Sustainable Rural Development Perspective and Global Challenges Orhan Özçatalbaş, 2023-03-29 Agriculture is vitally important to humanity Climate change environmental pollution global warming and the COVID 19 pandemic have highlighted the importance of food safety and food security This book discusses sustainable agriculture and its importance in combatting the adverse effects of climate change and meeting the world's food demand And essentially the technologies to be used for CE to prevent climate change should be common property of humanity This may be a new paradigm but the real issue is the future of the earth and ensuring the continuity of sustainable life It is a fact that the creation of such a culture of sharing will serve all the SDGs put forward by the UN Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Deryke Belshaw, the late Arthur Ian Livingstone, 2005-06-29 Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa reviews the debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development They lay the foundation for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country's constraints and opportunities The emphasis of the book is on the identification of effective strategies that will enable individual countries to most effectively exploit their growth opportunities and to meet poverty reducing and other key equity objectives Development Economics and Social Justice John Thoburn, 2017-11-28 Professor Ian Livingstone is one of a small group of British development economists who have achieved international renown and recognition The objective of this book is to pay tribute to his life's work particularly those aspects which related to key but challenging development issues These issues include at a broad level the understanding of the economic forces determining the development of low income economies more detailed micro work on agricultural development irrigation in particular decentralisation and local government finance small scale enterprises and large scale manufacturing development Themes running through his work relate to his over-riding concern for rigour and for socio-economic justice Ian Livingstone consistently used the traditional tools of economic analysis as a means to increase understanding of development issues in a way which was itself just as radical as the contributions of political scientists and sociologists This volume has been produced with similar aims Strategic Analysis and Knowledge Support Systems for Agriculture and Rural Development in Africa Michael Johnson, Kathleen Flaherty, 2010 Rural Livelihoods and Poverty Reduction Policies Frank Ellis, H. Ade Freeman, 2004-08-02 This important new collection of contributions brings together current thinking on poverty reduction and rural livelihoods in developing countries As well as leading economists in the field such as Frank Ellis and Chris Barrett there are a number of contributors from developing countries themselves The book examines both macroeconomic and microeconomic phenomena and contains wide range of case studies Skilfully exposing the gap that exists between the rhetoric of poverty reduction strategies in capital cities and the practice of public sector delivery in rural areas this key text will be essential reading for advanced students and researchers in the fields of rural development rural livelihoods poverty reduction strategies and Sub Saharan Africa development as well as advisors and practitioners in international organizations

Water Matters Abhijit Mukherjee, 2024-09-05 Water Matters Achieving the Sustainable Development Goals presents a compilation of water scenarios and their relationship to multiple facets of life as water forms a nexus with food security and energy resources thereby forming one of the fundamental pillars of sustainable development. The thematic topics focus on studies of achieving individual sustainable development goals primarily on safe and sustainable drinking water availability, the role of water in sanitation, transboundary water, and water in the ecosystem. Each chapter presents a case study to enable a holistic review of the topic and provide insight for further research. Water Matters Achieving the Sustainable Development Goals integrates the knowledge on global scale water reviews to local scale case studies ideal for hydrologists, hydrogeologists, and water managers in environmental and Earth sciences. Provides interdisciplinary content that bridges the knowledge from water availability to sustainability through reviews of current technologies for clean water and water security. Includes global and regional reviews and case studies building a bridge between broad reviews of water related issues by domain experts as well as detailed case studies. Identifies pathways for transforming water knowledge to achieve sustainable development goals to policy and governance of water, food, and energy security and sustainability. Rural Development Abstracts, 2011 From Conflict to Recovery in Africa Tony Addison, 2003-02-13 Revitalizing private sectors 4 Transforming states Conclusions For a list of contributions go to the full text area of this record Development Policy and Analysis S. I. Abumere, Adedoyin Soyibo, 2001 Population, Development, and the Environment Helen James, 2019-02-15 This book takes the reader into some of the most intransigent social, economic, and political issues that impact achieving sustainable development in Asia and the Pacific. Through meticulous analysis of the integrated relationships between population, development, and the environment, the chapters in this volume investigate the impacts of hydropower development on fragile ecosystems, mining, landslides, and environmental degradation, deforestation, water, and food security, rural-urban migration, poverty alleviation, civil society, and community empowerment, and how disaster recovery requires multi-scalar and multi-disciplinary approaches that take into account governance, culture, and leadership. Legal frameworks may be legislated but are often rarely implemented. The book will be valuable to students of sustainability, population, and development, and governmental policy advising sectors as well as the NGO and humanitarian sectors. The distinctive characteristic of this book is that it encapsulates an integrated multi-disciplinary focus which brings to the discussion both robust empirical research and challenging policy applications in the investigation of how the sustainable development goals may be achieved in Asia and the Pacific. Handbook of African Development Tony Binns, Kenneth Lynch, Etienne Nel, 2018-04-27 This handbook presents an extensive new overview of African development, past, present, and future. It addresses key core themes and topics that are pertinent to the continent's development, including sections on history, health, and food, politics, economics, rural and urban development, and development policy and practice. The volume draws on the expertise of over 60 of the world's leading scholars to provide a detailed and up to date analysis of the key opportunities and challenges that confront Africa and how such issues are being addressed. Arranged by key themes the handbook provides not only a historical understanding of the past but also political perspectives on the future. The chapters provide critically informed analyses of their topics by drawing upon the latest conceptual viewpoints and applied experiences in Africa in the form of case studies to offer a comprehensive examination of the opportunities, challenges, key debates and future prospects. This handbook is an invaluable state of the art overview and reference concerning many different aspects of Africa's development which will be of interest to academics in all fields of African studies and also academics and students working in cognate disciplines such as development studies, geography, history, politics and economics.

