Quality Money Management

Andrew Kumiega, Benjamin Van Vliet, 2011-08-29 The financial markets industry is at the same crossroads as the automotive industry in the late 1970s Margins are collapsing and customization is rapidly increasing The automotive industry turned to quality and its no coincidence that in the money management industry many of the spectacular failures have been due largely to problems in quality control The financial industry is on the verge of a quality revolution New and old firms alike are creating new investment vehicles and new strategies that are radically changing the nature of the industry To compete mutual funds hedge fund industries banks and proprietary trading firms are being forced to quickly research test and implement trade selection and execution systems And just as in the early stages of factory automation quality suffers and leads to defects Many financial firms fall short of quality lacking processes and methodologies for proper development and evaluation of trading and investment systems Authors Kumiega and Van Vliet present a new step by step methodology for such development Their methodology called K Presents a robust process engineering framework for developing and evaluating trading and investment systems Best practices along the step by step process will mitigate project risk model risk and ensure data quality Includes a quality model for backtesting and managing market risk of working systems

NIIR Board of Consultants and Engineers, 2006-10-01 Plastics extrusion is a high volume manufacturing process in which raw plastic material is melted and formed into a continuous profile Extrusion produces items such as pipe tubing weather stripping fence deck railing window frames adhesive tape and wire insulation There are fundamentally two different methods of extruding film namely blow extrusion and slit die extrusion The design and operation of the extruder up to the die is the same for both methods The moulding process is one of the most important plastic processing operations It is an important commercial process whereby a resinous polymeric compound is converted into useful finished articles The origin of this process is dates back about a century to the invention of a plunger type machine The mould has its own importance which give the required shapes of the products The vast growth of injection moulding is reflected dramatically in many types and sizes of equipment available today Plastic moulding especially thermoplastic items may be produced by compression moulding methods but since they are soft at the temperature involved it is necessary to cool down the mould before they may be ejected Injection moulding differs from compression moulding is that the plastic material is rendered fluid in a separate chamber or barrel outside the mould is then forced into the mould cavity by external pressure Plastic technology is one of the most vigorous manufacturing branches characterised by new raw materials changing requirements and continuous development in processing methods The injection moulding machines manufacturers plays an important part in the creation of injection moulding technology process control to essential mechanical engineering Even though design is a specialized phase in engineering field in tool and mould engineering it is totally divided into two wings as product design and tool and
