On Basic Human Rights Osho,2017-11-28

Osho thrusts his sword into the heart of the matter of what we collectively call Human Rights One of the struggles we face as human beings is how to cope with how to bring light to how to dissolve the roots of the perverse and incomprehensible horrors physical psychological spiritual that we seem capable of inflicting on one another What are the roots of wars of torture of murder and hatred and our all too easy dehumanization of the other He quotes the language of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights to expose the hollowness of the words Why is our human reality on this planet so far off from these beautifully worded declarations Osho exposes the hypocrisy and the vested interests that underlie the core of that document and so many others like it But he doesn't stop there He challenges us to create a new language a new narrative a transformative and liberating vision of what it means to treat one another with awareness with love and with respect In our individual lives as in the lives and generations of our society there is a revolution a transformation that happens alongside each change that happens in consciousness individual and collective as our technology continues to bring us potentially all together into a global village And alongside it the change in consciousness that is now required of us as a common humanity living on a smallish and rather beautiful sacred planet To see ourselves as God's creation if you will Or Gaia or whatever term of oneness most appeals to you This small volume is an opening to the revolution in consciousness that is so urgently needed for our times urgently needed for our times I Teach Religiousness, Not Religion Osho,1992-01-01 The Rebel, the Very Salt of the Earth Osho,Osho Rajneesh,1988-01-01 The Beauty of the Human Soul Osho,2016-04

The Beauty of the Human Soul continues the Authentic Living series by Osho with talks by the contemporary mystic during his stay in the United States All of the Osho books are created from his extemporaneous talks and in this volume reflect the intimate setting in which they were given with small audiences of those gathered in the Oregon commune around him Everything is on the table belief in God the meaning of compassion what happens when we die In sharing stories from his own life bringing new insights to old parables and challenging his listeners to examine their own conscious and unconscious beliefs he begins to create a new and more authentic narrative about what we human beings are doing on this planet and why we are here The entire Authentic Living series is a manifesto of the priceless gift of individuality of both the freedom and the responsibility that comes with living life according to your own light free from fixed concepts and ideologies given by others whether that be parents teachers priests or politicians The challenge is to take nothing for granted leave no sacred cow unexamined And to take the courage to step into the unknown with no idea of what is going to happen with great creativity sensitivity and awareness but with no fixed ideology Osho says You have to go through a transformation and that only you can do Except you nobody can reach there And this is the beauty of the human soul that it is absolutely unavailable to anybody Your center is so protected by existence that nobody can even touch it
