The Politics of Expertise in International Organizations Annabelle Littoz-Monnet, 2017-02-24 This edited volume advances existing research on the production and use of expert knowledge by international bureaucracies Given the complexity technicality and apparent apolitical character of the issues dealt with in global governance arenas evidence based policy making has imposed itself as the best way to evaluate the risks and consequences of political action in global arenas In the absence of alternative democratic modes of legitimation international organizations have adopted this approach to policy making By treating international bureaucracies as strategic actors this volume address novel questions why and how do international bureaucrats deploy knowledge in policy making Where does the knowledge they use come from and how can we retrace pathways between the origins of certain ideas and their adoption by international administrations What kind of evidence do international bureaucrats resort to and with what implications Which types of knowledge are seen as authoritative and why This volume makes a crucial contribution to our understanding of the way global policy agendas are shaped and propagated It will be of great interest to scholars policy makers and practitioners in the fields of public policy international relations global governance and international organizations War on Hunger , Combating Nutritional Blindness in Children Carl Fritz, 2013-10-22 Combating Nutritional Blindness in Children A Case Study of Technical Assistance in Indonesia focuses on the processes in technical assistance TA as applied to the Nutritional Blindness Research Project a case study on nutritional blindness among children in Indonesia The manuscript first offers information on the Nutritional Blindness Research Project as well as the processes and reactions to TA xerophthalmia and Helen Keller International The text then tackles the development of a research project including proposal initial organization and staffing as well as periodic observation of children at home The book examines the treatment of children in the hospitals and particularly notes the planning phase study and treatment of the disease and socioeconomic data of patients and their families The text also underscores the participation of the World Health Organization and USAID in the project and funding of the project The manuscript is a dependable reference for students of economic and social development administration and international technical assistance International Food Policy Issues United States. Department of Agriculture. Economics, Statistics, and Cooperatives Service, 1978 This document contains 10 papers and commentary presented at the Conference on International Food Policies Issues held in Washington D C April 28 and 29 1977 The conference focused on important international trade and development issues under discussion in such international fora as the World Food Council the Multilateral Trade Negotiations the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development and the International Wheat Council Issues surrounding international food security food needs of developing countries and food aid and malnutrition are delineated and alternative solutions to problems are suggested The conference was sponsored by the U S Department of Agriculture Economic Research Service Congressional Record United States. Congress,1975 Peasants and Poverty (Routledge Revivals) Mats Lundahl,2015-05-15 Haiti is a country which until the earthquake of 2010 remained largely outside the focus of world interest and outside the important international historical currents during its existence as a free nation The nineteenth century was the decisive period in Haitian history serving to shape the class structure the political tradition and the economic system During most of this period Haiti had little contact with both its immediate neighbours and the industrialised nations of the world which led to the development of Haiti as a peasant nation This title first published in 1979 examines the factors responsible for the poverty of the Haitian peasant by using both traditional economic models as well as a multidisciplinary approach incorporating economics and other branches of social science The analysis deals primarily with the Haitian peasant economy from the early 1950s to the early 1970s examining in depth the explanations for the secular tendency of rural per capita incomes to decline during this period Nutrition and Human Reproduction W. Mosley,2012-12-06 This book is the product of the Conference on Nutrition and Human Reproduction supported and organized by the National Institutes of Child Health and Human Development and held at the National Institutes of Health Bethesda Maryland in February 1977 The genesis of this Conference came from the work of the Subcommittee on Nutrition and Fertility of the Committee on International Nutrition Programs of the National Research Council The purpose of the Conference was to assemble scientists and program planners from a broad range of fields including nutrition epidemiology demography endocrinology sociology economics anthropology biostatistics and public health Each individual brought his or her analytical skills and perspective to the meeting with the goal of developing a more coherent picture of the many facets of nutrition and reproduction The approach was to get a more comprehensive view by 1 Clarifying terminology and definitions 2 Reviewing recent and current work on the biological basis for nutrition fertility interactions 3 Reviewing biomedical and socioeconomic factors related to breast feeding to assess how this practice relates to maternal and infant nutrition and fertility 4 Assessing some current analytical models for defining nutrition fertility interrelationships 5 Reviewing recent field studies from Africa Asia and Latin America which are examining the interrelationships of nutrition and reproduction The Education Dilemma J. Simmons,2016-04-20 The Education Dilemma Policy Issues for Developing Countries in the 1980s focuses on the questions on the adequacy of the Western European and North American model of formal schooling exported to developing countries The selection first offers information on an overview of the policy issues in the 1980s future of formal education in developing countries and factors which promote school achievement in developing countries Discussions focus on the effect of schooling variables on achievement comparison of the importance of schooling inputs and home background educational production function and its limitations and theories of learning and schooling The text then examines preschool age investment in human capital policy implications of instructional technology and the impact of American educational research on developing countries The publication takes a look at common assumptions about education and employment education and employment after independence and the influence of education on migration and fertility Topics include education and migration fertility and education socializing effects of educational institutions educational and individual entrepreneurship and education and access to labor market The manuscript also surveys education class conflict and uneven development and investment in education in developing nations The selection is a valuable reference for educators and researchers interested in the application of the Western European and North American model of formal schooling to developing countries

