Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1965 Includes Part 1 Number 2 Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals July December The Unharnessed World Cindy Gabrielle, 2015-06-18 Though New Zealand author Janet Frame 1924 2004 lived at a time of growing dissatisfaction with European cultural models and though her auto biography fiction and letters all testify to the fact that a direct encounter between herself and Buddhism occurred her work has so far never been examined from the vantage point of its indebtedness to Buddhism It is of the utmost significance however that a Buddhist navigation of Frame's texts should shed fresh light on large segments of the Framean corpus which have tended to remain obdurately mysterious This includes passages centering on such themes as the existence of a non dual world or a character's sudden embrace of a non ego like self Of equal significance is the conclusion one then draws that this unharnessed world which human beings are often unable to embrace has always been right under their nose for whenever the aspect of the intellect that filters perceptions into mutually excluding categories fails to function he or she finds a place of subjective arrival in and sees this supposedly unknowable beyond Thus possibly against the grain of mainstream criticism this study argues that Janet Frame constantly seeks ways through which the infinite and the Other can be approached though not corrupted by the perceiving self and that she found in the Buddhist epistemology a pathway towards evoking such alterity Janet Frame Matthew Paul Pierre, 2011-05-12 In Janet Frame Semiotics and Biosemiotics in Her Early Fiction Paul Matthew St Pierre exploits the linguistic discipline of semiotics and the neurobiological discipline of biosemiotics to propose an original and dynamic reading of the first four works of fiction by New Zealand writer Janet Frame 1924 2004 The Lagoon Stories 1951 Owls Do Cry 1957 Faces in the Water 1961 and The Edge of the Alphabet 1962 Opposing the prevailing reading of Frame's early fiction as autobiographical deriving from her medical history he argues her books are singular evocations of her astonishing imagination His purpose is to fix this historical record and provide an alternative model for interpreting one of the 20th century s most stylistically demanding and rewarding writers Semiotics and biosemiotics are his means for unlocking the early fiction and her later works to a polemical analysis focusing on language sign transmissions writing the body and the biosemiotic self In The Lagoon Owls Do Cry Faces in the Water and The Edge of the Alphabet Frame produced what St Pierre interprets as an original semiotic and biosemiotic modeling system that she applied throughout her oeuvre of twenty books comprising eight story collections seven novels a book of poetry a children's novel and three volumes of autobiography Using this modeling system she designed her fiction as a visual verbal field consisting of still and moving images generated in the imagination located in the brains and central nervous systems of her narrators characters and readers and primarily of the author herself The author discusses the significations of 1 Frame s image signs in water glass photographs film membranes skin and clothing 2 her primary sign repertoire of objects language and human persons in the figures of blood skin and sun 3 her body signs including those generated in the circulatory and neurological systems of all human organisms as biosemiotic In the Memorial Room Janet Frame, 2014-12-16 Harry Gill a moderately successful writer of historical fiction has been awarded the annual Watercress Armstrong Fellowship a living memorial to the poet Margaret Rose Hurndell He arrives in the small French village of Menton where Hurndell once lived and worked to write But the Memorial Room is not suitable it has no electricity or water Hurndell never wrote here though it is expected of Harry Janet Frame's previously unpublished novel draws on her own experiences in Menton France as a Katherine Mansfield Fellow It is a wonderful social satire a send up of the cult of the dead author and in the best tradition of Frame a fascinating exploration of the complexity and the beauty Towards Another Summer Janet Frame, 2010-10-08 Self styled writer Grace Cleave has writers block and of language her anxiety is only augmented by her chronic aversion to leaving her home to be among people even for five or ten minutes And so it is with trepidation that she accepts an invitation to Prizes Janet Frame, 2010-12-01 The most comprehensive selection of Janet Frame's stories ever published this exceptional collection has been chosen from the four different volumes released during her lifetime Featuring the best of her stories the book includes pieces that were written over four decades including stories from her debut collection The Lagoon and Other Stories First published in 1951 those stories were written while Frame was confined in a mental hospital When the collection won the Hubert Church Award a threatened brain operation akin to a lobotomy was averted The stories in this new book also include selections from You Are Now Entering the Human Heart published in the 1980s after a hiatus from writing The last stories she published before her death her writings from this time reveal Frame's unflinching ability to explore the drama of madness isolation and identity This new book also includes five short stories that have not been collected before completing a volume that testifies to the brilliance of Janet Frame s life and literary talent Between My Father and the King Janet Frame, 2014-05-13 This brand new collection of 28 short stories spans the length of Frame's career and contains some of the best she wrote None of these stories have been published in a collection before and more than half are published for the first time in Between My Father and the King The piece Gorse is Not People caused Frame a setback in 1954 when Charles Brasch rejected it for publication in Landfall and along with others for one reason or other deliberately remained unpublished during her lifetime Previously published pieces have appeared in Harper's Bazaar the NZ Listener the New Zealand School Journal Landfall and The New Yorker over the years and one otherwise unpublished piece The Gravy Boat was read aloud by Frame for a radio broadcast in 1953 In these stories readers will recognize familiar themes scenes characters and locations from Frame's writing and life and each offers a fresh