Davis, 2001-01-01 It is the greatest environmental challenge of the 21st Century But what do we truly know about global climate change And what can we do about it Most of the world's top scientists agree that emissions of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases from human activities such as industrial processes fossil fuel combustion and land use changes are causing the earth to get warmer Impacts of this warming may include damage to our coastal areas accelerated rates of species loss altered agricultural patterns and increased incidences of infectious diseases The effects of climate change and efforts to mitigate climate change could also have substantial economic ramifications The book presents the latest research and analysis from prominent scientists economists academics and policy makers including Tom Wigley and Joel Smith who along with other authors of the Science and Impacts chapter explain the basic science of climate change the growing evidence that human activities are changing our climate and the impacts of these changes Eileen Claussen John Gummer Henry Lee and other authors of the Global Strategies chapter who describe what nations are or are not doing to address climate change and the state of international climate talks Robert Stavins John Weyant Ev Ehrlich and other economists who explain why economic analyses of climate policy are conducted why the projected costs of addressing climate change vary so widely among economic models and how changes driven by today's economy can influence climate policy Gov Jean Shaheen and other authors of the Innovative Solutions chapter who describe what state and local governments in the United States and multinational companies are doing to monitor and curb greenhouse gas emissions and Forest Reinhardt who offers business leaders advice on steering their companies on a path that is healthy for business as well as the global climate This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details Engineering Record, Building Record and Sanitary Engineer, 1899 The Engineering Record, Building Record and the Sanitary Engineer, 1905 Circuits Fawwaz Tayssir Ulaby, Michel M. Maharbiz, 2010 Radiating Nonuniform Transmission-Line Systems and the Partial Element Equivalent Circuit Method Prof. Dr. Juergen Nitsch, Dr. Frank Gronwald, Prof. Dr. Gunter Wollenberg, 2009-10-29 High frequencies of densely packed modern electronic equipment turn even the smallest piece of wire into a transmission line with signal retardation dispersion attenuation and distortion In electromagnetic environments with high power microwave or ultra wideband sources transmission lines pick up noise currents generated by external electromagnetic fields These are superimposed on essential signals the lines acting not only as receiving antennas but radiating parts of the signal energy into the environment This book is outstanding in its originality While many textbooks rephrase that which has been written before this book features an accessible introduction to the fundamentals of electromagnetics an explanation of the newest developments in transmission line theory featuring the transmission line super theory developed by the authors a unique exposition of the increasingly popular PEEC partial element equivalent circuit method including recent research results Both the Transmission Line Theory and the PEEC method are well suited to combine linear structures with circuit networks For engineers researchers and graduate students this text broadens insight into the basics of electrical engineering It provides a deeper understanding of Maxwellian circuit like representations of multi conductor transmission lines justifies future research in this field Federal Decisions ,1884
