Long Wave Rhythms In Economic Development And Political Behavior:

Long-Wave Rhythms in Economic Development and Political Behavior Brian J. L. Berry, 1991 Is economic development a random walk or do underlying rhythms and cycles make it possible to anticipate long term trends Many social scientists have rejected the notion of long term periodicity in economic trends Now after extensive analysis of economic data distinguished scholar Brian J L Berry has found new evidence for the reliability and the value of long wave theory In Long Wave Rhythms in Economic Development and Political Behavior Berry argues that the synchronization of long waves and growth cycles is more than a figment of some overactive imagination Presenting his findings graphically he argues that there is persuasive evidence of the existence of deterministic chaos Applying his analysis of rates of change to the economic phenomena of prices Kondratiev cycles and growth Kuznets cycles he discovers that pairs of 25 year growth cycles are embedded within 55 year long waves As a result Berry concludes two different kinds of growth cycles one inflationary and the other deflationary form a complementary pattern of alternating crises with stagflation and depression Berry also explores the shifting sand of cyclical phenomena in the stock market voting behavior the incidence of wars the rise and fall of great powers and mass psychologies While avoiding dogmatic conclusions he offers a provocative discussion of the long wave context of social phenomena As he examines the American economy in long wave context Berry optimistically asserts that the bust is not inevitable Technological advances in information transfer enable leaders and organizations to anticipate and alleviate the adverse effects of economic cycles Like it or not he writes our lives appear to be embedded in a higher order of complexity collectively we are a societal organism that displays self regulating fluctuations around a path of growth

Long Waves of Growth, Hegemonic Power, and Climate Change in the World Economy Phillip Anthony O'Hara, 2025-10-02 This book investigates eras of major geopolitical and socioeconomic power development relative demise and potential renewal for four major political economies It concentrates on the Dutch Golden Age of the late 1500s and 1600s British hegemony of the 1800s Pax Americana of the 1900s and Chinese potential hegemony of the 2000s as well as long wave patterns of change over successive centuries to the present and to some degree into the future Dutch British US and Chinese economies are situated within patterns of long term successive rise and fall and fall and rise of economic growth hegemony and climate change in the world political economy including linkages between core periphery and semi periphery Patterns of multiple crises tend to appear in between hegemonic periods and climate change often undergoes complex dynamics through time while currently climate anomalies are emerging during mostly long wave downswings and polycrises in the world economy Contemporary themes of the book include the ongoing competition for world domination between the US and China the conflict over Ukraine Taiwan that some think may generate world war 3 the climate change crisis that continues to plague the world and whether the world and its major economies are likely to undergo a Golden Age into the future Chapter 7 of this book on US hegemony and long waves includes extracts of material that won the Myrdal Prize for Book of the Year Prize from

EAEPE as well as Journal Article of the Year from Curtin Business School Ideas from parts of Chapter 9 emanate from a volume that won Book of the Year Award from CBS A climate change paper that won Journal Article of the Year Awards from EAEPE and CBS informed ideas that are used in several parts of this book The book outlines key stylized facts from the analysis and presents hypotheses for further investigation on the relationship between long term growth hegemony and climate change The book uses the work of Kondratiev Schumpeter and company themes in economic history modern political economy schools and the principles of political economy contingency paradigm to reformulate long wave hegemony and climate change hypotheses and empirics

The Dog Bone Portfolio Margret Kopala, John Budden, 2015-06-01 Like so many of us Margret Kopala lost a significant portion of her life savings in the stock market crash of 2008 Unlike us however she went on a long and intense financial odyssey to find out what caused the losses and what she could do to protect herself in the future Armed with her skills as a journalist and public policy analyst fueled by equal measures of fear and determination and mentored by successful investment strategist and financial broadcaster John Budden Kopala researched and wrote this magisterial analysis of how Russian economist Nikolai Kondratieff's long wave theory is playing out in what many today describe as a financial Winter Along the way she is introduced to financial experts familiar with Kondratieff scholarship John Budden's interviews in the book with Dean LeBaron J Anthony Boeckh Ian Gordon Larry Jeddelloh Don Lindsey the late Lord William Rees Mogg Jim Rogers Eric Sprott and Ronald Peter St ferle show how investors must put a new spin on asset allocation and security of their assets like a dog that buries bones in different places we would be advised to allocate our assets to different parts of the world and to ensure that a good portion of those assets include gold the only continuous basis of wealth across history and around the world Kopala explores the global national and personal effects of overconsumption underproduction energy and innovation the printing of money to save the economy competitive devaluations deflation reflation and inflation and war the ultimate economic crisis She documents those technologies that seeded previous New Economy Spring seasons from the era of canals to those of railroads automobiles and infotech and probes today's innovations most likely to seed the Next New Economy that we desperately need if we are to escape the doldrums of the current financial Winter With trenchant explanations of how individuals can achieve portfolio strength by first preserving capital then being vigilant about the financial effects of politics economic theory culture and our own choices The Dog Bone Portfolio is a gift to investors policy makers and ultimately nations everywhere

