Transformation of Resource Towns and Peripheries Greg Halseth, 2016-07-01 Most developed economies including single industry and resource dependent rural or small town regions are transforming rapidly as a result of social political and economic change Collectively they face a number of challenges as well as new opportunities This international collaboration describes a critical political economy framework that will be useful for understanding these transitions Transformation of Resource Towns and Peripheries describes the multi faceted process of transition and change in resource dependent rural and small town regions since the end of the Second World War The book incorporates international case studies from Australia Canada Finland and New Zealand with the express purpose of highlighting similarities and differences in patterns and practices in each country Chapters explore three main themes how corporate ties and trade linkages are changing and impacting rural communities and regions how resource industry employment is changing in these small communities and how local community capacity and leadership are working to mitigate challenges and take advantage of new opportunities This book will be of interest to students of regional studies geography and rural and industrial sociology It will also have a strong appeal to policy makers and local regional development practitioners

Tourism Governance Bill Bramwell, Bernard Lane, 2013-12-16 The role of governance has only recently begun to be researched and discussed in order to better understand tourism policy making and planning and tourism development Governance encompasses the many ways in which societies and industries are governed given permission or assistance or steered by government and numerous other actors including the private sector NGOs and communities This book explains and evaluates critical perspectives on the governance of tourism examining these in the context of tourism and sustainable development Governance processes fundamentally affect whether and how progress is made toward securing the economic socio cultural and environmental goals of sustainable development The critical perspectives on tourism governance examined here challenge and re conceptualise established ideas in tourism policy and planning as well as engage with theoretical frameworks from other social science fields The contributors assess theoretical frameworks that help explain the governance of tourism and sustainability They also explore tourism governance at national regional and local scales and the relations between them They assess issues of power and politics in policy making and planning and they consider changing governance relationships over time and the associated potential for social learning The collection brings insights from leading researchers and examines important new theoretical frameworks for tourism research This book was originally published as a special issue of Journal of Sustainable Tourism

Farm Workers in Western Canada Shirley A. McDonald, Bob Barnetson, 2017-01-16 Bill 6 the government of Alberta's contentious farm workers safety legislation sparked public debate as no other legislation has done in recent years The Enhanced Protection for Farm and Ranch Workers Act provides a right to work safely and a compensation system for those killed or injured at work similar to other provinces In nine essays contributors to Farm Workers in Western Canada place this legislation in context They look at the origins work conditions and precarious lives of farm workers in terms of larger historical forces such as colonialism land rights and racism They also examine how the rights and privileges of farm workers including seasonal and temporary foreign workers conflict with those of their employers and reveal the barriers many face by being excluded from most statutory employment laws sometimes in violation of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms Contributors Gianna Argento Bob Barnetson Michael J Broadway Jill Bucklaschuk Delna Contractor Darlene A Dunlop Brynna Hambly Takasugi Zane Hamm Paul Kennett Jennifer Koshan C F Andrew Lau J Graham Martinelli Shirley A McDonald Robin C McIntyre Nelson Medeiros Kerry Preibisch Heidi Rolfe Patricia Tomic Ricardo Trumper and Kay Elizabeth Turner