Livelihoods and Development, 2017-06-06. This book aims to further develop theory and practice on people-centred development in particular on the livelihood approach. It focuses on four contemporary thematic areas where progress has been booked but also contestation is still apparent: power relations, power struggles and underlying structures, livelihood trajectories and livelihood pathways, house, home and homeland in the context of violence and mobility and immobility. Contemporary livelihood studies aim to contribute to the understanding of poor people's lives with the ambition to enhance their livelihoods. Nowadays livelihood studies work from an holistic perspective on how the poor organize their livelihoods in order to understand their social exclusion and to contribute to interventions and policies that intend to countervail that. Contributors are Clare Collingwood, Esland Ine Cottyn, Jeanne de Bruijn, Leo de Haan, Charles do Rego, Benjamin Etzold, Urs Geiser, Jan Willem le Grand, Griet Steel, Paul van Lindert, Annelies Zoomers.

The Elgar Companion to Development Studies David Clark, 2006. If handbooks can be inspiring, this is it. Like a true companion, it takes in its stride conversations both big and small. Its entries do not just present an international and multidisciplinary mix but true to life, they work on several different scales. And importantly, the book makes its authority evident. For it is like an extended website but with all the added advantages of an encyclopaedia that actually tells you about the authors and the sources on which they have drawn. The resulting compilation is highly intelligent, thoughtful and above all usable.

Dame Marilyn Strathern, University of Cambridge, UK. The Elgar Companion to Development Studies is a major production in the development studies field, authored by a star-studded cast of contributors. With 136 entries covering a vast range of topics, it should quickly establish itself as a leading work of reference. We should all feel indebted to David Clark who has successfully brought this substantial publishing project to completion.

John Toye, University of Oxford, UK. This is a most comprehensive handbook on development studies. It brings together a wide varied array of carefully crafted summaries of 136 key topics in development by an international cast of well-respected academics and other experts in respective areas of study. The handbook is heavily interdisciplinary, organically combining economic, political, historical, social, cultural, institutional, ethical and human aspects of development. While the wide range of entries might appear as a simple glossary listing or an encyclopedic collection, each of the 136 entries offers more depth and discussion.

than the average handbook Viewed in this light this companion is highly likely to become known as a leading reference work on the topic Highly recommended Ismael Hossein Zadeh Choice The Elgar Companion to Development Studies is an innovative and unique reference book that includes original contributions covering development economics as well as development studies broadly defined This major new Companion brings together an international panel of experts from varying backgrounds who discuss theoretical ethical and practical issues relating to economic social cultural institutional political and human aspects of development in poor countries It also includes a selection of intellectual biographies of leading development thinkers While the Companion is organised along the lines of an encyclopaedia each of its 136 entries provide more depth and discussion than the average reference book Its entries are also extremely diverse they draw on different social science disciplines incorporate various mixes of theoretical and applied work embrace a variety of methodologies and represent different views of the world The Elgar Companion to Development Studies will therefore appeal to students scholars researchers policymakers and practitioners in the field of development as well as the interested layman

