Mission To Bhutan A Nation In Transition:

Mission to Bhutan Brajbir Saran Das, 1996 On Indo Bhutan relations beginning in 1971 author's experiences as the first Indian ambassador to Bhutan Vishwa Shashtra Dhruva Jaishankar, 2024-12-15 In Vishwa Shashtra Dhruva Jaishankar provides a comprehensive overview of India's interactions with the world from ancient times to the present day He describes a long tradition of Indian statecraft and strategic thinking on international affairs charts early India's relations with a vast geography from the Mediterranean and Africa to Southeast and Northeast Asia and captures the costs and consequences of European colonialism Jaishankar also describes India's territorial economic and governance challenges upon Independence and the origins of India's rivalries with Pakistan and China Speaking to a wide audience that includes policymakers scholars and especially students Vishwa Shashtra offers both rich historical context and forward looking strategies for India Highlighting India's transition from Cold War non alignment to post Cold War realignment Jaishankar outlines India's strategic objectives bolstering national power securing the neighbourhood maintaining a balance of power in the Indo Pacific and leading at international institutions Balanced comprehensive and rigorous Vishwa Shashtra goes beyond shedding light on how India can maneuver in a challenging geopolitical landscape and advance its interests in an interconnected world it gives us a clear eyed perspective on how India might actually define the emerging world order The Royal

Semi-Authoritarian Democracy of Bhutan Dhurba Rizal, 2015-07-22 The book puts into plain words a changing dimension of politics in a traditional regime and offers an insight into the emerging transition to royal semi authoritarian democracy in Bhutan Bhutan represents a political system which coalesces the rhetorical acquiescence of democracy with illiberal authoritarian attributes under the former royalist shadow Royal democracy is a myth and only paints the frontage of democracy The smokescreen of this kind of authoritarian regime is not yet democracy but is instead a new form of semi authoritarian rule The political reforms in Bhutan were orchestrated by the traditional regime and elites in a traditional society as a tightly controlled top down process without devolution of power outside the regime Royal Democracy can best be understood as an attempt to construct a political regime that impersonates democratic institutions but works outside the logic of political representation and seeks to repress any vestige of genuine political pluralism Exploring the authoritarian logic behind the democratic rhetoric is especially important for Bhutan which is today glorified by the UN as The Mecca of Gross National Happiness and depicted by many as a model of top down democracy on popular media and in academia Holding State controlled elections alone does not create a cure for deeper political economic and social predicaments besetting Bhutan and does not create a solid foundation for democratic transition The glitter of royal semi authoritarian democracy is a Jigmeocracy an old Jigme's system with new labels a classic case of transition from a traditional regime in a traditional society The Statesman's Yearbook 2006 B. India not only did the country suffer a loss of lives and a heavy blow to its pride the world began to see India as the provocateur of the war with China merely defending its territory This perception that China was largely the innocent victim of Nehru s hostile policies was put forth by journalist Neville Maxwell in his book India s China War which found readers in many opinion makers including Henry Kissinger and Richard Nixon For far too long Maxwell s narrative which sees India as the aggressor and China as the victim has held court Nearly 50 years after Maxwell s book Bertil Lintner s China s India War puts the border dispute into its rightful perspective Lintner argues that China began planning the war as early as 1959 and proposes that it was merely a small move in the larger strategic game that China was playing to become a world player one that it continues to play even today Protracted Contest John W. Garver,2011-07-01 Ever since the two ancient nations of India and China established modern states in the mid 20th century they have been locked in a complex rivalry ranging across the South Asian region Garver offers a scrupulous examination of the two countries actions and policy decisions over the past fifty years He has interviewed many of the key figures who have shaped their diplomatic history and has combed through the public and private statements made by officials as well as the extensive record of government documents and media reports He presents a thorough and compelling account of the rivalry between these powerful neighbors and its influence on the region and the larger world The Statesman's Yearbook 2000 B. Analysing the status of agrarian justice and its relation with the national slogan of gross national happiness (GNH) in Bhutan, this monograph deals with food insecurity, resource asymmetry and growth in the political economy perspective. In this tiny Himalayan nation under absolute democratic monarchy, there are huge inequities in the ethos of general income and consumption, poverty and a fundamental transformation in the political economy of this South Asian nation is in urgent need. Readers of this monograph would be mainly from Nepal, Bhutan and India, though those who have interest in the economy and society of the Himalayas would also be the beneficiaries. It attempts to highlight understanding about the specificities of South Asia and some novel features of poverty in this region. The Statesman's Yearbook 2008 B. Turner, 2017-01-12.