Taking Food Public Psyche Williams Forson, Carole Counihan, 2013-09-13 The field of food studies has been growing rapidly over the last thirty years and has exploded since the turn of the millennium Scholars from an array of disciplines have trained fresh theoretical and methodological approaches onto new dimensions of the human relationship to food This anthology capitalizes on this particular cultural moment to bring to the fore recent scholarship that focuses on innovative ways people are recasting food in public spaces to challenge hegemonic practices and meanings Organized into five interrelated sections on food production consumption performance Diasporas and activism articles aim to provide new perspectives on the changing meanings and uses of food in the twenty first century The Fight for Local Control Campbell F. Scribner, 2016-05-12 Throughout the twentieth century local control of school districts was one of the most contentious issues in American politics As state and federal regulation attempted to standardize public schools conservatives defended local prerogative as a bulwark of democratic values Yet their commitment to those values was shifting and selective In The Fight for Local Control Campbell F. Scribner demonstrates how in the decades after World War II suburban communities appropriated legacies of rural education to assert their political autonomy and in the process radically changed educational law Scribner's account unfolds on the metropolitan fringe where rapid suburbanization overlapped with the consolidation of thousands of small rural schools Rural residents initially clashed with their new neighbors but by the 1960s the groups had rallied to resist government oversight What began as residual opposition to school consolidation would transform into campaigns against race based busing unionized teachers tax equalization and secular curriculum In case after case suburban conservatives carved out new rights for local autonomy stifling equal educational opportunity Yet Scribner also provides insight into why many conservatives have since abandoned localism for policies that stress school choice and federal accountability In the 1970s as new battles arose over unions textbooks and taxes districts on the rural suburban fringe became the first to assert individual choice in the form of school vouchers religious exemptions and a marketplace model of education At the same time they began to embrace tax limitation and standardized testing policies that checked educational bureaucracy but bypassed local school boards The effect Scribner concludes has been to reinforce inequalities between districts while weakening participatory government within them keeping the worst aspects of local control in place while forfeiting its virtues Selected Readings in Applied

Climatology Robert V. Rohli, 2015-11-25 Over the last 40 years applied climatologists have been producing increasingly sophisticated and insightful research which has led to the current level of recognition that climate and particularly climatic changes have important environmental economic and recreational impacts Furthermore as societal needs for optimizing the use of resources increase applied climatology will continue to grow in importance Selected Readings in Applied Climatology is a collection of academic style vignettes of research over the past 40 years that represents the evolution of this important subfield and therefore provides a framework for appreciating the impacts of climate on society After an introductory editorial chapter placing the development of applied climatology in its historical context the book is divided into topical sections on applied climatological research in atmospheric circulation variability the biosphere water and energy resources agriculture and human health comfort and behavior The final section includes a collection of essays on communicating climatic information to the public Selected Readings in Applied Climatology will be beneficial to those whose field of interest affects and is affected by climate such as meteorologists ecologists water resource planners energy demand forecasters commodities brokers agriculturalists sociologists and media consultants

Landscape and the Ideology of Nature in Exurbia K. Valentine Cadieux, Laura Taylor, 2013-05-07 This book explores the role of the ideology of nature in producing urban and exurban sprawl It examines the ironies of residential development on the metropolitan fringe where the search for nature brings residents deeper into the world from which they are imagining their escape of Federal Express technologically mediated communications global supply chains and the anonymity of the global marketplace and where many of the central features of exurbia very low density residential land use monster homes and conversion of forested or rural land for housing contribute to the very problems that the social and environmental aesthetic of exurbia attempts to avoid The volume shows how this contradiction to live in the green landscape and to protect the green landscape from urbanization gets caught up and represented in the ideology of nature and how this ideology in turn constitutes and is constituted by the landscapes being urbanized

