepest needs of the soul Providing sophisticated psychological insight into encounters with more than 150 animals birds reptiles insects and aquatic life Regula Meyer explores the messages each animal provides for us on a personal level when we encounter them She explains how the meaning of each encounter depends on whether the animal was hunting fleeing hiding or acting indifferent when sighted For example a fleeing animal is prompting you to pursue a subject consciously while a hiding animal tells you to patiently observe something and draw insights from it The author shows how animal encounters in the wild cause us to contemplate the present moment and inspire the flow of our perceptions leading us to meditate on important concerns we may be ignoring or unaware of Pets and other animals we see every day act as intensifiers of the energy for which they stand With this animal by animal guide you can discover the deep meaning behind your encounters with animals and the messages they bring as oracles of our souls      Scientific American ,1912      The Moore-Noble Debate J.