Upwave John Montgomery, 2016-02-17 Countering the many claims that the best days of capitalism are over following the economic meltdown of 2008 onwards this book provocatively argues that a new golden age of capitalism or upwave began around 2002 and despite the unstable markets in the western world of the past few years this upwave will produce previously unseen levels of wealth creation during the next twenty years Basing this theory on the commercialisation of new technologies and the growth of new markets the author claims that these positive trends are key to economic recovery in the US UK and Europe It argues that the most serious problem facing some countries in the west is government debt and that macroeconomic policy is of limited use in flexible and adaptive economies where innovation entrepreneurship and private investment should be encouraged in a range of cities and city regions This highly original book will interest those concerned with national economies nation states and urban policy The Waves of Time K. R. Dark, 2016-10-06 Since the end of the Cold War analysts of international politics have given much greater attention to issues of change It has become increasingly clear to specialists from many fields that any understanding of large scale political change must encompass far longer timescales than has been usual in the study of world politics and must incorporate multi disciplinary perspectives This book evaluates and draws on relevant theoretical approaches from other disciplines such as sociology economics geography history anthropology and archaeology as well as evolutionary theory and the mathematical study of complexity Using an epistemological framework Dark sets out a theory of long term world political change the theory of Macrodynamics This is then applied to historical anthropological and archaeological data to explain the changing forms of political organization from the earliest human societies to the late twentieth century The resulting analysis is a reinterpretation of the processes of global political change in the past and present This in turn opens new areas of enquiry in the study of international relations and has profound implications for how we understand the changing world of today Innovative Behaviour in Space and Time Cristoforo S. Bertuglia, Silvana Lombardo, Peter Nijkamp, 2012-12-06 In the past decade there has been growing recognition that economic development is not mainly exogenously determined but to a large extent is a transformation process induced and governed by economic actors who respond to competitive institutional and political challenge This challenge and response model is increasingly accepted as a valid analytical framework in modern growth theory and also explains the popularity of endogenous growth approaches to technological innovation issues However a major and as yet largely under researched topic is the question of the diffusion and adoption of new technological changes in the context of space time dynamics This diffusion and adoption pattern has obviously clear spatial and temporal variations connected with behavioural responses which may vary over time and different locations This means that a closer analysis of spatio temporal opportunities and impediments is necessary in order to fully map the complex interactions of technology and economy in space and time This volume sets out to bring together a collection of original contributions commissioned by the editors to highlight the spatio temporal patterns and backgrounds of the diffusion and adoption of new technologies Some are in the nature of a survey others have a modelling background and again others are case studies The contributions originate from different countries and different disciplines This book is complementary to a previously published volume on technological innovation Technological Change Economic Development and Space edited by C S Bertuglia M M Fischer and G Preto and also published by Springer Verlag 1995 Selling Your Business Louis P. Crosier, 2004-06-02 Twenty three top advisors from leading firms show entrepreneurs how to transition their business The Entrepreneur s Transition provides an all in one handbook for entrepreneurs and corporate insiders seeking advice on their personal financial planning prior to selling or taking a business public It provides a concise easy to read blueprint that can help business leaders navigate before and after a transaction so they are well positioned and can avoid costly mistakes The Entrepreneur's Transition is organized chronologically beginning with the issues a business owner should be concerned with prior to a transaction It then moves step by step through the transaction process and into post transaction diversification reinvestment and philanthropy Louis Crosier Boston MA is a principal at Windward Investment Management and serves as a member of Windward's Investment Committee His responsibilities include managing client portfolios and overseeing the firm's investment consulting practice

Globalization as Evolutionary Process George Modelski, Tessaleno Devezas, William R. Thompson, 2007-12-20 The term globalization has gained widespread popularity yet most treatments are either descriptive and or focused on changes in economic interconnectivity In this volume the concept is seen in broader terms as leading international experts from a range of disciplines develop a long term analysis to address the problems of globalization The editors and contributors develop a framework for understanding the origins and trajectory of contemporary world trends constructing testable and verifiable models of globalization They demonstrate how the evolutionary approach allows us to view globalization as an enterprise of the human species as a whole focusing on the analytical problem of global change and the rules governing those changes The emphasis is not on broad based accounts of the course of world affairs but selectively on processes that reshape the social of the human species the making of world opinion and the innovations that animate these developments Chapters are clustered into four foci One emphasizes the interpretation of globalization as an explicitly evolutionary process A second looks at historical sequences of such phenomena as population growth or imperial rise and decline as processes that can be modeled and not purely described The third cluster examines ongoing changes in economic processes especially information technology A final cluster takes on some of the challenges associated with forecasting and simulating the complexities of globalization processes This innovative and important volume will be of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences concerned with the phenomenon of globalization

The Elgar Companion to Urban Infrastructure Governance Finger, Matthias, Yanar, Numan, 2022-04-22 A comprehensive overview of the governance of urban infrastructures this Companion combines illustrative cases with conceptual approaches to offer an innovative perspective on the governance of large urban infrastructure systems Chapters examine the challenges facing urban infrastructure systems including financial economic technological social ecological jurisdictional and demand

The Great Powers and Global Struggle, 1490-1990 Karen A. Rasler, William R. Thompson, 2021-10-21 In The Great Powers and Global Struggle Karen A Rasler and William R Thompson focus on two themes the rise and fall as well as the relative decline of major world powers over the past five hundred years and the way in which these processes have set the stage for the outbreak of global war Their interdisciplinary approach encompasses political science economics sociology geography and history The most significant wars occur when regional leaders historically in Western Europe challenge global leaders By studying the wars of Napoleon Louis XIV Phillip II and the Italian Indian Ocean wars of the sixteenth century through World Wars I and II to the present the authors challenge the long held idea that prosperity leads to over consumption and underinvestment and thus decline a theory traceable to ancient times that remains the principal explanation for global decline today Arguments about global structural change and its implications abound but rarely is the abstract translated into concrete historical terms with emphases on specific actors and empirical documentation Rasler and Thompson reinterpret the past five hundred years of major power warfare and provide extensive tests of the eighteen generalizations critical to their argument They conclude that those who argue that global war and repositioning are no longer a concern among the major powers lack critical understanding of the behavior that contributes to such conflict
