Mobilizing Private Sector Resources For:

Mobilizing Private Finance for Sustainable Development United Nations Development Programme, 2016-11-30 The proactive engagement of the private sector was critical to accelerate the achievement of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs. Inevitably, private finance will become even more central in the concerted effort to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs due to their ambition. Private investment decisions in both the real economy and in the financial sector should move the world towards the aspirations set out in the 2030 agenda. This means going far beyond philanthropy and voluntary corporate social responsibility, important though they are. It is a matter of steering the investment decisions that private actors make every day. In the context of the Financing for Development debate, this discussion paper reflects on the latest trends and makes recommendations to:

1. Establish an enabling regulatory environment for the private sector to invest in the SDGs.
2. Introduce smart public incentives to fasten the realignment of private finance to the SDGs.
3. Foster change in company and consumer behaviours to transition to inclusive and sustainable markets.

Generating public sector resources to finance sustainable development Stefano Pagiola, 2002. Annotation: This specific objective of this book is to explore potential avenues for generating more resources for the public sector to invest in sustainable development.

Mobilizing private finance for local infrastructure in Europe and Central Asia Michel Noël, Władysław Jan Brzeski, 2004. Annotation: In recent years, the countries of the Europe and Central Asia ECA Region have experienced a marked decline in the interest of international private operators and investors in municipal infrastructure projects, in line with the trend experienced in other emerging markets. The objective of this paper is to explore the possible innovative elements of a Public Private Partnership PPP in an effort to rekindle the sagging private finance interest in municipal infrastructure in the ECA Region. The contemplated PPP model would involve government municipalities, Local Infrastructure Investment Trusts, private equity funds, and/or turnaround advisors and International Financial Institutions.

Craig Hart,2013-07-24 Climate Change and the Private Sector explores the challenges of transforming our energy infrastructure to become carbon neutral and adapting to climate change in the twenty first century It examines the critical role that the private sector must play in these challenges To transform the global energy complex to be carbon neutral within a time frame designed to prevent irreparable damage to the environment presents unprecedented challenges The private sector must deploy financial material and engineering resources on a scale never before undertaken with government providing leadership removing barriers and supporting industry efforts through policies that mobilize markets to achieve environmental objectives A key element of supporting private sector initiative to address climate change is policies that help form and sustain markets that supply finance and generate demand for the technologies necessary to transform our energy infrastructure The characteristics and examples of these policies are explored in detail Companies that respond to these challenges both by mitigating greenhouse gases and adapting to climate change will enhance their own competitiveness and contribute to society in the process Companies that embrace the challenge to decarbonize their manufacturing operations whether in response to regulation or the threat of regulation or market opportunities invariably discover ways to improve their operations in the process that could potentially enhance their ability to produce better products more efficiently The book explores examples of companies that have redesigned their products and manufacturing processes and in doing so transformed themselves and reshaped their industries As in the case of companies mitigating greenhouse gas emissions companies that lead their industries in adapting their own operations to a changing physical environment are more likely to ensure their resilience in a changing business environment This book provides business policy and academic audiences with an in depth exploration of the subject and a practical guide to action Engaging the private sector in climate action

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2025-04-16 Building on lessons learned from the SCALA programme co led by FAO and UNDP this document explores how engaging the private sector can drive effective climate action in agriculture and land use Identifying challenges opportunities and solutions it demonstrates how businesses can play a pivotal role in supporting countries to implement their climate commitments Through the SCALA programme FAO and UNDP are fostering collaboration between governments and private sector actors reducing investment risks and strengthening the business case for sustainable practices With targeted support across 12 countries and beyond SCALA is helping to transform climate goals into concrete actions that enhance resilience and sustainability in agrifood systems

The World Bank Group's Partnership with the Global Environment Facility The World Bank, 2015-11-18 The World Bank Group was a principal founding partner of the Global Environment Facility GEF in its pilot phase in 1991 and of the restructured GEF in 1994 The Bank plays three different roles in the GEF a as trustee of the GEF and related trust funds b as implementing agency including the implementation of private sector GEF projects by the International Finance Corporation IFC and c as the host organization of the functionally independent GEF secretariat Focusing primarily on the role of the Bank as an implementing agency this review documents how the partnership that the GEF and the World Bank Group established in the early 1990s has evolved over time offers explanations for observed changes and draws a number of lessons The review addresses the following issues The mutual relevance of the World Bank Group and the GEF Inter organizational coordination along the World Bank Group GEF project cycle The introduction of the GEF's resource allocation systems in 2006 and 2010 The evolution and effectiveness of the Bank Group's GEF portfolio Catalytic approaches in the Bank Group GEF partnership co financing blending and mainstreaming The World Bank's corporate activities as a GEF implementing agency The principal purposes of this review are a to help improve the relevance and effectiveness of the Bank Group's partnership with the GEF and b to draw lessons for the Bank Group's partnership with the GEF and other large global partnership programs World

Bank Group Support to Public-Private Partnerships World Bank World Bank, 2015-12-01 Public private partnerships PPPs are long term contracts between a private party and a government agency that strive to provide a public asset or service in which the private party bears both some risk and some management responsibility If implemented well PPPs can help overcome inadequate infrastructure that constrains economic growth particularly in developing countries The use of PPPs has increased in the last two decades they are now used in more than 134 developing countries contributing about 15 to 20 percent of total infrastructure investment The World Bank Group has expanded its support to PPPs through a wide range of instruments and services During the last 10 years its support has increased about threefold to nearly 3 billion per year The Independent Evaluation Group IEG assesses how effective the World Bank Group has been in helping countries use PPPs In the evaluation IEG examines the relevance of Bank Group support how successful projects were how the Bank Group coordinated support among its business lines support to the public sector versus the private sector and how it compares with the experience of other multilateral development banks with PPP support IEG distills lessons to apply to the Bank Group's support of PPPs Finally IEG presents six recommendations that apply to both the organizational and the operational aspects of this work Institution and Human Resource Capacity Building in ASEAN United Nations. Commission for Asia and the Pacific, 1999 Most southeast Asian countries have until recently had a long period of rapid and reasonably equitable growth This remarkable performance was achieved largely because sound policies were implemented effectively by capable institutions with competent staff This is especially true in key policy areas such as macroeconomic management product transformations trade and investment promotion and infrastructure development Many developing economies in Asia and the Pacific including the new and potentially new members of ASEAN namely Cambodia Laos Myanmar and Viet Nam which are facing enormous challenges resulting from domestic economic reforms and exposure to the international economy could benefit from the experiences of institution and human resource capacity building in older ASEAN countries This publication contains an overview and four country studies of Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines and Thailand Oversight Hearing on the Community Service Block Grant United States.
