Moon And The Bonfires:

The Moon and the Bonfires Cesare Pavese, 2002-10-31 Winner of the 2003 PEN Book of the Month Club Translation Prize A NEW YORK REVIEW BOOKS ORIGINAL The nameless narrator of The Moon and the Bonfires Cesare Pavese's last and greatest novel returns to Italy from California after the Second World War He has done well in America but success hasn't taken the edge off his memories of childhood when he was an orphan living at the mercy of a bitterly poor farmer He wants to learn what happened in his native village over the long terrible years of Fascism perhaps he even thinks he will settle down And yet as he uncovers a secret and savage history from the war a tale of betrayal and reprisal sex and death he finds that the past still haunts the present The Moon and the Bonfires is a novel of intense lyricism and tragic import a masterpiece of twentieth century literature that has been unavailable to American readers for close to fifty years Here it appears in a vigorous new English version by R W Flint whose earlier translations of Pavese's fiction were acclaimed by Leslie Fiedler as absolutely lucid and completely incantatory

The Moon and the Bonfires Cesare Pavese, 2021-01-28 Insinuating haunting and lyrically pervasive The New York Times Book Review A new translation by Tim Parks Twenty years after making his fortune in America Eel is drawn back to the closest thing he has to a home the Piedmontese countryside where he grew up poor and illegitimate Wandering the valleys and vineyards with his childhood friend Nuto Eel remembers the farm where he worked his employer's beautiful daughters the rituals of rural life Yet as he discovers more about what happened there during the war he realizes that these timeless landscapes hide terrible savage secrets By turns fond and evocative seductive and troubling The Moon and the Bonfires is a lyrical masterpiece of memory and betrayal Translated with an Introduction by Tim Parks

The Moon and the Bonfire Cesare Pavese, 2002 In Pavese's last and greatest novel Nuto an orphan saved from death by a rural family returns to Italy from America soon after World War II He is now rich and much has improved at home but peace and prosperity cannot long mask the enduring realities of love and death

The Moon and the Bonfire Richard Bradley, Sharon Arrowsmith, 2005 Whilst a report on excavations at three stone circles and two fieldwalking projects in north east Scotland may not seem very appealing this book does much to heighten public awareness and interest in such sites and re connects us with the mysterious monuments of the past This study of the sites of Tomnaverie Deeside Cothiemuir Wood Donside and Aikie Brae Buchan is written in an engaging and approachable style with plenty of illustrative material Whilst the project was geared towards investigating the character chronology structural development and wider context of the stone circles its results go much further in revealing how people used and perceived such sites and the landscape around them Here contextual information discussion of methodology and objectives are combined with factual data and interpretation as the project members examine various aspects of the sites such as the characterisation shape colour and texture of the stones used construction techniques evidence of burning the presence of human remains and possible solar and lunar alignments The proffering of new insights into the use and symbolism of the monuments is highly valuable for example the suggestion that we should perhaps consider the use of these stone circles during the hours of darkness rather than daylight an idea first proposed by Aubrey Burl requires us to re think our preconceptions about monuments in the past The rewards of painstaking excavation and trudging through muddy fields are evident in a publication such as this      An Absurd Vice Davide Lajolo,1983 An Absurd Vice the critical biography of Cesare Pavese by his friend and fellow writer Davide Lajolo has been celebrated in Italy since its publication there in 1960 With well balanced affection and blame it presents a portrait of the prize winning author of The House on the Hill Work Wears and other books of fiction and poetry dedicated editor at the Einaudi Publishing House and renowned translator of such classics as David Copperfield and Moby Dick who was yet unable to shake what he ruefully called his absurd vice a lifelong obsession with suicide e

Transcultural Modernities Elisabeth Bekers,Sissy Helff,Daniela Merolla,2009 The swelling flows of migration from Africa towards Europe have aroused interest not only in the socio political consequences of the migrants insistent appeals to fortress Europe but also in the artistic integration of African migrants into the cultural world of Europe While in recent years the creative output of Africans living in Europe has received attention from the media and in academia little critical consideration has been given to African migrants modes of narration and the manner in which these modes give expression to or are an expression of their creators transcultural realities Transcultural Modernities Narrating Africa in Europe responds to this need for reflection by examining the manner in which migrants compose and negotiate their Euro African affiliations in their narratives The book brings together scholars in the fields of literary and art criticism cultural studies and anthropology for an extensive interdisciplinary exchange on the specific modes of narration displayed in Euro African literatures the visual arts and cinema as well as offering ethnographic case studies The result is a wide range of reflections on how African artists writers and ordinary people living in Europe experience and explore their transcultural and or postcolonial environments and how their experiences and explorations in turn contribute to the construction of modern Euro African life worlds      The Arts in the West Since 1945 Arthur Marwick,2002 The Arts hold a revered and respected place within modern Western society but what exactly defines culture what gives it this enigmatic status what influences its composition and propagation what controls and limitations is it subject to and what can it achieve within our world Arthur Marwick tackles these issues head on with a both detailed and eclectic account of the Arts in the West since the Second World War He looks at the full range of possible candidates for the category of Art from both elite and popular cultures from high literature to pulp fiction from art house cinema to soap opera Art Music to Rock and Pop This book looks at the fascinating diversity of twentieth century art in the context of the social technological and political events movements and developments that have shaped our history such as the holocaust the television feminism Marwick examines how these factors have affected the cultural output of Western society since 1945 and in turn how art has fed back its own agenda and priorities into this society      Judaism: Sacred Texts, History, Theology & Philosophy Louis Ginzberg,Heinrich Graetz,Judah
