Rural Images Estate Maps In The Old And New Worlds:

Rural Images David Buisseret,1996-07 But these hand drawn maps often displaying elaborate cartouches and elegant coats of arms served as far more than mere records of property ownership they were treasured works of art exhibited for pleasure and as symbols of wealth and passed down from generation to generation Urban Poetics in the French

Renaissance Elisabeth Hodges,2016-12-05 The city view forms the jumping off point for this innovative study which explores how the concept of the city relates to the idea of the self in early modern French narratives At a time when print culture cartography and literature emerged and developed together the city view a picture or topographic image of a city became one of the most distinctive and popular products of the early modern period Through a construct she calls urban poetics Elisabeth Hodges draws out the relationship between the city and the self showing the impact of the city in cultural production to be so profound that it cannot be extricated from what we know by the name of subjectivity Each chapter of the book brings focus to a crucial text that features descriptions of the self in the city by the writers Villon Corrozet Sc ve and Montaigne and investigate how representations of urban experience prepared the way for the emergence of the autonomous subject Charting a course between cartography literary studies and cultural history this study opens new vistas on some of the period s defining problems the book the subject the city Spatial Imaginings in the Age of Colonial Cartographic

Reason Nilanjana Mukherjee,2020-05-18 This volume explores how India as a geographical space was constructed by the British colonial regime in visual and material terms It demonstrates the instrumentalisation of cultural artefacts such as landscape paintings travel literature and cartography as spatial practices overtly carrying scientific truth claims to materially produce artificial spaces that reinforced power relations It sheds light on the primary dominance of cartographic reason in the age of European Enlightenment which framed aesthetic and scientific modes of representation and imagination The author cross examines this imperial gaze as a visual perspective which bore the material inscriptions of a will to assert possess and control The distinguishing theme in this study is the production of India as a new geography sourced from Britain s own interaction with its rural outskirts and domination in its fringes This book Addresses the concept of production of space to study the formulation of a colonial geography which resulted in the birth of a new place later a nation Investigates a generative period in the formation of British India c 1750 1850 as a colonial territory vis vis its representation and reiteration in British maps landscape paintings and travel writings Brings Great Britain and British India together on one plane not only in terms of the physical geo spaces but also in the excavation of critical domains by alluding to critics from both spaces Seeks to understand the pictorial grammar that legitimised the expansive British imperial cartographic gaze as the dominant narrative which marginalised all other existing local ideas of space and inhabitation Rethinking colonial constructions of modern India this volume will be of immense interest to scholars and researchers of modern history cultural geography colonial studies English literature cultural studies art visual studies and area studies The Cartographic

Imagination in Early Modern England D.K. Smith, 2016-04-01 Working from a cultural studies perspective author D K Smith here examines a broad range of medieval and Renaissance maps and literary texts to explore the effects of geography on Tudor Stuart cultural perceptions He argues that the literary representation of cartographically related material from the late fifteenth to the early seventeenth century demonstrates a new strain not just of geographical understanding but of cartographic manipulation which he terms the cartographic imagination Rather than considering the effects of maps themselves on early modern epistemologies Smith considers the effects of the activity of mapping the new techniques the new expectations of accuracy and precision which developed in the sixteenth century on the ways people thought and wrote Looking at works by Spenser Marlowe Raleigh and Marvell among other authors he analyzes how the growing ability to represent physical space accurately brought with it not just a wealth of new maps but a new array of rhetorical techniques metaphors and associations which allowed the manipulation of texts and ideas in ways never before possible Writing,

Geometry and Space in Seventeenth-Century England and America Jess Edwards, 2018-12-07 The early modern map has come to mark the threshold of modernity cutting through the layered customs of Medieval parochialism with its clean expansive geometries Re thinking the role played by mathematics and cartography in the English seventeenth century this book argues that the cultural currency of mathematics was as unstable in the period as that of England's controversial enclosures and plantations Reviewing evidence from a wide range of literary and scientific courtly and pragmatic texts Edwards suggests that its unstable currency rendered mathematics necessarily rhetorical subject to constant re negotiation Yet he also finds a powerful flexibility in this weakness Mathematized texts from masques to maps negotiated a contemporary ambivalence between Calvinist asceticism and humanist engagement Their authors promoted themselves as artful guides between virtue and profit the study and the marketplace This multi disciplinary work will be of interest to all disciplines affected by the recent spatial turn in early modern cultural studies and particularly to students and researchers in literature history and geography The Memory of the People Andy Wood, 2013-08-15 The Memory of the People is a major study of popular memory in the early modern period

