Riad El-Ghonemy, 2009-12-16 What can we do to unlock the unrealised potential of the hundreds of millions of rural poor and landless workers The ever topical central theme in this collection of essays is the mixed role of government and the institutionally regulated market in tackling rural poverty and land distribution inequality Drawing on over half a century of M Riad El Ghonemy's academic and field experience in developing countries across Africa Latin America the Middle East and South East Asia this is a comprehensive record of the late twentieth century study of and struggle against rural inequality seen through the eyes of one of its foremost observers Containing a balance of in depth field studies and El Ghonemy's personal observations from 1952 onwards this volume provides the basis for discussion and debate on a range of developmental issues Foremost among these is the appropriate approach both to explain the factors underlying developing countries rural backwardness and to enable them to achieve the Millennium Development Goal of halving the incidence of poverty and hunger by 2015 The compelling argument made here is that redistributive land reform combined with non farm intensive employment opportunities and investment in education within rural areas are necessary to tackle