fictional transformation that will captivate and absorb Wrestling with the Angel Michael King, 2002-03-07 Janet Frame born in 1924 is New Zealand's most celebrated and least public author Her early life in small South Island towns seemed at times engulfed in a tide of doom one brother still born another epileptic two sisters dead of heart failure while swimming Frame herself committed to mental hospitals for the best part of a decade Later her surviving sister was temporarily felled in adulthood by a stroke an uncle cut his throat and a cousin shot his lover his lover s parents and then himself This then is an inspiring biography of a woman who climbed out of an abyss of unhappiness to take control of her life and become one of the great writers of her time And to enable her biographer to write this book scrupulously and honestly Janet Frame spoke for the first time about her whole life She also made available her personal papers and directed her family and friends to be equally communicative The result is a biography of astonishing intimacy and frankness written by multi award winning author Dr Michael King Dangerous Writing Carmen Luz Fuentes-Vásquez, 2013 This book examines the literary construction of personal identity through autobiographical narratives by three significant writers analysed together for the first time the Scottish Willa Muir 1890 1970 the Canadian Margaret Laurence 1926 1987 and the New Zealander Janet Frame 1924 2004 These apparently dissimilar authors suffered not only geographical but also political marginality they were women from the working class or struggling middle class striving to be considered as professional writers and emerging from countries that might be felt to be under the shadows of economic and political world powers such as England and the United States During their lifetimes they exerted themselves to overcome prejudices about class gender and ethnicity They experienced war and the post war era and lived through most of the twentieth century being accurate witnesses and critics of their times As it discusses major writers who are iconic for the development of the literatures of their respective countries this book also attracts readers who are interested in learning more about the lives of these remarkable women the way their socio historical and geographical circumstances affected their writing and how they expressed such concerns in their autobiographies and other fictional and non fictional works besides considering them in relation to contemporary women writers and autobiographers who underwent similar experiences Manifold Utopia Marc Delrez, 2021-10-01 This study of Janet Frame's fiction addresses with unusual directness the Utopian momentum that underpins her concern with fundamental social issues traditionally highlighted in existing criticism of her work The idea behind this book is that Frame s critique of society while it is offered for its own sake on one level should not lead us to neglect the author's more speculative interest in an alternative conception of the human person Her engagement in a species of experimental portraiture proves elusive though owing to an indirectness of approach that usually takes the form of thematic circumscription rather than explicit representation For example the figure of the mute child recurrent in her work may well testify to a concern with the plight of the mentally ill but on another level it also points to an envelope of intractable experience which it is the artist s task to penetrate and explain Such aspiration is inseparable from the search for a new medium of expression felt to be necessary if one is to meet the challenge of apprehending the scope of pioneering knowledge This close reading of the novels reveals that the alternative dimension of experience to be found in Frame's novels is characterized by an intact capacity for remembering or for imaginatively re creating eclipsed aspects of the present Frame's view of Utopia thus turns out to be manifold it is existential and ontological linguistic and epistemological but also historical and political An unravelling of these intertwined strains then serves to clarify the complex question of Frame s post colonial sensibility which cannot be said to rely on a sense of rigid identity whether national or otherwise Commonwealth Literature NA NA,2016-01-03 Frame in Focus Josephine A. McQuail, 2018-01-26 New Zealand author Janet Frame 1924 2004 during her lifetime published 11 novels three collections of short stories a volume of poetry and a children's book The details of her life her tragic early years her confinement in a psychiatric hospital and her miraculous reprieve overshadow her work and she remains largely neglected by scholars These essays focus on Frame's autobiography short stories and novels Contributors from around the world explore a range of topics including her mother's Christadelphian faith her relationships with two 20th century icons William Theophilus Brown and John Money and a view of Frame in the context of trauma studies Two of the essays were presented at the 2014 Northeast Modern Language Association convention Chasing Butterflies Vanessa Guignery, 2011 In 1951 Janet Frame published her first book The Lagoon and Other Stories a collection which would win the most prestigious national literary award in New Zealand and launch her fascinating career The essays collected in this volume examine the motifs at work in Frame's short stories and unravel a unique literary world which revisits the realist tradition and grants prose a poetic dimension As much a reflexion about language voice modes of writing and narrative strategies as an analysis of Frame's recurrent concerns with identity childhood relationships between mothers and daughters secrecy marginality community or death Chasing Butterflies is a great tribute to one of the most famous New Zealand writers Twentieth Century Fiction George Woodcock, 1983-04-01 Janet Frame Margaret Dalziel, 1980 Janet Frame's first book a collection of short stories called The Lagoon was published in 1951 and won the Hubert Church Memorial Aaward for literature In 1979 appeared her tenth novel Living in the Maniototo The novels short stories and verse published between these years record the intense idiosyncratic and visionary perceptions of the most brilliant writer New Zealand has produced Reflecting the harshness and horror of experience yet illustrated by wit humour and a masterful style they have attracted world wide attention Back cover Tales and Sketches of Lancashire Life.