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Human Resources United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Human Resources,1978 Marketing and promotion of infant formula in the developing nations, 1978 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Human Resources. Subcommittee on Health and Scientific Research,1978 Early Child Care in India Margaret Khalakdina,2017-03-31 In India in the second half of the twentieth century there was a vastly increased concern for the welfare of children Various developmental programs were undertaken for the improvement of children s status especially in rural families This book first published in 1979 examines these programs and considers the enormous challenge of child care under the wide variety of conditions in this vast country Infant Feeding John Dobbing,2012-12-06 Infant Feeding is about a controversy which fascinated the medical and scientific world as well as national and international health authorities politicians religious groups and consumer organisations for more than 11 years It often disturbed public opinion being concerned as it is with nothing less than the life and death of babies The infant food industry was directly accused of having caused a decline in breast feeding through the inappropriate marketing of breast milk substitutes The problem was said to be particularly acute in poor under developed communities because illiterate mothers were unable to understand instructions for its use water was often contaminated and in order to stretch an admittedly expensive product it was over diluted The inevitable result said the critics of industry was malnutrition gastroenteritis and increased infant mortality These were very serious charges against companies which had until then been generally considered to provide an important contribution to medical progress and child health One company was to be particularly singled out Nestl SA the Swiss multinational Perhaps it became the target because it was the longest establishment and served well as a symbol of the whole industry It is a story which is full of confrontations intrigue and passionately held opinions based nevertheless on a sizeable body of medical science After countless twists and turns it has some sort of happy ending Yet a great deal remains to be said as will be seen throughout the book

Assessing Contributions/h M. Harvey Brenner, 2019-04-10 The authors of this book provide a systematic integrated review and comparison of the contributions of sociology political science economics demography anthropology history of science and medicine psychiatry and psychology to a number of health related fields including epidemiology health services research and health policy studies The book reflects the authors attitude that multidisciplinary research efforts must be carried out in order to obtain a thorough understanding of the relationship of social science knowledge to health problems

Human Capital Formation as an Engine of Growth Loong-Hoe Tan, 1999 The East Asian countries have been relatively more advanced than other developing countries in the field of human capital development Even in the 1960s they managed to attain higher levels of human capital compared with other low and middle level economies in the developing world This volume examines the role of human capital formation in the rapid growth of the East Asian economies Apart from the formal education variable other factors such as better health care of the labour force nutritional status of the population and on the job training are important concerns that were not given sufficient attention in the 1993 World Bank study The East Asian Miracle This present volume offers many insights of interest to policy makers and specialists with regard to developing and transitional economies