The Mapmakers' Quest David Buisseret, 2003-05-22 In 1400 Europe was behind large parts of the world in its understanding of the use of maps For instance the people of China and of Japan were considerably more advanced in this respect And yet by 1600 the Europeans had come to use maps for a huge variety of tasks and were far ahead of the rest of the world in their appreciation of the power and use of cartography The Mapmakers Quest seeks to understand this development not only to tease out the strands of thought and practice which led to the use of maps but also to assess the ways in which such use affected European societies and economies Taking as a starting point the question of why there were so few maps in Europe in 1400 and so many by 1650 the book explores the reasons for this and its implications for European history It examines inter al how mapping and military technology advanced in tandem how modern states territories were mapped and borders drawn up the role of maps in shaping the urban environment and

cartography s links to the new sciences John Norden's The Surveyor's Dialogue (1618) Mark Netzloff,2016-05-06 This edition provides the first complete modern version of John Norden s The Surveyor s Dialogue Norden s text a series of dialogues between a fictional surveyor and several interlocutors including a tenant farmer an aristocrat landowner a manorial officer and a socially mobile land buyer is remarkable for its unique commentary on the agrarian roots of English capitalism In his extensive introduction Mark Netzloff situates the text in relation to a number of early modern contexts He discusses the use of dialogue and other literary forms in proto scientific writing and the role of print in the increasing professionalism of early surveyors Netzloff also examines the impact of capital formation on agrarian and manorial class relations discussing topics such as popular protest and revolt cottagers and the rural poor regionalism and urbanization and the transformation of the natural environment through deforestation enclosure and the appropriation of commons Alongside a thorough annotation of technical and historical terms the edition provides a list of textual variants among early modern versions of the text This critical edition of The Surveyor s Dialogue constitutes an important contribution to early modern scholarship and it will be invaluable to scholars from a range of fields including the history of science economic and agrarian history and literary and cultural studies Remembering, Forgetting and City Builders Dr Haim Yacobi,Dr Tovi Fenster,2012-11-28 Remembering Forgetting and City Builders critically explores how urban spaces are designed planned and experienced in relation to the politics of collective and personal memory construction Bringing together case studies from North America South Asia Eastern Europe and the Middle East the book analyzes how contested national ethnic and cultural sentiments clash in planning and experiencing urban spaces Going beyond the claim that such situations exist in many parts of the world because communities construct their past memories within their current daily life and future aspirations the book explores how the very acts of planning and urban design are rooted in the existing structures of hegemonic power With contributors from the fields of architecture geography planning anthropology and sociology urban studies and cultural studies the book provides a rich interdisciplinary view into the conflicts over memory and belonging which are spatially expressed and mediated through the official planning apparatus From British Peasants to Colonial American Farmers Allan Kulikoff,2014-02-01 With this book Allan Kulikoff offers a sweeping new interpretation of the origins and development of the small farm economy in Britain s mainland American colonies Examining the lives of farmers and their families he tells the story of immigration to the colonies traces patterns of settlement analyzes the growth of markets and assesses the impact of the Revolution on small farm society Beginning with the dispossession of the peasantry in early modern England Kulikoff follows the immigrants across the Atlantic to explore how they reacted to a hostile new environment and its Indian inhabitants He discusses how colonists secured land built farms and bequeathed those farms to their children Emphasizing commodity markets in early America Kulikoff shows that without British demand for the colonists crops settlement could not have begun at all Most important he explores the destruction caused during the American Revolution showing how the war thrust farmers into subsistence production and how they only gradually regained their prewar prosperity

Mapping Latin America Jordana Dym, Karl Offen, 2011-12-01 For many a map is nothing more than a tool used to determine the location or distribution of something a country a city or a natural resource But maps reveal much more to really read a map means to examine what it shows and what it doesn't and to ask who made it why and for whom The contributors to this new volume ask these sorts of questions about maps of Latin America and in doing so illuminate the ways cartography has helped to shape this region from the Rio Grande to Patagonia In Mapping Latin America Jordana Dym and Karl Offen bring together scholars from a wide range of disciplines to examine and interpret more than five centuries of Latin American maps Individual chapters take on maps of every size and scale and from a wide variety of mapmakers from the hand drawn maps of Native Americans to those by famed explorers such as Alexander von Humboldt to those produced in today's newspapers and magazines for the general public The maps collected here and the interpretations that accompany them provide an excellent source to help readers better understand how Latin American countries regions provinces and municipalities came to be defined measured organized occupied settled disputed and understood that is how they came to have specific meanings to specific people at specific moments in time The first book to deal with the broad sweep of mapping activities across Latin America this lavishly illustrated volume will be required reading for students and scholars of geography and Latin American history and anyone interested in understanding the significance of maps in human cultures and societies

Decolonizing the Map James R. Akerman, 2017-06-16 Almost universally newly independent states seek to affirm their independence and identity by making the production of new maps and atlases a top priority For formerly colonized peoples however this process neither begins nor ends with independence and it is rarely straightforward Mapping their own land is fraught with a fresh set of issues how to define and administer their territories develop their national identity establish their role in the community of nations and more The contributors to Decolonizing the Map explore this complicated relationship between mapping and decolonization while engaging with recent theoretical debates about the nature of decolonization itself These essays originally delivered as the 2010 Kenneth Nebenzahl Jr Lectures in the History of Cartography at the Newberry Library encompass more than two centuries and three continents Latin America Africa and Asia Ranging from the late eighteenth century through the mid twentieth contributors study topics from mapping and national identity in late colonial Mexico to the enduring complications created by the partition of British India and the racialized organization of space in apartheid and post apartheid South Africa A vital contribution to studies of both colonization and cartography Decolonizing the Map is the first book to systematically and comprehensively examine the engagement of mapping in the long and clearly unfinished parallel processes of decolonization and nation building in the modern world

