Lost Empires Living Tribes:

Lost Empires, Living Tribes National Geographic Book Service, 1982 Donated John Lloyd Stephens and Frederick Catherwood Peter O. Koch, 2013-01-16 Daring exploits and astounding achievements were common for two 19th century adventurers John Lloyd Stephens a New York lawyer and best selling author and Frederick Catherwood a London architect and renowned topographical artist Separately these explorers covered much of the same ground touring Italy Greece Egypt Arabia and the Holy Land in search of ancient sites that were of historical significance Jointly these adventurers endured many life threatening obstacles in a determined effort that led to the discovery of nearly fifty forgotten Mayan cities buried deep in the jungles of Central America and Mexico The vivid accounts penned by Stephens coupled with the magnificent drawings of ruins by Catherwood brought back to life a vanished civilization that both considered equal to the greatness of ancient Egypt Greece and Rome The story concludes with the premature and tragic deaths of the two

Eldorado and the Quest for Fortune and Glory in South America Peter O. Koch, 2021-07-05 This book traces the origin of the legend of El Dorado and the various expeditions that set out to locate that mysterious land of untold wealth in South America Motivated by both fanciful rumors of a golden city ruled by a man who coated himself daily with gold dust and the more practical allure of a region abundant in cinnamon trees a spice that was worth its weight in gold to Europeans many conquistadors convinced themselves that another native empire awaited their conquest These quests for fortune and glory would lead to an encounter with fierce female warriors who were believed to be the Amazons of ancient Greek lore and the discovery of the mighty river later named for the legendary Amazon tribe The first half of this book details the lesser known accounts of German interest in locating the wealth of a golden kingdom called Xerira and an elusive passage at Venezuela's Lake Maracaibo which supposedly led to the Pacific Ocean The second section focuses on the various Spanish efforts to discover El Dorado each of which was eventually doomed to despair disappointment

Pathways to Public Relations Burton St. John III, Margot Opdycke Lamme, Jacquie L'Etang, 2014-04-24 Over the centuries scholars have studied how individuals institutions and groups have used various rhetorical stances to persuade others to pay attention to believe in and adopt a course of action The emergence of public relations as an identifiable and discrete occupation in the early 20th century led scholars to describe this new iteration of persuasion as a unique more systematized and technical form of wielding influence resulting in an overemphasis on practice frequently couched within an American historical context This volume responds to such approaches by expanding the framework for understanding public relations history investigating broad conceptual questions concerning the ways in which public relations rose as a practice and a field within different cultures and countries at different times in history With its unique cultural and contextual emphasis Pathways to Public Relations shifts the paradigm of public relations history away from traditional methodologies and assumptions and provides a new and unique entry point into this complicated arena
