Luce His Time Life And Fortune:

The Publisher Alan Brinkley, 2010-04-20 Acclaimed historian Alan Brinkley gives us a sharply realized portrait of Henry Luce arguably the most important publisher of the twentieth century As the founder of Time Fortune and Life magazines Luce changed the way we consume news and the way we understand our world Born the son of missionaries Henry Luce spent his childhood in rural China yet he glimpsed a milieu of power altogether different at Hotchkiss and later at Yale While working at a Baltimore newspaper he and Brit Hadden conceived the idea of Time a news magazine that would condense the week's events in a format accessible to increasingly busy members of the middle class They launched it in 1923 and young Luce quickly became a publishing titan In 1936 after Time's unexpected success and Hadden's early death Luce published the first issue of Life to which millions soon subscribed Brinkley shows how Luce reinvented the magazine industry in just a decade The appeal of Life seemingly cut across the lines of race class and gender Luce himself wielded influence hitherto unknown among journalists By the early 1940s he had come to see his magazines as vehicles to advocate for America's involvement in the escalating international crisis in the process popularizing the phrase World War II In spite of Luce's great success happiness eluded him His second marriage to the glamorous playwright politician and diplomat Clare Boothe was a shambles Luce spent his later years in isolation consumed at times with conspiracy theories and peculiar vendettas The Publisher tells a great American story of spectacular achievement yet it never loses sight of the public and private costs at which that achievement came

Burroughs Unbound S. E. Gontarski, 2021-11-18 In addition to contributing significantly to the growing field of Burroughs scholarship Burroughs Unbound also directly engages with the growing fields of textual studies archival research and genetic criticism asking crucial questions thereby about the nature of archives and their relationship to a writer's work These questions about the archive concern not only the literary medium In the 1960s and 1970s Burroughs collaborated with filmmakers sound technicians and musicians who helped re contextualized his writings in other media Burroughs Unbound examines these collaborations and explores how such multiple authorship complicates the authority of the archive as a final or complete repository of an author's work It takes Burroughs seriously as a radical theorist and practitioner who critiqued drug laws sexual practice censorship and what we today call a society of control More broadly his work continues to challenge our common assumptions about language authorship textual stability and the archive in its broadest definition

American Images of China, 1931-1949 T. Christopher Jespersen,1999-02-01 In the 1930 s and 1940 s the prevalent American view of China was that of a friendly democratic and increasingly Christian state in many ways akin to the United States This view was fostered by a wide range of literary political and business leaders including Pearl S Buck Franklin D Roosevelt Wendell Willkie Joseph Stillwell Claire Chennault and most notably the powerful publisher of Life and Time Henry R Luce This book shows how the notion of the Chinese as aspiring Americans helped shape American opinions and policies toward Asia for almost twenty years This notion derived less from the reality of Chinese historical or cultural similarities than from a projection of American values and culture in the American view fueled by various political economic and religious interests China was less a geographical entity than a symbol of American hopes and fears One of the more important consequences was the idealization of China and the demonization of Japan William S. Burroughs Cutting Up the Century Joan Hawkins,Alex Wermer-Colan,2019-05-17 This definitive book on Burroughs decades long cut up project and its relevance to the American twentieth century including previously unpublished works William S Burroughs s Nova Trilogy The Soft Machine Nova Express and The Ticket That Exploded remains the best known of his textual cut up creations but he committed more than a decade of his life to searching out multimedia for use in works of collage By cutting up folding in and splicing together newspapers magazines letters book reviews classical literature audio recordings photographs and films Burroughs created an eclectic and wide ranging countercultural archive This collection includes previously unpublished work by Burroughs such as cut ups of work written by his son cut ups of critical responses to his own work collages on the Vietnam War and the Watergate scandal excerpts from his dream journals and some of the few diary entries that Burroughs wrote about his wife Joan William S Burroughs Cutting Up the Century also features original essays interviews and discussions by established Burroughs scholars respected artists and people who encountered Burroughs The essays consider Burroughs from a range of perspectives literary studies media studies popular culture gender studies post colonialism history and geography A landmark in scholarship Choice Henry Luce's Way New Word City,2010-03-01 In Time Life and Fortune Henry Luce invented three entirely new forms of journalism They changed our country largely for the better and made Luce a very wealthy man But his patriotic zeal and his obsessions with China Communism and Republican Party politics led him to ignore and distort inconvenient facts to make his case irreparably tarnishing his legacy His stunning successes and his self inflicted wounds hold lessons for every leader He invented the modern news magazine and named it Time revolutionized the coverage of business with a publication he called Fortune captured the world in pictures and christened it Life His publications were read by fully a quarter of the U S population and his ideas about journalism and the significance of American values left an indelible imprint on the history of the United States and the world He was Henry Robinson Luce Luce was America s most powerful mass communicator for more than 40 years Yet he was an odd contradictory man with few real friends and talents that were both more and less than they seemed His private life was largely a failure and his missionary zeal was never quite realized New Word City publishers of digital originals contributes 10 percent of its profits to literacy causes

Intellectuals Incorporated Robert Vanderlan,2011-06-06 Publishing tycoon Henry Luce famously championed many conservative causes and his views as a capitalist and cold warrior were reflected in his glossy publications Republican Luce aimed squarely for the Middle American masses yet his magazines attracted intellectually and politically ambitious minds who were moved by the democratic aspirations of the New Deal and the left Much of the best work of intellectuals such as James Agee Archibald MacLeish Daniel Bell John Hersey and Walker Evans owes a great debt to their experiences writing for Luce and his publications Intellectuals Incorporated tells the story of the serious writers and artists who worked for Henry Luce and his magazines Time Fortune and Life between 1923 and 1960 the period when the relationship between intellectuals the culture industry and corporate capitalism assumed its modern form Countering the notions that working for corporations means selling out and that the true life of the mind must be free from institutional ties historian Robert Vanderlan explains how being embedded in the corporate culture industries was vital to the creative efforts of mid century thinkers Illuminating their struggles through careful research and biographical vignettes Vanderlan shows how their contributions to literary journalism and the wider political culture would have been impossible outside Luce s media empire By paying attention to how these writers and photographers balanced intellectual aspiration with journalistic perspiration Intellectuals Incorporated advances the idea of the intellectual as a connected public figure who can engage and criticize organizations from within
