More Of A Certain Age:

An Age of Transition? Christopher Dyer, 2005-02-03 This significant new work by a prominent medievalist focusses on the period of transition between 1250 and 1550 when the wealth and power of the great lords was threatened and weakened and when new social groups emerged and new methods of production were adopted Professor Dyer examines both the commercial growth of the thirteenth century and the restructuring of farming trade and industry in the fifteenth The subjects investigated include the balance between individuals and the collective interests of families and villages The role of the aristocracy and in particular the gentry are scrutinized and emphasis placed on the initiatives taken by peasants traders and craftsmen The growth in consumption moved the economy in new directions after 1350 and this encouraged investment in productive enterprises A commercial mentality persisted and grew and producers such as farmers profited from the market Many people lived on wages but not enough of them to justify describing the sixteenth century economy as capitalist The conclusions are supported by research in sources not much used before such as wills and non written evidence including buildings Christopher Dyer who has already published on many aspects of this period has produced the first full length study by a single author of the transition He argues for a reassessment of the whole period and shows that many features of the sixteenth seventeenth and eighteenth centuries can be found before 1500

Everyone Needs an Editor (Some of Us More Than Others) Larry McCoy, 2015-05-10 Rude raucous and often funny in a newsroom Larry McCoy has stuck to that winning combination in this memoir covering his life from an inexperienced writer at UPI to news director at CBS Radio to a retired journalist who is as appalled as non journalists by what many news organizations consider news these days Too old to be hired again now he pokes fun at former employers and many of their products and practices He denounces performance reviews the U S media s obsession with the British royal family broadcasters who talk down to their audience journalists who make up stories know nothing bosses and a universe where virtually everyone feels the need to tweet Never comfortable swimming with the tide McCoy says the best journalist he ever met didn t even finish high school and that newswomen may ask better questions than newsmen As a public service to workers in all professions he provides guidelines on how to write a smart snappy note to your boss and if that doesn t do the trick to your boss s boss But he has kind words for writers producers overseas stringers desk assistants technicians and yes even a few anchors

Critical Questions for Ageing Societies Gemma M Carney, Paul Nash, 2020-09-15 This myth busting and question focused textbook tackles the fascinating

Woman in All Ages and in All Countries: Women of early Christianity, by A. Brittain and M. Carroll ,1908 The Patristic Understanding of Creation William A. Dembski, Wayne J. Downs, Fr. Justin B. A. Frederick, 2019-11-14

The Patristic Understanding of Creation encapsulates what the Church Fathers had to say in their own words on the topic of creation Going back to Roman and Byzantine times the writings of the Church Fathers are basic to Christian theology and provide a benchmark for how Christians have traditionally understood creation This understanding of creation however faces tremendous challenges in our day especially in discussions at the intersection of science and religion Process theology and other efforts to reconceptualize creation have explicitly opposed key elements of the Christian doctrine of creation creation ex nihilo the transcendence and immanence of God in creation the absolute creatureliness and non self sufficiency of the world to use a phrase of Fr Georges Florovsky the goodness of creation and the openness of the world to divine action All of these the Church Fathers not only held but also ably defended This anthology is therefore not merely of academic or historical interest In reasserting a theologically sound understanding of creation this anthology fills a need that is both practical and urgent

Fraser's Magazine ,1841 Navajo Infancy James S. Chisholm, 2017-07-05

Navajo Infancy describes the major sources of change and continuity in Navajo infant development It does so by combining concepts and methods of classical ethology with those of social cultural anthropology The goal is to establish the relationships between human nature and culture By considering the nature of adaptation and the evolution of human developmental patterns and through analyses of the determinants of change and continuity in Navajo infant development Navajo Infancy outlines how the process of development itself may bridge nature and culture With its special focus on the effect of the cradleboard on Navajo mother infant interaction Navajo Infancy raises important developmental issues in its analyses of why the effects of the cradleboard do not last Incorporating the Brazelton Neonatal Behavioral Assessment Scale into its ethological anthropological methods Navajo Infancy demonstrates significant Navajo Anglo American differences in newborn temperament It finds a strong correlation between newborn behavior and prenatal environmental factors arguing that racial and ethnic differences in behavior at birth go well beyond simple gene pool differences Navajo Infancy also describes the individual and group differences in the development of Navajo and Anglo American children's fear of strangers and patterns of mother infant interaction Aspects of attachment theory transactional theories of development and anthropological theories of socialization are related to this broad new evolutionary approach to the process of development and nature culture interaction
