Autonomy and Foreign Language Learning in a Virtual Learning Environment Miranda Hamilton, 2013-06-13 Digitalised learning with its promise of autonomy enhanced learner choice independence and freedom is an intuitive and appealing construct but closer examination reveals it to be a rather simplistic proposition raising the following questions What do we mean by autonomy What are we implying about the role of the teacher the classroom and interaction between learners What do we understand about the impact of technology on the ecology of the learning environment This book describes the use of a Virtual Learning Environment VLE by a group of advanced English language learners in Mexico comparing what students thought and what they did in response to the technology The theoretical aim of the book is to work towards the construction of a theory of the development of autonomy and virtual learning in an EFL context Enhanced understanding about the relationship between autonomy and technology has the potential to inform academics software designers materials writers teacher educators and teachers and to help learners in their quest to acquire a foreign language Training Learners for Self-instruction María Fernández-Toro, 1999 This book presents practical solutions for teaching foreign language learners self instruction ranging from needs analysis to resourcing strategy training and monitoring tools Special emphasis is placed on different ways in which learners can be supported by learning how to analyze their own needs and set their own goals how to choose the most effective means to reach those goals and how to monitor their own progress Chapter titles include the following What is a Learner Training Programme Aids for Goal Setting Providing Learning Resources Helping Learners Monitor Their Own Progress The Learners Response Controlling Standards A Few Questions for Future Development Preferences and Photocopiable Appendices The references chapter is an annotated list of resources in print and electronic form Contains 31 references KFT Autonomy and Independence in Language Learning Phil Benson, Peter Voller, 2014-06-06 The topics of autonomy and independence play an increasingly important role in language education They raise issues such as learners responsibility for their own learning and their right to determine the direction of their own learning the skills which can be learned and applied in self directed learning and capacity for independent learning and the extents to which this can be suppressed by institutional education This volume offers new insights into the principles of autonomy and independence and the practices associated with them focusing on the area of EFL teaching The editors introduction provides the context and outlines the main issues involved in autonomy and independence Later chapters discuss the social and political implications of autonomy and independence and their effects on educational structures The consequences for the design of learner centred materials and methods is discussed together with an exploration of the practical ways of implementing autonomy and independence in language teaching and learning Each section of the book opens with an introduction to give structure to the development of ideas and themes with synopses to highlight salient features in the text and help build upon the material of previous chapters ICT and Language Learning: a European Perspective Angela Chambers, Graham Davies, 2001-01-01 A discussion of Information and Communications Technologies ICT and language learning aimed at researchers and practitioners in the field It deals with developments in Europe with the majority of the chapters focusing on the results of collaborative international projects A STUDY ON EFFECTIVENESS OF PROGRAMMED INSTRUCTION AS AN INSTRUCTIONAL STRATEGY IN SOCIAL STUDIES Dr. Ramesh Siddappa K., Media in Foreign Language Teaching and Learning Wai Meng Chan, Kwee Nyet Chin, Masanori Nagami, Titima Suthiwan, 2011-10-27 While educators and educational psychologists debate the influence of media on learning there can be little doubt that media is now an integral constituent of any educational context In particular computer and internet media with their immense processing power and multimedia capabilities can have significant bearing on learning processes and outcomes in today s learning environment Such media which are increasingly designed to be highly interactive and adaptable can enable reflective productive and communicative activities and have much potential for foreign language learning The book contains 16 papers which look at different forms of media and explore how these affect or can be used effectively in foreign language education The first of three parts focuses on important theoretical and pedagogical issues in selecting and using media In the second part insightful empirical research findings are presented on the contributions of different forms of media in language teaching and learning including their effect on learners learning motivation The third and concluding part of the book provides in depth accounts of how media can be harnessed to drive innovative curricular practice as well as students evaluations of these curricular projects

Digital Genres, New Literacies and Autonomy in Language Learning María José Luzón, M^a Noelia Ruiz-Madrid, María Luisa Villanueva, 2010-07-12 The exponential growth in the amount and complexity of information transmitted and shared on the Internet and the capabilities afforded by new information technologies result in the continuous emergence of new genres and new literacy practices that call for new models of genre analysis and new approaches to teaching literacy and language where language learning autonomy has to take centre stage Any pedagogical approach which seeks to develop autonomy in online language learning should also be concerned with the development of new literacies with raising an awareness of digital texts and with the cognitive processes learners engage in when constructing meaning in hypertext The purpose of this volume is to lay the foundations for an approach to online language learning which draws on the analysis of digital texts and of the practices and strategies involved in using such texts With this aim in mind this book incorporates and draws relations between research on digital genres autonomy electronic literacies and language learning tasks combining theoretical reflections with pedagogical research The chapters in this volume written by researchers from different academic traditions report research concerning digital genres new literacy skills and the design of webtasks for effective language learning These chapters will be useful resources for researchers and doctoral students interested in the development of autonomous language learning in digital environments

Motivation to Learn Multiple Languages in Japan
Chika Takahashi, 2022-11-22 This book provides rare insights into motivation among extremely successful learners of English and languages other than English LOTE through the analysis of a longitudinal study and the examination of the factors involved in becoming multilingual in a non multilingual environment Based on sixteen interview sessions conducted over the course of nine years while the learners progressed from high school to the world of work this book offers the story of how two learners persist in English LOTE learning The study illuminates the long term processes through which the interviewees develop ideal English LOTE selves in an environment where multilingualism is not emphasized and where both English and LOTE can still be described as foreign languages Educators and researchers will learn from this study which stretches our understanding of motivation beyond the recent theorizing of L2 motivation and contributes to the limited research in long term motivational trajectories and LOTE learning motivation which is particularly scarce in non European contexts The book will be of interest not only to readers in Japan but also to those in other contexts as it offers an example of successful learners who go beyond the pragmatic and instrumentalist view of language learning to hold a more holistic view thus revealing the factors which can sustain multiple language learning even in foreign language contexts