African Economic Development Steven Langdon, Archibald R.M. Ritter, Yiagadeesen Samy, 2018-03-05 Sub Saharan Africa is at a turning point The barriers to economic growth seen in the 1980 2000 era are disappearing and new optimism is spreading However difficult goals of eliminating poverty achieving equity and overcoming environmental threats continue This much needed and insightful textbook has been written to help us understand this combination of emerging improvements and significant challenges Opening with an analysis of the main theories relating to development in Sub Saharan Africa the book explores all the key issues including Human development Rapid urbanization Structural and gender dimensions Sustainable development and environmental issues and Africa's role in the world economy The authors use economic tools and concepts throughout in a way that makes them accessible to students without an economics background Readers are also aided by a wide range of case studies on the ground examples and statistical information which provide a detailed analysis of each topic This text is also accompanied by an e resource featuring additional sources for students and instructors African Economic Development is a clear and comprehensive textbook suitable for courses on African economic development development economics African studies and development studies

Bureaucratic Rivalry in Mangrove Forest Policy and Management Md. Faisal Abedin Khan, 2021-10-18 Since the Earth Summit of 1992 the concept of sustainable development has gained rapid interest in global policy debate which incurs effective policy solutions in any forest management Mangroves are coastal forests commonly found in the tropics and subtropics where they fulfil many necessary functions from the productive protective and social points of view A large number of multidisciplinary actors ranging from international to local level are actively engaged with perceived issues concentrated on mangrove forest policies irrespective of any geographical location Nonetheless given their financial technical and expertise related means the active actors are expected to have a considerable degree of conflicts and competition showing formal and informal influences over policy issues Moreover by allocating financial means and sub delegating authoritative power actors at multiple jurisdictions may gain power and serve interests in mangrove governance Hence the study attempts to describe and explain the bureaucratic rivalry among the actors in mangrove forest policy and management at the meta level In doing so the author employed the Sundarbans of Bangladesh the world s largest contiguous tract of mangrove forest as an illustrative case in policy formulation and implementation

Public Policy and Agricultural Development Ha-Joon Chang,2012-06-12 This book critically re examines a wide range of policy issues in agriculture including land knowledge credit and physical inputs policy presenting six detailed case studies from Latin America Africa and Asia with a detailed synthesis from the editor Ha Joon Chang Agricultural

Transformation in a Global History Perspective Ellen Hillbom,Patrick Svensson,2013 History teaches us that agricultural growth and development is necessary for achieving overall better living conditions in all societies Although this process may seem homogenous when looked at from the outside it is full of diversity within This book captures this diversity by presenting eleven independent case studies ranging over time and space By comparing outcomes attempts are made to draw general conclusion and lessons about the agricultural transformation process Trade, Development and Environment

Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee,2006-08-16 This report finds that Department for International Development DFID has the potential to take the lead internationally on integrating the environment into development the structures and links exist but there is still an under appreciation of the role of the environment in sustainable development The report sets out the background covering what poor people want the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment and Millennium Development Goals It then considers development aid and how it is changing Then the DFID s performance in integrating environment into development is critically examined Subjects covered include DFID policy water climate and energy agriculture growth environmental capacity environmental screening and the environment strategy The Committee notes the failure of the Department to develop a coherent approach on the ground as a damning review of country programmes has shown It also highlights many areas where policy is poorly drafted and implemented and where the Department s environmental expertise has been allowed to wither The recent White Paper Eliminating world poverty 2006 Cm 6876 ISBN 0101687621 is seen as a missed opportunity to make the environment as central to its work as the Department itself has made clear it should be

SMEs in Asian Developing Countries Tulus Tahi Hamonangan Tambunan,2009-08-28 Analyzing the development of small and medium enterprises SMEs in Asian developing countries the book is based on a survey of key literature and data on SMEs with the focus on recent development export performance main constraints competitiveness innovation and technology transfer and female entrepreneurs Seasonality, Rural Livelihoods and Development Stephen Devereux,Rachel Sabates-Wheeler,Richard Longhurst,2013-07-03 Seasonality is a severe constraint to sustainable rural livelihoods and a driver of poverty and hunger particularly in the tropics Many poor people in developing countries are ill equipped to cope with seasonal variations which can lead to drought or flood and consequences for agriculture employment food supply and the spread of disease The subject has assumed increasing importance as climate change and other forms of development disrupt established seasonal patterns and variations This book is the first systematic study of seasonality for over twenty years and it aims to revive academic interest and policy awareness of this crucial but neglected issue Thematic chapters explore recent shifts with profound implications for seasonality including climate change HIV AIDS and social protection Case study chapters explore seasonal dimensions of livelihoods in Africa Ethiopia Kenya Malawi Asia Bangladesh China India and Latin America Peru Others assess policy responses to adverse seasonality for example through irrigation migration and seasonally sensitive education The book also includes innovative tools for monitoring seasonality which should enable more appropriate responses
