Return To Identity:

Return Migration and Identity Nan M. Sussman, 2010-11-01 The global trend for immigrants to return home has unique relevance for Hong Kong This work of cross cultural psychology explores many personal stories of return migration The author captures in dozens of interviews the anxieties anticipations hardships and flexible world perspectives of migrants and their families as well as friends and co workers The book examines cultural identity shifts and population flows during a critical juncture in Hong Kong history between the Sino British Joint Declaration in 1984 and the early years of Hong Kong s new status as a special administrative region after 1997 Nearly a million residents of Hong Kong migrated to North America Europe and Australia in the 1990s These interviews and analyses help illustrate individual choices and identity profiles during this period of unusual cultural flexibility and behavioral adjustment Nan M Sussman is an associate professor and chair of psychology at the College of Staten Island City University of New York Sussman effectively weaves together themes about migration and remigration from such diverse sources as arts and literature history sociology and her own discipline of psychology This book will make an excellent contribution to research on acculturation cross cultural transition and adaptation identity and migration Colleen Ward Victoria University of Wellington Identity, Diaspora and Return in American Literature Maria Antònia Oliver-Rotger, 2014-09-19 This volume combines literary analysis and theoretical approaches to mobility diasporic identities and the construction of space to explore the different ways in which the notion of return shapes contemporary ethnic writing such as fiction ethnography memoir and film Through a wide variety of ethnic experiences ranging from the Transatlantic Asian American Latino and Caribbean alongside their corresponding forms of displacement political exile war trauma and economic migration the essays in this collection connect the intimate experience of the returning subject to multiple locations historical experiences inter subjective relations and cultural interactions They challenge the idea of the narrative of return as a journey back to the untouched roots and home that the ethnic subject left behind Their diacritical approach combines on the one hand a sensitivity to the context and structural elements of modern diaspora and on the other an analysis of the individual psychological processes inherent to the experience of displacement and return such as nostalgia memory and belonging In the narratives of return analyzed in this volume space and identity are never static or easily definable rather they are in process and subject to change as they are always entangled in the historical and inter subjective relations ensuing from displacement and mobility This book will interest students and scholars who wish to further explore the role of American literature within current debates on globalization migration and ethnicity

Construction of Gender and Identity in Genesis Karalina Matskevich, 2019-01-24 Karalina Matskevich examines the structures that map out the construction of gendered and national identities in Genesis 2:3 and 12:36 Matskevich shows how the dominant Subject the androcentric ha adam and the ethnocentric Israel is perceived in relation to and over against the Other represented respectively as female and foreign Using the tools of narratology semiotics and psychoanalysis Matskevich highlights the contradiction inherent in the project of dominance through which the Subject seeks to suppress the transforming power of difference it relies on for its signification Thus in Genesis 2:3 ha adam can only emerge as a complex Subject in possession of knowledge with the help of woman the transforming Other to whom the narrator and Yahweh attributes both the agency and the blame Similarly the narratives of Genesis 12:36 show a conflicted attitude to places of alterity Egypt the fertile and seductive space that threatens annihilation and Haran the mother's land a complex metaphor for the feminine The construction of identity in these narratives largely relies on the symbolic fecundity of the Other

Music and Identity in Postcolonial British South-Asian Literature Christin Hoene, 2014-08-27 This book examines the role of music in British South Asian postcolonial literature asking how music relates to the construction of postcolonial identity It focuses on novels that explore the postcolonial condition in India Pakistan and the United Kingdom Vikram Seth's A Suitable Boy Amit Chaudhuri's Afternoon Raag Suhayl Saadi's Psychoraag Hanif Kureishi's The Buddha of Suburbia and The Black Album and Salman Rushdie's The Ground Beneath Her Feet with reference to other texts such as E M Forster's A Passage to India and Vikram Seth's An Equal Music The analyzed novels feature different kinds of music from Indian classical to non classical traditions and from Western classical music to pop music and rock n roll Music is depicted as a cultural artifact and as a purely aestheticized art form at the same time As a cultural artifact music derives meaning from its socio cultural context of production and serves as a frame of reference to explore postcolonial identities on their own terms As purely aesthetic art music escapes its contextual meaning The transgressive qualities of music render it capable of expressing identities irrespective of origin and politics of location Thereby music in the novels marks a very productive space to imagine the postcolonial nation and to rewrite imperial history to express the cultural hybridity of characters in between nations to analyze the state of the nation and life in the multicultural diaspora of contemporary Great Britain and to explore the ramifications of cultural globalization versus cultural imperialism It will be a useful research and teaching tool for those interested in postcolonial literature music studies cultural studies contemporary literature and South Asian literature
