paintings of all living species by Australian natural history artist Lindsay Marshall compiled as part of a multinational research initiative the Chondrichthyan Tree of Life Project Images sourced from around the planet were used by the artist to illustrate the fauna This comprehensive overview of the world's ray fauna summarises information such as general identifying features and distributional information about these iconic but surprisingly poorly known fishes It will enable readers to gain a better understanding of the rich diversity of rays and promote wider public interest in the group Rays of the World is an ideal reference for a wide range of readers including conservationists fishery managers scientists fishers divers students and book collectors Sharks in Danger Rachel Cunningham-Day, 2001 This book reviews the current status of and threats to shark populations globally with special reference to the basking shark and the great white shark This book outlines why sharks are a valuable resource identifies threats to sharks and where they occur and reviews what we need to know about sharks in order to protect them Fisheries management procedures are investigated to target areas requiring future research and implementation Conservation initiatives legislation and international agreements are reviewed and future measures suggested Case histories on the basking shark and the great white shark detail threats specific to these species and identify research and management requirements Sharks of the Genus *Carcharhinus J. A. F. Garrick, 1982

Biology of Sharks and Their Relatives Jeffrey C. Carrier, John A. Musick, Michael R. Heithaus, 2012-04-09 Virtually every area of research associated with sharks and their relatives has been strongly impacted by the revolutionary growth in technology The questions we can now ask are very different than those reported even two decades ago Modern immunological and genetic techniques satellite telemetry and archival tagging modern phylogenetic analysis Legislative Synopsis and Digest Illinois. General Assembly. Legislative Reference Bureau, 1921 Biology of Skates David A. Ebert, James Sulikowski, 2008-12-25 Skates have become a concern in recent years due to the preponderance of these elasmobranchs that are caught as bycatch or as a directed fishery This has raised concern because skates have life history characteristics that may make them vulnerable to over exploitation It was due to this concern that prompted Drs David Ebert and James Sulikowski to organize an international symposium on the Biology of Skates The aims and goals of the symposium were to bring together an international group of researchers to meet discuss perhaps develop collaborations and present their most recent findings The symposium was held over two days on 13-14 July 2006 in conjunction with the 22nd annual meeting of the American Elasmobranch Society in New Orleans LA A total of 31 authors from four countries contributed 16 papers that appear in this volume The papers are broadly arranged into four separate categories systematics and biogeography diet and feeding ecology reproductive biology and age and growth This is the first dedicated book on the biology of skates We hope that readers will find this volume of interest and that it helps encourage and stimulate future research into these fascinating fishes
