Landless Households in Rural Europe, 1600-1900 Christine Fertig, Richard Paping, Henry French, 2022 First comparative study of landless households brings out their major role in European history and society The numbers of landless people those lacking formal rights to land or possessing only tiny smallholdings grew rapidly across post medieval Europe as rural population and economic growth divided landowners and farmers from increasingly landless rural workers But they have hitherto been relatively neglected a gap which this volume covering Scandinavia Germany Austria Netherlands Belgium Britain France and Spain from the sixteenth to the early twentieth centuries aims to fill making creative use of a diverse range of unexplored sources Instead of concentrating on the well documented cases of landholding peasants it explores the many different experiences of the numerous rural landless It explains how their households were formed often in the face of economic difficulties and official hostility how all the members of a family contributed to its survival how the landless related to other social groups and negotiated access to vital resources and how they adapted as rural society was changed by war politics agrarian and industrial development government policy and welfare systems Contributors Arnau Barquer i Cerd John Broad Dieter Bruneel Christine Fertig Henry French Margareth Lanzinger Jonas Lindstr m Riikka Miettinen Richard Paping Wouter Ronsijn Merja Uotila Nadine Vivierlated to other social groups and negotiated access to vital resources and how they adapted as rural society was changed by war politics agrarian and industrial development government policy and welfare systems Contributors Arnau Barquer i Cerd John Broad Dieter Bruneel Christine Fertig Henry French Margareth Lanzinger Jonas Lindstr m Riikka Miettinen Richard Paping Wouter Ronsijn Merja Uotila Nadine Vivierlated to other social groups and negotiated access to vital resources and how they adapted as rural society was changed by war politics agrarian and

Networks in Rural Europe, 1700-2000 Yves Segers, Leen Van Molle, 2022 An examination of how farming expertise could be shared and extended over four centuries All kinds of knowledge from traditional know how to modern science are socially contingent and the product of an age long and permanent social struggle This book unravels the creation and the exchange of agronomic knowledge in rural Europe from the early eighteenth century up until the end of the twentieth It explores the spreading of knowing through the lens of knowledge networks where did agricultural knowledge come from and how did one learn to run a farm Who was involved in this process of knowledge exchange Which strategies and communicative methods were employed and what kind of networks were active The answers to these questions mirror as the book illustrates the inventiveness of the actors on the scene the creativity of a French naturalist in establishing links with local farmers to stop the circulation of a devastating grain moth the power of the agricultural press to instill proper values into Hungarian farming practices or to shape the identity of the Galician agrarian movement and the agency of post war British farmers in selecting their own information from sources such as lectures to the Young Farmers Club visits by public advisors and representatives of commercial firms and radio programs From the start of the agricultural Enlightenment increasingly farmers have been besieged by a growing army of experts telling them what to do when and how In a sense farming has become one of the most patronised professions But farmers can resist and carve their own path The chapters here reveal the continuous tensions between science based agriculture and practice based farming between the expert image of an ideal agriculture and the less known self image of being a good farmer The dominant process as this book shows is that of an instrumental top down transmission of knowledge from the lab to the field But between these two poles complex and flourishing networks developed functioning as trading zones in which knowledge and experience could be circulated put to the test forgotten altered rejected and sometimes imposed
