Rudy Wiebe and the Historicity of the Word Penelope Van Toorn, 1991      The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two George Melnyk, 1998 In this the companion to the landmark volume The Literary History of Alberta Volume One From Writing on Stone to World War Two George Melnyk examines Alberta literature in the second half of the twentieth century At last Melnyk argues Alberta writers have found their voice and their accomplishments have been remarkable The contradictory landscape the stereotypes of the Indian the Mountie and the Cowboy and the language of the Other speaking from the margins these elements all left their impressions on the consciousness of early Alberta But writers in the last few decades have turned this inheritance to their advantage to create compelling stories about this place and its people Today Melnyk discovers Alberta writers can appreciate not only this achievement but also its essential source the symbolic communication of Writing on Stone The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two extends the study of Alberta's cultural history to the present day It is a vital text for anyone interested in Alberta's vibrant literary culture      Speaking in the Past Tense Herb Wyile, 2009-10-22 Speaking in the Past Tense participates in an expanding critical dialogue on the writing of historical fiction providing a series of reflections on the process from the perspective of those souls intrepid enough to step onto what is practically by definition contested territory Herb Wyile from the Introduction The extermination of the Beothuk the exploration of the Arctic the experiences of soldiers in the trenches during World War I the foibles of Canada's longest serving prime minister the Ojibway sniper who is credited with 378 wartime kills these are just some of the people and events discussed in these candid and wide ranging interviews with eleven authors whose novels are based on events in Canadian history These sometimes startling conversations take the reader behind the scenes of the novels and into the minds of their authors Through them we explore the writers motives for writing the challenges they faced in gathering information and presenting it in fictional form the sometimes hostile reaction they faced after publication and perhaps most interestingly the stories that didn't make it into their novels Speaking in the Past Tense provides fascinating insights into the construction of national historical narratives and myths both those familiar to us and those that are still being written      Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide      Decolonizing the Lens of Power Kerstin Knopf, 2008-01-01 This is the first book that comprehensively examines Indigenous filmmaking in North America as it analyzes in detail a variety of representative films by Canadian and US American Indigenous filmmakers two films that contextualize the oral tradition three short films and four dramatic films The book explores how members of colonized groups use the medium of film as a means for cultural and political expression and thus enter the dominant colonial film discourse and create an answering discourse The theoretical framework is developed as an interdisciplinary approach combining postcolonialism Indigenous studies and film studies As Indigenous people are gradually taking control over the imagemaking process in the area of film and video they cease being studied and described objects and become subjects who create self controlled images of Indigenous cultures The book explores the translatability of Indigenous oral tradition into film touching upon the changes the cultural knowledge is subject to in this process including statements of Indigenous filmmakers on this issue It also asks whether or not there is a definite Indigenous film practice and whether filmmakers tend to dissociate their work from dominant classical filmmaking adapt to it or create new film forms and styles through converging classical film conventions and their conscious violation This approach presupposes that Indigenous filmmakers are constantly in some state of reaction to Western ethnographic filmmaking and to classical narrative filmmaking and its epitome the Hollywood narrative cinema The films analyzed are The Road Allowance People by Maria Campbell Itam Hakim Hopiit by Victor Masayesva Talker by Lloyd Martell Tenacity and Smoke Signals by Chris Eyre Overweight With Crooked Teeth and Honey Moccasin by Shelley Niro Big Bear by Gil Cardinal and Atanarjuat The Fast Runner by Zacharias Kunuk

Writing in Dust Jenny Kerber, 2011-03-17 Writing in Dust is the first sustained study of prairie Canadian literature from an ecocritical perspective Drawing on recent scholarship in environmental theory and criticism Jenny Kerber considers the ways in which prairie writers have negotiated processes of ecological and cultural change in the region from the early twentieth century to the present The book begins by proposing that current environmental problems in the prairie region can be understood by examining the longstanding tendency to describe its diverse terrain in dualistic terms either as an idyllic natural space or as an irredeemable wasteland It inquires into the sources of stories that naturalize ecological prosperity and hardship and investigates how such narratives have been deployed from the period of colonial settlement to the present It then considers the ways in which works by both canonical and more recent writers ranging from Robert Stead W O Mitchell and Margaret Laurence to Tim Lilburn Louise Halfe and Thomas King consistently challenge these dualistic landscape myths proposing alternatives for the development of more ecologically just and sustainable relationships among people and between humans and their physical environments Writing in Dust asserts that reading environmentally can help us to better understand a host of issues facing prairie inhabitants today including the environmental impacts of industrial agriculture resource extraction climate change shifting urban rural demographics the significance of Indigenous understandings of human nature relationships and the complex often contradictory meanings of eco cultural metaphors of alien invasiveness hybridity and wildness