Creative Industries and Innovation in Europe Luciana Lazzeretti, 2013 In recent years the study of creativity has shifted from analysis of culture as an end in itself to one of economic enhancement and its capability to generate wealth and promote economic development Increasingly European cities and regions are using the arts to fuel wellbeing and reinvigorate economies after the comparative demise of more traditional industry and manufacturing A growing literature is starting to highlight the innovation capacity of cultural and creative industries CCIs as they intersect the innovation processes of other manufacturing and services sectors with an innovative and creative output Culture and creativity may be a strategic weapon to exit the present crisis and redefine an economic model of sustainable development This book brings together a set of multidisciplinary contributions to investigate the kaleidoscope of European creativity focussing on CCIs and the innovations connected with them The two main questions that this volume aims to address are How can we identify map and define CCIs in Europe And how do they contribute to innovation and sustainable growth The volume is split into two parts The first part deals with the definition measurement and mapping of the geography of European CCIs according to a local economic approach focussing on Italy Spain the UK Austria Denmark and France This section surveys the different industrial typologies and spatial patterns which underline a significant dissimilarity between the North and the South of Europe mainly due to the difference between heritage driven and technology driven countries The section concludes with a case study on a Japanese creative city The second part collects some interesting cases of innovation generated in creative spaces such as cities of art or creative clusters and networks This entails the study of innovations among creative and non creative sectors e g laser technologies in conservation of works of art and design networks in Italy and across European and non European countries e g Spaghetti Western movies in the US or visual artists in New Zealand Finally an innovation capacity of culture that can regenerate mature sectors e g the French food supply chain and Swiss watch Valley or combine the creative and green economics paradigms e g the green creative cities in North Europe is analyzed This book will appeal to academics scholars and practitioners of urban and regional studies cultural and creative economics and managerial and organization studies Investing in Place Sean Markey,Greg Halseth,Don Manson,2012-08-01 The future of northern British Columbia a vast resource rich region of vibrant cultures and diverse communities could be either driven by a narrow economic agenda or guided by innovative place based solutions that seek to build viable communities and resilient local and regional economies Investing in Place is about creating the foundations for renewing northern British Columbia s rural and small town economies Markey Halseth and Manson argue that renewal is not about nostalgic reliance on the policies and economic strategies of the past rather it is about building a pragmatic and innovative vision for development one that acknowledges both the opportunities and the challenges posed by resource development and global and technological change For policy makers and residents alike the path to renewal lies in place based development which consists of people working together at all levels of the community and region to take advantage of local opportunities in a sustainable responsible way The Geography of Tourism and Recreation C. Michael Hall,Stephen J. Page,2014-05-09 This fourth edition of The Geography of Tourism and Recreation provides students with a comprehensive introduction to the interrelationship between tourism leisure and recreation from geographical and social science perspectives It still remains the only book to systematically compare and contrast in a spatial context tourism and recreation in relation to leisure time offering insight into the demand supply planning destination management and impacts of tourism and recreation Whilst retaining its accessible style and approach this edition has been significantly updated to reflect recent developments and new concepts from geography which are beginning to permeate the tourism and recreational field New features include Content on the most recent developments climate change sustainability mobilities and crisis management in time and space as well as trends such as low cost airlines and the control of land transport by transnational operators in the EU such as Arriva More attention to management issues such as innovation and the spatial consequences for tourism and leisure development New case studies and examples to showcase real life issues from both developed and developing countries especially the US China and South Africa Completely revised and redeveloped to accommodate new user friendly features case studies insights summary points and learning objectives Written by leading academics this is essential reading for all tourism geography leisure and recreation students Geographies of Meat Harvey Neo,Jody Emel,2017-03-16 With the ever rising demand for meat around the world the production of meat has changed dramatically in the past few decades What has brought about the increasing popularity and attendant normalization of factory farms across many parts of the world What are some of the ways to resist such broad convergences in meat production and how successful are they This book locates the answers to these questions at the intersection between the culture science and political economy of meat production and consumption It details how and why techniques of production have spread across the world albeit in a spatially uneven way It argues that the modern meat production and consumption sphere is the outcome of a complex matrix of cultural politics economics and technological faith Drawing from examples across the world including America Europe and Asia the tensions and repercussions of meat production and consumption are also analyzed From a geographical perspective food animals have been given considerably less attention compared to wild animals or pets This book framed conceptually by critical animal studies governmentality and commodification is a theoretically driven and empirically rich study that advances the study of food animals in geography as well as in the wider social sciences

Latinos in the New South Owen J. Furuseth, Heather A. Smith, 2016-12-05 Latinos have emerged as one of the fastest growing ethnic populations in the American South A New South is taking shape in a region where culture and class relations have traditionally been constructed along black white divides and experience absorbing culturally or linguistically foreign immigrants has been limited This book presents a multidisciplinary examination of the impacts and responses across the Southeastern United States to contemporary Latino immigration The rapid and large scale movement of Latinos into the region has challenged old precepts and forced Southerners to confront the impacts of globalization and transnationalism in their daily lives Drawing on theoretical perspectives as well as empirical research the work provides insights into the Latino experience in both urban and rural locales Each chapter is centred on the nexus between the immigrants experiences in settling and adapting to new lives in the American South and the construction of transformed social economic political and cultural spaces
