The Resilient Mindset is not just another self help book it s a life changing road The Destruction of Cities in the Ancient Greek World Sylvian Fachard,Edward M. Harris,2021-09-30 From the Trojan War to the sack of Rome from the fall of Constantinople to the bombings of World War II and the recent devastation of Syrian towns the destruction of cities and the slaughter of civilian populations are among the most dramatic events in world history But how reliable are literary sources for these events Did ancient authors exaggerate the scale of destruction to create sensational narratives This volume reassesses the impact of physical destruction on ancient Greek cities and its demographic and economic implications Addressing methodological issues of interpreting the archaeological evidence for destructions the volume examines the evidence for the destruction survival and recovery of Greek cities The studies written by an international group of specialists in archaeology ancient history and numismatic range from Sicily to Asia Minor and Aegean Thrace and include Athens Corinth and Eretria They highlight the resilience of ancient populations and the recovery of cities in the long term The War Ledger A. F. K. Organski,Jacek Kugler,1980 The War Ledger provides fresh sophisticated answers to fundamental questions about major modern wars Why do major wars begin What accounts for victory or defeat in war How do victory and defeat influence the recovery of the combatants Are the rules governing conflict behavior between nations the same since the advent of the nuclear era The authors find such well known theories as the balance of power and collective security systems inadequate to explain how conflict erupts in the international system Their rigorous empirical analysis proves that the power transition theory hinging on economic social and political growth is more accurate it is the differential rate of growth of the two most powerful nations in the system the dominant nation and the challenger that destabilizes all members and precipitates world wars Predictions of who will win or lose a war the authors find depend not only on the power potential of a nation but on the capability of its political systems to mobilize its resources the political capacity indicator After examining the aftermath of major conflicts the authors identify national growth as the determining factor in a nation's recovery With victory national capabilities may increase or decrease with defeat losses can be enormous Unexpectedly however in less than two decades losers make up for their losses and all combatants find themselves where they would have been had no war occurred Finally the authors address the question of nuclear arsenals They find that these arsenals do not make the difference that is usually assumed Nuclear weapons have not changed the structure of power on which international politics rests Nor does the behavior of participants in nuclear confrontation meet the expectations set out in deterrence theory

War and State Making Karen A. Rasler, William R. Thompson, 2021-03-30 Originally published in 1989 this is an empirical study of the impact of global war on the expansion and shaping of nation states Individual chapters examine the effects of such wars and the preparation for them on debt financing expansion military spending welfare spending GNP and domestic violence The authors conclude that by virtue of the changes they spurn global wars are inherently accelerators of social change

Power, Space, and Time J. Patrick Ramey Jr., Tadeusz Kugler, 2020-01-24 Undergraduate students in most preliminary courses in international politics are introduced to realist liberal and constructivist approaches supplementing this theoretical introduction with conceptual discussions of the state international system and or decision making and policy formation By the end of their college experience undergraduate IR majors will engage coursework more narrowly focused on an empirical outcome such as war economic integration development or migration These advanced courses are directly linked to modern research agendas and graduate level course material usually with few references to the theoretical paradigms taught in introductory classes This volume seeks to bridge the gap between what is taught in early undergraduate education and what is created by scholars uniting abstract theoretical principles with practical contemporary policy and testable empirical questions