Seeking the Self - Encountering the Other Tuomas Huttunen, Janne Korkka, 2020-11-09 Seeking the Self Encountering the Other offers new insights into diasporic experiences encounters and representations This collection of texts examines diaspora narratives and the ways in which different encounters with the other are represented as well as how these encounters might be read and interpreted in ethical terms The anthology explores questions of ethics in narratives of displacement or belonging nationalist narratives of exclusion and borderline narratives constructed on the foundation provided by encounters with the cultural sexual gendered and ethnic other The contributors aim is to explore questions of responsibility and ethics in the study of diaspora migration and alterity from a wide range of perspectives Following a Levinasian one if the other is always ultimately transcendental and ungraspable through language we are required to consider ethics every time we write read or interpret an encounter with the other

The False Traitor Albert Raimundo Braz,2003-01-01 The nineteenth century M tis politician and mystic Louis Riel has emerged as one of the most popular and elusive figures in Canadian culture Since his hanging for treason in 1885 the self declared David of the New World has been depicted variously as a traitor to Confederation a French Canadian and Catholic martyr a bloodthirsty rebel a pan American liberator a pawn of shadowy white forces a Prairie political maverick a First Nations hero an alienated intellectual a victim of Western industrial progress and even a Father of Confederation Albert Braz synthesizes the available material by and about Riel including film sculpture and cartoons as well as literature in French and English and analyzes how an historical figure could be portrayed in such contradictory ways In light of the fact that most aesthetic representations of Riel bear little resemblance not only to one another but also to their purported model Braz suggests that they reveal less about Riel than they do about their authors and the society to which they belong The most comprehensive treatment of the representations of Louis Riel in Canadian literature The False Traitor will be a seminal work in the study of this popular Canadian figure

Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Renée Hulan,2002 She considers each of these diverse genres in terms of the way it explains the cultural identity of a nation formed from the settlement of immigrant peoples on the lands of dispossessed indigenous peoples

New World Myth Marie Vautier,1998-01-06 There is an emphasis on de constructing de centring de stabilizing and especially de mythologizing in the study that illustrates New World myth narrators questioning the past in the present and carrying out their original investigations of myth place and identity Underlining the fact that political realities are encoded in the language and narrative of the works Vautier argues that the reworkings of literary religious and historical myths and political ideologies in these novels are grounded in their shared situation of being in and of the New World

Canada : Images D'une Société Post/nationale Nordic Association for Canadian Studies. International Conference,2009 Has Canada moved beyond the nation state into the world of the post national To what extent have fixed notions of Canadian nationhood been replaced by a more global decentralized sense of identification Is nationhood or post nationhood best expressed by statelessness and exile or by belonging Or can Canadian national identity in fact fruitfully coexist with the post national consciousness These are some of the issues covered by this volume issues seen from a range of perspectives literary cultural political and economic In the literary sphere the national post national debate is explored both through canonical writers such as L M Montgomery Stephen Leacock and Marie Claire Blais and through recent First Nations Asian Canadian African

Canadian Ukrainian Canadian and Quebec writing The political and economic range is equally diverse covering such topics as immigration policy multiculturalism Canadian American relations tourist imaginings of the Canadian North the Canadian city and Quebec nationalism The book brings together 27 original articles from international scholars and creative writers offering both European and Canadian perspectives Six articles in French focus specifically on the francophone sphere

The Cambridge Companion to Canadian Literature Eva-Marie Kröller, 2017-06-08 A fully revised second edition of this multi author account of Canadian literature from Aboriginal writing to Margaret Atwood

