Freedheim,2003 Includes established theories and cutting edge developments Presents the work of an international group of experts Presents the nature origin implications an future course of major unresolved issues in the area Self-worth and School Learning Martin V. Covington,Richard G. Beery,1976 Pastoral Education Mary Gurney,2000 Pastoral Education is a photocopiable resource that covers four main themes personal management health and safety personal relationships social awareness It addresses spiritual moral and cultural duty EdPsych Modules Cheryl Cisero Durwin,Marla Reese-Weber,2024-12-16 EdPsych Modules uses an innovative modular approach integrating case studies drawn from real life classroom situations to address the challenge of effectively connecting theory and research to practice The Fifth Edition includes thorough coverage of the latest developments in education such as artificial intelligence virtual reality the latest neuroscience research and updated coverage of disabilities Learning and Teaching Anne Watkinson,2013-04-03 Learning and Teaching concentrates on the practical teaching skills that an HLTA needs to be able to use in the classroom It offers guidance and support on fulfilling the standards and succeeding in the classroom role This book includes real life case studies that put the theory behind the standards into a whole school context practical activities that convey how the standards can be used in the classroom guidance on the school based aspects of the training and assessment advice on the difference between the learning and teaching standards for newly qualified teachers and HLTAs This book is complemented by a companion volume Professional Values and Practice which underpins the philosophy values and practice of support at this level Making the Grade Martin V. Covington,1992-04-24 Achievement behaviour in schools can best be understood in terms of attempts by students to maintain a positive self image For many students trying hard is frightening because a combination of effort and failure implies low ability which is often equated with worthlessness Thus many students described as unmotivated are in actuality highly motivated not to learn but to avoid failure Students have a variety of techniques for avoiding failure ranging from cheating to setting low goals which are easily achieved In Making the Grade Martin Covington extracts powerful educational implications from self worth theory and other contemporary views of motivation that will be useful for everyone concerned with the educational dilemmas we face He provides a comprehensive insightful review of research and theory both contemporary and historical on the topic of achievement motivation and arranges this knowledge in ways that lead to imminently practical recommendations for restructuring schools

Self-Esteem in Children with Special Educational Needs Peter W. Gurney,2018-09-03 First published in 1988 The mounting concern in schools over widespread failure in academic achievement greater disaffection in children and the lack of confidence in many school leavers are highlighted by the difficulties experienced by children who have special educational needs Within this group the importance of the child s evaluation of him or herself i e self esteem is a neglected issue This book investigates how the level of self esteem appears to influence social behaviour and school performance in children with special educational needs It discusses the practical steps that can be taken to assess and enhance self esteem in children with special needs and evaluates their effectiveness The author emphasises the discrepancy between the performance of children who have special educational needs in ordinary classrooms with that achieved in special settings He argues that the negative impact on a child s self esteem created by placing him her in an ordinary classroom may outweigh the benefits of greater integration A full and informative treatment of both the theoretical and practical implications of a neglected subject this text book is suitable for experienced special educational needs teachers and those undergoing teacher training as well as psychologists with an academic interest in the self concept or a professional involvement in assessing children

Individual Learners W. Ray Crozier, 2013-04-03 No two learners are the same They take different approaches to learning tasks and they respond to formal education in different ways Yet the current emphasis in education is on what is common to learners from a common curriculum to a common teaching method Individual Learners reviews and discusses recent research that shows that differences in personality contribute significantly to children s and adults experiences of success and failure in education Individual Learners considers fundamental issues in the study of personality and provides an up to date review and evaluation of the continuing nature nurture debate It then examines five traits that can have an impact upon learning aggressiveness anxiety achievement motivation self confidence and shyness The book provides an accessible account of the recent research into the links between personality and education and its implications for educational practice It will be invaluable to anyone with an interest in education whether students teachers or lecturers

The Will to Learn Martin V. Covington, 1998 This book introduces the basic principles of motivation as they apply to classroom learning and management in a readable non technical form Covington argues against the popular notion that the problems existing in schools today stem primarily from a lack of student motivation Instead he asserts that students are motivated sometimes even overly motivated but often for the wrong reasons Traditional teaching methods including conventional grading procedures and an emphasis on competition can contribute to student demoralization and Covington identifies the ways in which students respond to misguided incentives For some students motivation is directed at avoiding failure by avoiding participation For others demoralization leads to withdrawal from an educational system that they believe to be irrelevant to their lives Still other students are driven to prove their worth by outperforming fellow students The book suggests practical concrete ways that teachers can use classroom incentives to inspire a desire to learn

Equitable and Inclusive School Education Bharti Kaushik, 2024-12-31 This book highlights the strategies and approaches to the practice of equitable and inclusive school education elaborating the role of various stakeholders such as teachers special educators parents peers teacher educators educational administrators and Ed tech firms The aim of this book is to create an understanding of equitable and inclusive school education which is not restricted to children with disabilities but also
