Selected Papers On Refugee Issues 1992:

Selected Papers on Refugee Issues, 1996 Reconstructing Lives, Recapturing Meaning Linda A. Camino, Ruth M. Krulfeld, 2005-08-12 Reconstructing Lives Recapturing Meaning presents the first systematic investigation of refugees loss of their old identities and their efforts to construct new ones Edited by the Chair and Vice Chair of the Committee on Refugee Issues CORI of the American Anthropological Association it critically examines the interplay between cultural ethnic and gender constructions among resettled refugee populations Each chapter is grounded in anthropological theory and method and the book s framework demonstrates the relationship between the dynamics of forced migration and the ways in which ethnic and gender identities are reinvented in new socio cultural settings Unanimous in their perception of boundary maintenance as central to identity formation these essays allow readers to view refugee resettlement as a creative experimental process

Selected Papers on Refugee Issues 1992 Pamela A. DeVoe, 1992-01-01 Recognizing the importance of displaced persons moving across nation state lines in large cohesive family units has caught the attention of anthropologists and the Committee on Refuge Issues has sponsored and encouraged papers and sessions about these phenomena at the American Anthropological Association meetings To facilitate discussion about these topics the committee decided to select papers presented in the previous year into this volume Safe Haven?: A History of Refugees in America David W. Haines, 2012-03 The notion of America as land of refuge is vital to American civic consciousness yet over the past seventy years the country has had a complicated and sometimes erratic relationship with its refugee populations Attitudes and actions toward refugees from the government voluntary organizations and the general public have ranged from acceptance to rejection from well wrought program efforts to botched policy decisions Drawing on a wide range of contemporary and historical material and based on the author s three decade experience in refugee research and policy Safe Haven provides an integrated portrait of this crucial component of American immigration and of American engagement with the world Covering seven decades of immigration history Haines shows how refugees and their American hosts continue to struggle with national and ethnic identities and the effect this struggle has had on American institutions and attitudes

Power, Ethics, and Human Rights Ruth M. Krulfeld, Jeffery L. MacDonald, 1998-10-29 Refugees experience some of the most visible manifestations of human rights abuses in the world today and raise difficult issues for researchers and policy makers alike This book investigates a broad range of complexities that arise as ethnographers work with refugee populations from different geographic areas in research policy formation and legal and social assistance But the issues raised here have application to ethical concerns in ethnographic research and practice beyond refugees The contributors draw on their intensive fieldwork to explore issues surrounding power and disempowerment between researcher and subject dilemmas over the protection of research informants and the rights and actions of refugees in representing themselves and their cultures in advocacy and policy arenas The wealth of important insights in this book sharpen our understanding of the problems faced in any cross cultural research and intervention These explorations revitalize in vivid detail drawn from case studies recent theoretical debates on anthropology and ethnographic research while suggesting new empowering approaches to applied work and ethnographic study

The Invisible Citizens of Hong Kong Sophia Suk-mun Law, 2014-06-15 On May 3 1975 Hong Kong received its first cohort of 3 743 Vietnamese boatpeople The incident opened a 25 year history that belongs to a larger context of forced migration in modern social history By researching all possible textual material available the book provides a comprehensive review of the collective history of the Vietnamese boatpeople Moreover it intertwines historical archives with personal drawings created by the Vietnamese living in Hong Kong detention camps recapping a collective memory with its human face By interpreting and analyzing these drawings the author demonstrates the expressive and communicative power of imagery as a form of language and illustrates how art can tell a personal tragic story when language fails She unfolds the stories and artworks throughout the whole book with the hope that new insights and meanings can be attained through the conscious review and re interpretation of the past

Handbook of Clinical Nursing Research Ada Sue Hinshaw, Suzanne L. Feetham, Joan Shaver, 1999-06-18 This ambitious and long awaited volume brings together foremost nursing scholars researchers and educators to review and critique the state of research across areas most relevant to clinical practice The contributorship appears as a veritable who's who of nursing research and the contents comprise primary areas in the vanguard of nursing science In the first section the authors explore theoretical issues the variety of philosophical approaches to scientific inquiry in nursing factors shaping nursing research and the relationship of the philosophical perspectives to research methodologies In later sections the scientists review and analyze the state of nursing science in relation to community health practice strategies family care health promotion biobehavioral investigations women's health gerontologic nursing and health system perspectives and outcomes For physiological as well as psychological research the most relevant theories driving the research are presented along with the review of multiple diverse instruments and measurement issues Comprehensive in scope cogent and truly thought provoking a book such as the Handbook of Clinical Nursing Research arrives only once or twice in a career It is a must have shelf reference for every nurse and for those who would teach them

The Anthropology of Globalization Ted C. Lewellen, 2002-06-30 Lewellen gives us the first analytic overview of an important new subject area in a field that has long been identified with the study of relatively bounded communities Globalization refers to the increasing flows of trade finance culture ideas and people brought about by the sophisticated technology of communications and travel and by the worldwide spread of neoliberal capitalism Unlike dependency theory and world systems analysis which tended to assume a bird's eye perspective globalization offers a down and dirty ground up approach in which ethnographic research is not marginal but essential Through multiple examples selected from the latest ethnographic research from all over the world Lewellen examines the ways that globalization impacts migrants and stay at homes peasants and tribal peoples men and women A crucial theme is that the global local nexus is one of unpredictable interaction and creative adaptation not of top down determinism Theoretically globalization studies have become the focal point for the convergence of interpretive anthropology critical anthropology postmodernism and poststructuralism which are combined with a tough empiricism For the casual reader or the classroom this work draws together the ethnographic studies and cutting edge theories that comprise the anthropology of globalization

