Britton,2019-09-19 Adam Smith's Theory of Moral Sentiments 1759 defines sympathy as a series of shifts in perspective by which one sees from a different point of view British and French novels published over the following century redefine sympathy through narrative form shifting perspectives or stories within stories in which one character adopts the voice and perspective of another Fiction follows Smith's emphasis on sympathy's shifting perspectives but this formal echo coincides with a challenge For Smith and other Enlightenment philosophers the experience of sympathy relies on human resemblance In novels by contrast characters who are separated by nationality race or species experience a version of sympathy that struggles to accommodate such differences Encounters between these characters produce shifts in perspective or framed tales as one character sympathizes with another and begins to tell her story echoing Smith's definition of sympathy in their form while challenging Enlightenment philosophy's insistence on human resemblance Works of sentimental and gothic fiction published between 1750 and 1850 generate a novelistic version of sympathy by manipulating traditional narrative forms epistolary fiction embedded tales and new publication practices the anthology the novelistic extract Second hand stories transform the vocal mobility emotional immediacy and multiple perspectives associated with the declining genre of epistolary fiction into the narrative levels and shifting speakers of nineteenth century frame tales Vicarious Narratives argues that fiction redefines sympathy as the struggle to overcome difference through the active engagement with narrative by listening to re telling and transcribing the stories of others

The Unfinished Enlightenment Joanna Stalnaker, 2011-05-02 In The Unfinished Enlightenment Joanna Stalnaker offers a fresh look at the French Enlightenment by focusing on the era's vast collective attempt to compile an ongoing and provisional description of the world Through a series of readings of natural histories encyclopedias scientific poetry and urban topographies the book uncovers the deep epistemological and literary tensions that made description a central preoccupation for authors such as Buffon Bernardin de Saint Pierre Diderot Delille and Mercier Stalnaker argues that Enlightenment description was the site of competing truth claims that would eventually resolve themselves in the modern polarity between literature and science By the mid nineteenth century the now habitual association between description and the novel was already firmly anchored in French culture but just a century earlier in the diverse network of articles on description in Diderot and d'Alembert's Encyclopédie and in the works derived from it there was not a single mention of the novel Instead we find articles on description in natural history geometry belles lettres and poetry Stalnaker builds on the premise that the tendency to view description as the inevitable and subservient partner of narration rather than as a universal tool for making sense of knowledge in all fields has obscured the central place of description in Enlightenment discourse As a result we have neglected some of the most original and experimental works of the eighteenth century

French Global Christie McDonald, Susan Rubin Suleiman, 2010 Recasting French literary history in terms of the cultures and peoples that interacted within and outside of France's national boundaries this volume offers a new way of looking at the history of a national literature along with a truly global and contemporary understanding of language literature and culture The relationship between France's national territory and other regions of the world where French is spoken and written most of them former colonies has long been central to discussions of Francophonie Boldly expanding such discussions to the whole range of French literature the essays in this volume explore spaces mobilities and multiplicities from the Middle Ages to today They rethink literary history not in terms of national boundaries as traditional literary histories have done but in terms of a global paradigm that emphasizes border crossings and encounters with others Contributors offer new ways of reading canonical texts and considering other texts that are not part of the traditional canon By emphasizing diverse conceptions of language text space and nation these essays establish a model approach that remains sensitive to the specificities of time and place and to the theoretical concerns informing the study of national literatures in the twenty first century

, Gabriel-Robert Thibault (sous la dir.), 2016-07-26 Longtemps l'œuvre de Bernardin de Saint-Pierre a été considérée d'un point de vue strictement esthétique et limitée presque exclusivement Paul et Virginie le grand succès du Havrais Ce volume fait le pari d'explorer tous ses écrits dans leur complexité culturelle qui doit autant à l'éducation littéraire de Bernardin qu'à l'humanisme pragmatique des ingénieurs des Ponts et Chaussées qui l'ont formé et dont il hérite De la réflexion sur l'environnement ou le paysage certains positionnements théoriques liés au concept de biosphère en passant par le rôle matriciel de la littérature dans l'expression de l'expérience humaine rien de ce qui retient la culture de l'extrême fin du XVIII^e siècle et du début du XIX^e siècle n'est étranger cette œuvre si diverse partit d'approches plurielles histoire de la littérature histoire des sciences anthropologie culturelle sociologie du cinéma etc on propose ici une traversée des idées économiques politiques et sociales de Bernardin de Saint-Pierre replacées dans les réseaux dans lesquels son œuvre s'est tissée et des retombées littéraires et artistiques inépuisables de ses textes Les femmes et l'esthétique de la féminité dans l'œuvre d'Alfred de Musset Gilles Castagnès, 2004

Quoi de plus attendu a priori qu'une étude de la femme dans l'œuvre d'Alfred de Musset cet homme femmes qui fut aussi un grand poète de la féminité Et pourtant aucune analyse exhaustive de cette thématique chez l'auteur des Nuits n'avait jusqu'à présent été entreprise Se plaçant délibérément en marge des investigations biographiques qui depuis un siècle et demi ont cherché à lucider les rapports ambigus et souvent tumultueux unissant l'écrivain à sa création et aux nombreuses femmes qui ont traversé sa vie cette étude se propose de mettre jour l'importance structurelle et thématique de la Femme dans l'ensemble de l'œuvre Par une approche stylistique et poéticienne elle analyse la complexité et la diversité de l'univers féminin qu'a su créer Alfred de Musset sans distinction des genres auxquels appartiennent les différents textes et révèle les préoccupations esthétiques de l' auteur En considérant la Femme non seulement comme le centre thématique de l'œuvre mais aussi comme le principe même de la création littéraire chez Musset cet ouvrage fait apparaître une unité profonde dans ce qu'il convient d'appeler une critique de la fin de siècle
