Rural Enterprise Shifting Perspectives On Small Scale Production:

Rural Enterprise Sarah Whatmore, Philip Lowe, Terry Marsden, 2023-06-08 Originally published in 1991 the focus of the contributions in this book is the relationships between rurality and small scale production particularly in Europe This remains relevant as then as when the book was first published the issues covered had a particular resonance in the shifting terrain of Europe and the political debates surrounding its common future The contributors explore the diversity and significance of rural small scale production in different countries and the regional disciplinary theoretical discourses which inform research

Rural Enterprise Sarah Whatmore, Terry Marsden, Philip Lowe, 2017      Gender at the Border Janet Henshall

Momsen, 2018-01-18 Looking at two contrasting border regions one in western Hungary one in the east of the country this volume is the first to combine an examination of border related issues with gender and economic development By comparing and critically analyzing the relative levels of encouragement of entrepreneurial activities and gender differences it highlights the importance of borders within the changing European Union Despite the assumption that entrepreneurship would be strongest near the western border with Austria the findings show that on the contrary many women in western Hungary would rather avoid the risk of being self employed by getting well paid jobs in Austria or working for foreigners while in the east of the country entrepreneurship was often the only possible way of earning a living It also highlights the importance of setting up a business to the empowerment of women in both regions by giving them a bigger decision making role in the family

Contested Countryside Cultures Paul Cloke, Jo Little, 2005-08-12 This book examines the other side of the countryside a place also inhabited and visited by women children teenagers the elderly gay men and lesbians black and ethnic minorities the unemployed and the poor These groups have remained largely excluded by both rural policies and the representations of rural culture The book charts the experiences of these marginalised groups and sets this exploration within the context of postmodern poststructuralist postcolonial and late feminist analysis This theoretical framework reveals how notions of the rural have been created to reflect and reinforce divisions amongst those living in the countryside

Globalising Food David Goodman, Michael Watts, 2013-01-11 In an increasingly global world societies are being provisioned from a bewildering array of sources as new countries and new food commodities are drawn into international markets Globalising Food provides an innovative contribution to the area of political economy of agriculture food and consumption through a revealing investigation of the globalisation and restructuring of localised agricultural sectors and food systems The book draws on new theoretical perspectives and wide ranging case studies from Britain the USA India South Africa New Zealand and Latin America The key themes addresses range from giant multinational food corporations rural industrialisation and World Bank policies to the regulation of pollution labour relations urban food politics and environmental sustainability Globalising Food offers important insights into the problems consequences and limits of the industrialisation of agriculture and the provisioning of food in a global world as we approach the new millenium      Worlds

of Production Michael Storper, Robert Salais, 1997 Four basic frameworks or possible worlds of production are explored in this book These frameworks underpin the mobilization of economic resources the organization of product systems and forms of profitability Case studies examine how possible worlds support innovative production complexes

Environmental Conflict and Democracy in Canada Laurie E. Adkin, 2010-01-01 The urgent need to resolve conflicts over forests fisheries farming practices urban sprawl and greenhouse gas reductions among many others calls for a critical rethinking of the nature of our democracy and citizenship This work aims to move the ideas of green democracy and ecological citizenship from the margins to the centre of discussion and debate in Canada Environmental Conflict and Democracy in Canada offers sixteen case studies to demonstrate that environmental conflicts are always about our rights and responsibilities as citizens as well as the quality of our democratic institutions By bringing together environmental politics and democratic theory this path breaking collection charts a new course for research and activism one that reveals the deficits of citizenship and how democracy must be extended to achieve a socially just ecologically sustainable society
