Patching Sandra Marie Schneiders, 2004 Asserts that the current half hearted attempts to patch up the excruciating tensions due to the sometimes morally unacceptable way women are treated in the Catholic Church must be replaced with a whole hearted renewal or the Church stands in danger of losing touch with many of its women Reissue

The Rights of Nature Roderick Frazier Nash, 1989-01-17 Charting the history of contemporary philosophical and religious beliefs regarding nature Roderick Nash focuses primarily on changing attitudes toward nature in the United States His work is the first comprehensive history of the concept that nature has rights and that American liberalism has in effect been extended to the nonhuman world A splendid book Roderick Nash has written another classic This exploration of a new dimension in environmental ethics is both illuminating and overdue Stewart Udall His account makes history come alive Sierra So smoothly written that one almost does not notice the breadth of scholarship that went into this original and important work of environmental history Philip Shabecoff New York Times Book Review Clarifying and challenging this is an essential text for deep ecologists and ecophilosophers Stephanie Mills Utne Reader

Mother / Nature Catherine M. Roach, 2003-01-30 This brief but ambitious book explores our relationship with nature through the imagery we use when we talk about Mother Nature Employing the critical tools of religious studies psychology and gender studies Catherine M Roach examines the various manifestations of nature as mother and what that idea implies for the way we approach the natural world Part One Nature as Good Mother discusses the notion that nature is or is like a beneficent and nurturing mother who provides and maintains life In studying the green slogan Love Your Mother Roach questions the effects for women and for the environment of imputing female gender to nature She asks us to look at the associations that motherhood and mothering carry within a culture still shaped by patriarchy She notes the danger of such an apparently pro environmental slogan if mother evokes the bountiful self sacrificing provider who herself requires no care Part Two Nature as Bad Mother looks at the contrary notion of nature as a violent threatening and wrathful mother This image arises most often when humans and technology are depicted as masters of unruly nature Here Roach draws on theological reflection to analyze this ambivalence toward nature manifested in a fantasy that casts humans as gods She explores the contributions of eco theology and eco psychology to a heart of darkness perspective Finally Part Three Nature as Hurt Mother looks at possibilities and pitfalls of environmental healing inherent in the image of nature as a mother we have wounded and now seek to heal

Separatism and Women's Community Dana R. Shugar, 1995-01-01 This is the kind of book I've been looking for Bonnie Zimmerman author of The Safe Sea of Women Lesbian Fiction 1969 1989 The energy spent on all sides of debates about women's separatism demonstrates the vitality of separatism as an important issue Excited by the prospect that changes in their personal lives could reverberate through the nation many women have organized rural communes and urban business collectives putting ideas into practice Separatism and Women's Community reviews debates in separatist theory historical narratives by members of separatist collectives and utopian novels that envision how collectives might be formed Shugar compares the ideas and proposals of theorists including Robin Morgan Shulamith Firestone Joyce Cheney Joan Nestle Ti Grace Atkinson and the Radicalesbians with the experience of women from collectives as diverse as Cell 16 the Combahee River Collective the Gutter Dyke Collective the Seattle Collective the Bloodroot Collective and the Lavender Woman Collective of Chicago Despite the attempts to connect action and thought many women were ill prepared for the problems they found in collective life Women who theorized that oppression based on difference was a man made phenomenon were confronted by other women who challenged their racism classism or homophobia The community had to respond to these confrontations in ways that would strengthen rather than destroy their tentative connections with other women Dana R Shugar is an assistant professor of English and women s studies at the University of Rhode Island

(Post)Critical Methodologies: The Science Possible After the Critiques

Patti Lather,2017-02-03 In the World Library of Educationalists series international experts themselves compile career long collections of what they judge to be their finest pieces extracts from books key articles salient research findings major theoretical and practical contributions so the world can read them in a single manageable volume Readers will be able to follow the themes and strands and see how their work contributes to the development of the field Post Critical Methodologies forms a chronology through the texts and concepts that span Patti Lather's career. Examining post critical feminist and poststructural theories, Lather's work is organized into thematic sections that span her 35 years of study in this field. These sections include original contributions formed from Lather's feminism and critical theory background. They contain her most cited works on feminist research and pedagogy and form a collection of both early and recent writings on the post and post post with a focus on critical policy studies and the future of post qualitative work. With a focus on the implications for qualitative inquiry given the call for scientifically based research in education, this compelling overview moves through Lather's progressive thoughts on bridging the gap between quantitative and qualitative research in education and provides a unique commentary on some of the most important issues in higher education over the last 30 years. This compilation of Lather's contribution to educational thinking will prove compelling reading to all those engaged in student learning in higher education worldwide.