Transnational Aspects of Iu-Mien Refugee Identity Jeffery L. MacDonald, 1997 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company      Afrodescendant Resistance to Deracination in Colombia Aurora Vergara-Figueroa, 2017-10-26 This book provides a socio historical analysis of the 2002 massacre at Bellavista Bojay Choc Colombia The author examines how the concepts of forced displacement and migration could be formulas for historical erasure These concepts are used to name populations such as the survivors of this massacre and are limited in their ability to contribute to the demands for reparation of the affected populations Instead based on an ethnographic study of the pain and suffering generated in the survivors the book proposes the concept of deracination as a tool to study land dispossession It captures both the complex local specificities the global linkages of this phenomenon and the strategies of resistance used by the people of this community to channel what seems as an impossible mourning      Critical Issues in Qualitative Research Methods Janice M. Morse, 1994 Theoretically rich and stimulating Critical Issues in Qualitative Research Methods targets matters inherent in qualitative research It addresses some of the lesser known or explicated qualitative research methods such as ethology the essential concepts of rigor and evaluation dilemmas in data collection and issues of scientific misconduct The various schools of phenomenology and their major characteristics of excellence are described In addition ethical issues and concerns of scientific integrity are raised Which set of ethics should a researcher use Should one divulge their research purposes Are there potential risks to informants Each chapter in this volume deals with a matter that has not yet been resolved or addressed in existing literature The chapters begin with a joint dialogue in which the contributors raise questions and comment upon the concept presented thus giving a sense of the ongoing controversy these opinions engender Critical Issues in Qualitative Research Methods is important reading for advanced students and researchers in all disciplines especially nursing and allied health      Braving a New World Marycarol Hopkins, 1996-10-21 This ethnography based on a five year field study presents a holistic view of a nearly invisible ethnic minority in the urban Midwest Cambodian refugees Hopkins begins with a brief look at Cambodian history and the reign which led these farmers to flee their homeland and then presents an intimate portrait of ordinary family life and also of Buddhist ceremonial life The book details their struggles to adjust in the face of the many barriers presented by American urban life such as poverty dangerous neighborhoods and unemployment and also by the conflict between their particular needs and American institutions such as schools health care law and even the agencies intended to help them      Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph, Afsāna Naǧmābādī, 2003 Family Body Sexuality and Health is Volume III of the Encyclopedia of Women Islamic Cultures In almost

200 well written entries it covers the broad field of family body sexuality and health and Islamic cultures War and Migration Alessandro Monsutti,2005-06-10 Focusing on the case of the Hazaras a population from central Afghanistan this book shows how migration studies and transnationalism are at the heart of theoretical and methodological debates which animate anthropology Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1992 Childhood in South Asia Jyotsna Pattnaik,2006-01-01 The book has drawn an interdisciplinary pool of authors some of whom are natives of South Asian countries and others who have been involved extensively in the region through their affiliations with various international organizations The book represents children s issues in six South Asian countries India Afghanistan Pakistan Sri Lanka Nepal and Bangladesh The authors in the book critically examine issues facing children in South Asia reveal inadequacies of governmental policies and programs for children and offer vision for a better childhood for South Asia s children The United Nation s Convention on the Rights of the Child UNCRC serves as a framework for the book Special Issue Austin Sarat,2018-01-29 In this latest edition of this highly successful research series chapters explore expert witnessing in asylum cases Topics include judicial ethnocentrism political asylum race identity and cultural defense Engendering Forced Migration Doreen Marie Indra,1999 As the millennium approaches war political oppression desperate poverty environmental degradation and disasters are increasing the world s millions of forced immigrants This text provides gendered case studies from around the world Applied Anthropology Satish Kedia,John van Willigen,2005-10-30 Applied Anthropology Domains of Application edited by Satish Kedia and John van Willigen comprises essays by prominent scholars on the potential accomplishments and methods of applied anthropology Domains covered in the volume include development agriculture environment health and medicine nutrition population displacement and resettlement business and industry education and aging The contributors demonstrate in compelling ways how anthropological knowledge skills and methodologies can be put to work in addressing social economic health and technical problems facing societies today With their genuine commitment to protecting the diversity and vitality of human communities applied anthropologists working in real life settings have and will continue to have a lasting impact on people around the world The editors enrich the volume by providing introductory and concluding chapters that offer a detailed historical context for applied anthropology and an exploration of its future directions Ethnocide: A Cultural Narrative of Refugee Detention in Hong Kong Joe Thomas,2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 An ethnographic inquiry into the socio cultural dynamics of the Vietnamese asylum seeker detention centres in Hong Kong during the period of 1988 1995 It deals essentially with the British asylum policy towards Vietnamese refugees and its outcome in Hong Kong Based on the author s first hand experience of working in refugee camps this book argues that the administrators managed to solve the crisis by perpetuating horrendous human rights violations and subsequent ethnocide of the asylum seekers trapped in the detention centres
