Global Issues in Contemporary Hispanic Women's Writing Estrella Cibreiro,Francisca López,2013 Carolyn Tuttle led a group that interviewed 620 women maquila workers in Nogales Sonora Mexico The responses from this representative sample refute many of the hopeful predictions made by scholars before NAFTA and reveal instead that little has improved for maquila workers The women s stories make it plain that free trade has created more low paying jobs in sweatshops where workers are exploited Families of maquila workers live in one or two room houses with no running water no drainage and no heat The multinational companies who operate the maquilas consistently break Mexican labor laws by requiring women to work more than nine hours a day six days a week without medical benefits while the minimum wage they pay workers is insufficient to feed their families These findings will make a crucial contribution to debates over free trade CAFTA DR and the impact of globalization The book visits continuities and discontinuities among Spanish and Latin American women with regards to the ways in which they approach writing as a political weapon to express ecological concerns to denounce social injustice to re articulate existing paradigms such as local versus global violence versus pacifism immigrant versus citizen and to raise consciousness about racist sexist and other discriminatory practices Such use of writing as an instrument of ethical and political exploration is underlined throughout the different articles in the volume as the authors emphasize pluralism social justice gender equality tolerance and political representation This book offers readers a broad perspective on the multiple ways in which Hispanic women writers are explicitly exploring the social political and economic realities of our era and integrating global perspectives and gender concerns into their writing highlighting the unprecedented level of sociopolitical engagement practiced by 20th and 21st century Hispanic women writers

This Art Michael Wiegiers, 2013-06-01 The centuries have changed little in this art The subjects are still the same Kenneth Rexroth Why poetry What is poetry and why do people write it and read it Why as Dana Levin has written this urge to making a scrapbook of stars Every poet by accident or design has responded to Why poetry by writing a poem about poetry an ars poetica Whether these poems focus on the personal political or philosophical each recognizes that our world is more complicated than a direct statement As Marvin Bell has written Writing is all and everything This anthology of poems about the art and life of poetry which draws widely from Copper Canyon s 30 year backlist of poetry books proves him right Poets write out of love and longing Lord let me live long enough to dare a love poem Cyrus Cassells Poets confront suffering since we will always have a suffering world we must also always have a song David Budbill And poets write in order to live fully We all stumble into ourselves like this fitting our fingers to the shape of letters while the page gallops out of our reach Rebecca Seiferle Only poetry lasts Ho Xuan Huong Michael Wiegiers is the Managing Editor at Copper Canyon Press
