Worldmaking as Techné

Mark-David Hosale,Sana Murrani,Alberto de Campo,2019-10-03 Worldmaking as Techn Participatory Art Music and Architecture outline a practice that challenges the World and how it could be through a kind of future making and or other world making by creating alternate realities as artworks that are simultaneously ontological propositions In simplified terms the concept of techn is concerned with the art and craft of making In particular a kind of practice that embodies the enactment of a theoretical approach that helps determine the significance of the work how it was made and why By positioning worldmaking as a kind of techn we seek to create a discourse of art making as an enframing of the world that results in the expression of ontological propositions through the creation of art worlds The volume focuses on the involvement of the techn of worldmaking in participatory art practice Such practice can be found in all areas of art however under scrutiny for this particular book are interactive generative and prosthetic art architecture and music practices that depend for their vitality and development on the participation of their observers The book is organized into three sections poetic machinic and cybernetic which explore the aesthetics systems methods and ontological underpinnings of a worldmaking based practice Each section contains historical texts alongside new texts The texts were carefully chosen to highlight the integration of theory and practice in their approach While the foundation of this worldmaking is deeply philosophical and rigorous in its approach there is a need to connect this work to the World of our everyday experience As we contemplate issues of why we might want to make a world we are confronted with the responsibilities of making the world as well
