Serendipitous and Strategic Innovation Shantha Liyanage, 2005-12-30 Innovation is a time consuming process that involves invention as a beginning and a marketable service or product as an end But innovation itself once concluded is not necessarily a constructive act as some innovations yield positive and some negative results The way we recognize and develop innovation so often a serendipitous and almost invisible act in its beginning is thus a matter of primary importance in today's world where new thoughts and products play such a crucial role in economies across the globe Nowhere is the general support structure required for success in innovation more starkly illuminated than in the fields of science and medicine where human well being is so manifestly at stake In this work which draws together the perspectives of a multidisciplinary group of professionals medical doctors innovation policy analysts and academics in business management Shantha Liyanage and his colleagues provide a thorough examination of the technology innovation process and display its critical links with organizational functions so the innovative capacities of organizations can be better prepared to meet the rapid changes of our age

Managing Strategic Design Ray Holland, Busayawan Lam, 2014-11-20 This core textbook emphasizes the power of design management to drive corporate strategic goals showing how design strategies can be thoughtfully formulated and managed to improve the performance of organizations Taking an engaging and accessible approach this book will help design students and graduates to apply new concepts of design management in their works and to use design strategically to achieve organizational visions and targets Throughout the book's tripartite structure comprising an introduction to the topic followed by sections on how strategic design can be used to support key businesses functions and how it can be used to push organisations forward a strong link is made between design and marketing and the delivery of design led branding This textbook is essential for upper level undergraduate and postgraduate students studying design management on art and design degrees It also caters for practitioners and specialist elective modules offered on business and management and marketing and entrepreneurship courses in business schools