Ethics and Environmental Policy Frederick Ferré, Peter Hartel, 1994. In this collection of essays, leading environmentalists and philosophers explore the relationship between environmental ethics and policy both in theory and practice. The first section of the book focuses on four approaches to change in ethical theory: ecological science, feminist metaphysics, Chinese philosophy, and holistic postmodern technology. In subsequent sections, the contributors emphasize the need for nontraditional solutions and attempt to expand awareness of the most pressing practical problems. Among the topics discussed are the possibilities of real international cooperation, the inequitable but economically intractable issue of global gasses, the political and ethical challenges of city planning, and the growing evidence of fundamental inappropriateness in treating land as legal private property. This volume is based on essays presented in 1992 at the Second International Conference on Ethics and Environmental Policy. The conference was held in response to the increasing need for a new ethics that would counter the traditional human centered, dominantly individualistic approach of the industrial world toward the environment.

Psychoanalytic and Socio-Cultural Perspectives on Women in India Paula Ellman, Jhuma Basak, Gertraud Schlessinger-Kipp, 2021-07-08. This important book provides a bridge between psychoanalytic perspectives and socio cultural issues to shine a spotlight on the experiences of women in India today. Women's well being and security has often depended upon their gender positioning while other binaries like rural/urban, class and caste have also played a crucial role globally and especially in India. Historically, women have been subjected to various forms of oppression that include sex selective abortions, domestic violence, bride burning for dowry, and acid attacks. Threats to women's security have recently increased with progressive polarization and hardening of socio political and cultural ideologies. This book assesses how women's lives are impacted by these social and cultural conventions and stigma, including ideas around motherhood, religion, intimacy, and femininity itself, and the psychological implications these have. Topics include the seduction of religion, motherhood in contemporary times, intimacy and violence, and fundamentalist states of mind in the clinical space. While the book echoes a regional specificity, it simultaneously resonates a backdrop of global change of affairs that has its impact on ideological freedom and the concept of inclusivity in terms of gender race culture and politics across the world For this comprehensive perspective the effort is to create a platform of authors comprising psychoanalysts social scientists scholars from the liberal arts discipline as well as social activists In a country where women have been historically subjected to both psychological and physical oppression this timely and original book will interest a range of scholars interested in gender mental health and contemporary Indian society as well as clinicians in the field Green Frontiers ,2008-01-01

Environmental education has reached an interesting crossroads There has never before been such media attention on hard to grasp issues such as climate change nor has there ever been such scientific understanding and agreement about the varied aspects of the environmental crisis the loss of biodiversity and the health effects of human made toxins and pollutants In addition there has never been so much high quality research within environmental education with new journals flourishing in Canada Australia and South Africa to give just a few examples Yet despite all this knowledge and attention there has not been a significant shift in the way the economy operates the way governments govern or the way people live Consumption of resources continues to increase and these patterns continue to be closely correlated with levels of waste pollution environmental ill health and social injustice This book showcases the work and thinking of environmental educators who are concerned about the residual mechanism within their field the guiding symbol of the web of life in all its dynamism notwithstanding The notion of web recognizes interaction between all elements in a system but falls short of recognizing the flow of the whole through the system and its parts The notion of dance is used here to convey this fundamental yet oft overlooked dimension to wholeness Critical Thinking and the Bible in the Age of New Media Charles Ess,2004

Contemporary scholarship to address the question What does critical thinking about the Bible mean as the Bible itself is transmediated from print to electronic formats Routledge Library Editions: Feminist Theory Various,2021-08-07

Routledge Library Editions Feminist Theory brings together as one set or individual volumes a series of previously out of print classics from a variety of academic imprints With titles ranging from The Liberation of Women to Feminists and State Welfare from Married to the Job to Julia Kristeva this set provides in one place a wealth of important reference sources from the diverse field of gender studies The Horned God John Rowan,2012-10-11 This book investigates how men relate to feminism the women s movement and to the women in their lives WomanProphet Elizabeth Love,2019-04-30 Most women are raised in a context of feminine values whether they are aware of those values or not Some of the values specific to this feminine culture are interdependence caring and relationality In our time many women cross over into a masculine value culture when they take on what were traditional male roles in male evolved institutions Eventually women become aware that their own values conflict with some assumed male values They then have to compromise and adjust in order to be productive in those environments The women I have focused on in this study have because of a significant external event or events and an emerging inner vision left both structures They then however lack others around them whose values structures can reinforce adherence When these women are by themselves they experience something like a dark night of the soul Once they get beyond the pain and a sense of meaninglessness they begin to realize that they can move the constructs of reality that they can write history as well as read it An essential concern is to determine what their values are After this process their own personal vision becomes clear But the cycle isn't complete until they bring that new vision back to their people And bringing it back in a holistic sense helps to raise the moral sights of others who are influenced by that experience