Cartographies of Tsardom Valerie Ann Kivelson, 2006 By studying 17th century maps Kivelson sheds light on Muscovite Russia the relationship of state and society the growth of an empire the rise of serfdom and the place of

Orthodox Christianity in society OCLC Cartographic Encounters G. Malcolm Lewis,1998-09-15 Ever since a native American prepared a paper chart of the lower Colorado River for the Spaniard Hernando de Alarcon in 1540 native Americans have been making maps in the course of encounters with whites the most recent maps often support land claims This book charts the history of these cartographic encounters examining native maps and mapmaking from the earliest contacts onward Enclosure Gary Fields,2017-09-05 Enclosure marshals bold new and persuasive arguments about the ongoing dispossession of Palestinians Revealing the Israel Palestine landscape primarily as one of enclosure geographer Gary Fields sheds fresh light on Israel s actions He places those actions in historical context in a broad analysis of power and landscapes across the modern world Examining the process of land grabbing in early modern England colonial North America and contemporary Palestine Enclosure shows how patterns of exclusion and privatization have emerged across time and geography That the same moral legal and cartographic arguments were copied by enclosers of land in very different historical environments challenges Israel s current rationale as being uniquely beleaguered It also helps readers in the United Kingdom and the United States understand the Israel Palestine conflict in the context of their own tortured histories

The Imperial Map James R. Akerman,2009-03 Maps from virtually every culture and period convey our tendency to see our communities as the centre of the world if not the universe and by implication as superior to anything beyond our boundaries This study examines how cartography has been used to prop up a variety of imperialist enterprises History of Universities: Volume XV: 1997-1999 Peter Denley,2000-04-13 Volume XV of History of Universities contains the customary mix of learned articles book reviews conference reports and bibliographical information which makes this publication such an indispensable tool for the historian of higher education Its contributions range widely geographically chronologically and in subject matter The volume is as always a lively combination of original research and invaluable reference material Curiosities and Texts Marjorie Swann,2010-11-24 A craze for collecting swept England during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Aristocrats and middling sort men alike crammed their homes full of a bewildering variety of physical objects antique coins scientific instruments minerals mummified corpses zoological specimens plants ethnographic objects from Asia and the Americas statues portraits Why were these bizarre jumbles of artifacts so popular In Curiosities and Texts Marjorie Swann demonstrates that collections of physical objects were central to early modern English literature and culture Swann examines the famous collection of rarities assembled by the Tradescant family the development of English natural history narrative catalogs of English landscape features that began to appear in the Tudor and Stuart periods the writings of Ben Jonson and Robert Herrick and the foundation of the British Museum Through this wide ranging series of case studies Swann addresses two important questions How was the collection which was understood as a form of cultural capital appropriated in early modern England to construct new social selves and modes of subjectivity And how did literary texts both as material objects and as vehicles of representation participate in the process of negotiating the cultural significance of collectors and collecting Crafting her unique argument with a balance of detail and insight Swann sheds new light on material culture s relationship to literature social authority and personal identity Envisioning the City David Buisseret,1998-07-06 Editor s NoteIntroduction by David Buisseret1 Mapping the Chinese City The Image and the Reality Nancy Shatzman Steinhardt2 Mapping the City Ptolemy s Geography in the Renaissance Naomi Miller3 Urbs and Civitas in Sixteenth and Seventeenth Century Spain Richard L Kagan4 Military Architecture and Cartography in the Design of the Early Modern City Martha Pollak5 Modeling Cities in Early Modern Europe David Buisseret6 The Plan of Chicago by Daniel H Burnham and Edward H Bennett Cartographic and Historical Perspectives Gerald A DanzerContributors Index Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved

The Geographic Revolution in Early America Martin Brückner,2012-12-01 The rapid rise in popularity of maps and geography handbooks in the eighteenth century ushered in a new geographic literacy among nonelite Americans In a pathbreaking and richly illustrated examination of this transformation Martin Br ckner argues that geographic literacy as it was played out in popular literary genres written for example by William Byrd George Washington Thomas Jefferson Royall Tyler Charles Brockden Brown Meriwether Lewis and William Clark significantly influenced the formation of identity in America from the 1680s to the 1820s Drawing on historical geography cartography literary history and material culture Br ckner recovers a vibrant culture of geography consisting of property plats and surveying manuals decorative wall maps and school geographies the nation s first atlases and sentimental objects such as needlework samplers By showing how this geographic revolution affected the production of literature Br ckner demonstrates that the internalization of geography as a kind of language helped shape the literary construction of the modern American subject Empirically rich and provocative in its readings The Geographic Revolution in Early America proposes a new geographical basis for Anglo Americans understanding of their character and its expression in pedagogical and literary terms
