Criticism: Volume 9, Cultural Perceptions and Literary Values E. S. Shaffer, 1987-10-29 The ninth volume of this annual journal continues the consideration of the relations of European with non European literatures begun in volume 8 It brings the series of special bibliographies on the history of comparative literary studies in the UK up to 1965 and contains the annual bibliography of comparative literature covering 1984 The Cambridge History of the English Language Norman Blake, Richard M. Hogg, 1992-08-13 Volume II of The Cambridge History of the English Language covers the Middle English Period describing and analyzing developments in the language from the Norman Conquest to the introduction of printing

, 2021-10-25 The Anecdote in Mark, the Classical World and the Rabbis Marion Moeser, 2002-12-15 This major study of a Markan genre represented in the central section 8 27 10 4 ranges through Greek rabbinic and early Christian literature providing detailed comparison with the anecdotes in Lucian's Demonax and the Mishnah Moeser concludes that the Markan anecdotes clearly follow the definition of and typologies for the Greek chreia His analysis indicates that while the content of the three sets of anecdotes is peculiar to its respective cultural setting the Greek Jewish and Christian examples all function according to the purposes of the genre Bulletin of the Shaw Society of America , 1970 General Linguistics , 1970
Cliffs of Fall John Dominic Crossan, 2008-03-01 When John Dominic Crossan's book In Parables The Challenge of the Historical Jesus was published in 1973 it was heralded as a major development in research both on the parables and on the historical Jesus This was due not only to its sophisticated use of historical literary and philosophical disciplines but also to the sensitive way in which they were combined and to the novel insights that resulted when this combination was focused on individual parables The present book continues most directly and explicitly the study initiated by In Parables and may be regarded as bringing that earlier volume up to date on three major issues Conceptually the emphasis on metaphor from In Parables has led to the discussion of polyvalence or semantic pluralism in Jesus's parables Pluralistic meaning is an intensely paradoxical concept and it raises issues that touch the very roots of our consciousness and our reality Metaphor is now no longer a clearing within the forest of language but is rather the very ground of that language itself Any given metaphor illumines and reveals the radical metaphoricity of all reality Philosophically the question is raised whether the polyvalence inherent in metaphor along with the critically iterated claims for its untranslatability may be better explained as a surplus of meaning or as an absence of the meaning a refusal of canonical meaning which is then the necessary but negative basis for the plurality of meanings and the abiding fecundity of interpretations Exegetically as specific example and deliberate narrational metaphor of the entire book Jesus's serenely pastoral parable of the Sower with its specified triad of gains its plurality or polyvalence both of failure and success is centrally discussed as textual focus for the volume The Shaw Review ,1979 Guide to Reference Material: Generalities, languages, the arts and literature Albert John Walford,1973

Three Periods of Middle English Romance Marlene Beth Clarke,1983 Books in Print Supplement ,1988