Literatur und Lebenskunst Eva Oppermann, 2006 Echoing Silence John Moss, 1997-10-17 The North has always had and still has an irresistible attraction This fascination is made up of a mixture of perspectives among these the various explorations of the Arctic itself and the Inuk cultural heritage found in the elders and contemporary stories This book discusses the different generations of explorers and writers and illustrates how the sounds of a landscape are inseparable from the stories of its inhabitants

The Journal of Commonwealth Literature, 1992 Issues for 1965 include section Annual bibliography of Commonwealth literature 1964

The Cambridge Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby, 2000-08-21 This book introduces in a lively and succinct way the major writers literary movements styles and genres that at the beginning of a new century are seen as constituting the field of Australian literature The book consciously takes a perspective that sees literary works not as aesthetic objects created in isolation by unique individuals but as cultural products influenced and constrained by the social political and economic circumstances of their times as well as by geographical and environmental factors It covers indigenous texts colonial writing and reading poetry fiction and theatre throughout two centuries biography and autobiography and literary criticism in Australia Other features of the companion are a chronology listing significant historical and literary events and suggestions for further reading

Speculative Fictions Herb Wyile, 2002-02-18 Herb Wyile provides a comparative analysis of the historical concerns and textual strategies of twenty novels published since the appearance of Rudy Wiebe's groundbreaking The Temptations of Big Bear in 1973 Drawing on the work of theorists and critics such as Hayden White Mikhail Bakhtin Fredric Jameson Linda Hutcheon and Michel De Certeau Speculative Fictions examines the nature of these novels engagement with Canadian history historiography and the writing of historical fiction In the 1970s and early 1980s writers such as Wiebe Joy Kogawa and Timothy Findley set the stage for a predominantly postcolonial and postmodern interrogation of traditional conceptions of Canadian history the writing of history and fiction and the idea of nation Through his comparative approach Wyile emphasizes the ways in which this spirit has been sustained in more recent historical novels by Jane Urquhart Guy Vanderhaeghe Tom Wharton Margaret Atwood and others He concludes that the writing of history in English Canadian fiction over the last thirty years makes a substantial contribution to a revisioning of history and to a postcolonial renegotiation of Canada and Canadian society as we enter into a new century

Faith and Fiction Barbara Pell, 2006-01-01 Is it possible to write an artistically respectable and theoretically convincing

religious novel in a non religious age Up to now there has been no substantial application of theological criticism to the works of Hugh MacLennan and Morley Callaghan the two most important Canadian novelists before 1960 Yet both were religious writers during the period when Canada entered the modern non religious era and both greatly influenced the development of our literature MacLennan s journey from Calvinism to Christian existentialism is documented in his essays and seven novels most fully in The Watch that Ends the Night Callaghan s fourteen novels are marked by tensions in his theology of Catholic humanism with his later novels defining his theological themes in increasingly secular terms This tension between narrative and metanarrative has produced both the artistic strengths and the moral ambiguities that characterize his work Faith and Fiction A Theological Critique of the Narrative Strategies of Hugh MacLennan and Morley Callaghan is a significant contribution to the relatively new field studying the relation between religion and literature in Canada Third Voice Michael P. Knowles, 2021-01-14 What makes for powerful preaching Careful exegesis logical structure interesting illustrations and clear speech can all help But truly transformative preaching depends on divine power not human skill alone Those who would reduce preaching to simple systems or sure fire strategies for success will find little of interest here Instead this book appeals to those pastors and academics alike who find themselves confounded by the occasional futility of their best preaching and the unexpected success of their worst It invites readers to enter more deeply into the uncontrollable mystery that attends all efforts to speak in the name of Christ above all on the topic of resurrection Although the gospel always turns our attention to the crucified and risen Lord preaching about resurrection calls us to trust that the same God who raised Jesus from death will likewise grant life to us as preachers to our sermons and to our hearers alike Drawing on resources as diverse as Luther s understanding of the Christian gospel Speech Act theory and Bhabha s concept of Third Space Third Voice Preaching Resurrection argues that the true key to effective preaching is not rhetoric but spirituality Saskatchewan Writers University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 2004 The more than 175 biographies in this volume together tell the story of writing in Saskatchewan As David Carpenter notes in his Introduction to the volume The writers whose lives are told in these pages are part of an extraordinary cultural community that has touched and been touched by the people and landscape of this province
