Pathways To People:

Pathways to People Leonard William Doob, 1975-01-01 Pathways to People Leonard W. Doob, 1975-09-10 In this wide ranging and fascinating book Leonard Doob explores what we know about human action and interaction in order to show how people succeed or fail in their constant attempts to understand each other He organizes our ways of knowing each other into two sorts of pathways to people The first pathways are those that have been investigated by psychiatrists psychologists and social scientists Mr Doob offers a critical summary of our systematic knowledge in the area of what is sometimes called person perception By and large he is dissatisfied with what we think we know because too much of the research stems from a convenient but not typical sample of mankind the college student The second set of pathways are those intended to improve judgment or avoid error and they come not only from the scientific disciplines but also from the humanities along with common sense Together the pathways constitute the factors or variables that determine how and why human judgments are made and how they should be made The exposition is occasionally interrupted by a devil s advocate offering lively and cutting criticism of what is being said In this manner Leonard Doob opens another pathway between reader and author which makes reading this book a rich and provocative experience Pathways to People Leonard William

Doob, Moved to Action Hahrie C. Han, 2009-08-17 Wealthy educated and more privileged people are more likely to participate and be represented in politics than their poorer less educated and less privileged counterparts To reduce these inequalities we need a better understanding of how the disadvantaged become motivated to participate Moved to Action fills the current gap in this area of research by examining the commitments and pathways through which the underprivileged become engaged in politics Drawing on original in depth interviews with political activists and large scale survey data author Hahrie C Han contests the traditional idea that people must be politicized before they participate and that only idiosyncratic factors outside the control of the political system can drive motivation Her findings show that that highly personal commitments such as the quality of children s education or the desire to help a friend have a disproportionately large impact in motivating political participation among people with fewer resources Han makes the case that civic and political organizations can lay the foundation for greater citizen participation by helping people recognize the connections between their personal commitments and politics Becoming an Ecologist John A. Wiens, 2025-01-21 What forces influence a person s decision to pursue a career in science And what factors determine which among the many possible pathways a budding scientist chooses to follow John A Wiens traces his journeys through several subfields of ecology and in so doing gives readers an inside look at how science actually works He shares stories from his development as an ornithologist community ecologist landscape ecologist and conservation scientist that convey the excitement of doing ecology Recounting the serendipities discoveries and joys of this branching career Wiens explores how an individual s background and interests life s contingencies the influences of key people and the culture of a discipline can all shape a scientist s trajectory Becoming an

Restructuring Capitalism Rogene Buchholz,2017-04-21 The main theme of this book is that within contemporary capitalist societies a materialist outlook informed by science has triumphed creating the lack of a spiritual dimension to give meaning and purpose to the activities that are necessary for a capitalist society to function effectively Capitalist societies are in trouble and need to be restructured to provide for the material needs of all the people who work within the system not just the one percent but because of the lack of a spiritual connection with each other and with nature this is not likely to happen It has been said that society and the organizations within treat one another as objects to be manipulated in the interests of promoting economic growth and treat nature as an object to be exploited for the same purpose This way of treating each other and nature is consistent with the way a capitalist system has worked in the past and was supposed to enable it to function efficiently to provide a fulfilling and enriched life for all its adherents through growth of the economy However as capitalist societies have become dysfunctional they will need a different kind of orientation to continue in existence Restructuring Capitalism Materialism and Spiritualism in Business argues that what is needed is a new sense of a spiritualization of the self and its relation to others and to the establishment of a spiritual connection with nature in order for capitalism to be restructured to work for everyone and for the society as a whole Maoist People's War and the Revolution of Everyday Life in Nepal Ina Zharkevich,2019-05-09 By providing a rich ethnography of wartime social processes in the former Maoist heartland of Nepal this book explores how the Maoist People s War 1996 2006 transformed Nepali society Drawing on long term fieldwork with people who were located at the epicentre of the conflict including both ardent Maoist supporters and reluctant rebels it explores how a remote Himalayan village was forged as the centre of the Maoist rebellion how its inhabitants coped with the situation of war and the Maoist regime of governance and how they came to embrace the Maoist project and maintain ordinary life amidst the war while living in a guerilla enclave By focusing on people s everyday lives the book illuminates how the everyday became a primary site of revolution of crafting new subjectivities introducing new social practices and displacing the old ones and reconfiguring the ways that people act in and think about the world through the process of embodied change Oceanic Socialities and Cultural Forms Ingjerd

Hoëm,Sidsel Roalkvam,2003-02-01 In anthropology theoretical approaches attempting to come to terms with experiences of social interaction often inspired by phenomenology have come to the fore in opposition to the previously favored emphasis on symbolic and social structures These essays attempt a new kind of ethnographic description of social life that treats structure and practice as aspects of the same reality This is achieved through attention to indigenous conceptualizations of the way society itself is generated With Jonathan Friedman and Fredrik Barth providing overviews this series of innovative ethnographies highlights ways of forming social relations specific to Oceania as a cultural area exemplifying a new kind of comparative approach and making a major contribution to general social theory
