Hines, 2019-01-22 A comprehensive and fascinating look at the history of the Museum of Modern Art's Architecture and Design Department under the leadership of the influential curator Arthur Drexler Arthur Drexler 1921-1987 served as the curator and director of the

Architecture and Design Department at the Museum of Modern Art MOMA from 1951 until 1986 the longest curatorship in the museum's history Over four decades he conceived and oversaw trailblazing exhibitions that not only reflected but also anticipated major stylistic developments Although several books cover the roles of MoMA's founding director Alfred Barr and the department's first curator Philip Johnson this is the only in depth study of Drexler who gave the department its overall shape and direction During Drexler's tenure MoMA played a pivotal role in examining the work and confirming the reputations of twentieth century architects among them Frank Lloyd Wright Le Corbusier Richard Neutra Marcel Breuer and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Exploring unexpected subjects from the design of automobiles and industrial objects to a reconstruction of a Japanese house and garden Drexler's boundary pushing shows promoted new ideas about architecture and design as modern arts in contemporary society The department's public and educational programs projected a culture of popular accessibility offsetting MoMA's reputation as an elitist institution Drawing on rigorous archival research as well as author Thomas S Hines's firsthand experience working with Drexler Architecture and Design at the Museum of Modern Art analyzes how MoMA became a touchstone for the practice and study of midcentury architecture Frederick Kiesler Shirley Haines-Cooke, 2009-03-26 The material for this book has been taken from the 2006 thesis Frederick Kiesler's Art of This Century in New York 1942-1947 in the Context of the Twentieth Century Art Museum The prime objective was to establish why so few people remember Art of This Century which Kiesler designed for Peggy Guggenheim in 1942 and she ruthlessly closed in 1947 A second aim was to investigate why there has been so much research carried out on the Gallery when it was acknowledged as a work of art in its own right at the time of opening Indeed in 2004 Thomas Krens the Guggenheim Foundation's director expressed concern that due to the lack of research it might slip into oblivion Such a statement raises questions as to why it has taken the Guggenheim Foundation over half a century to resurrect Art of This Century in the form of two exhibitions held in Frankfurt and Venice or instigate its own research The book opens with an historical account of the development of the modern art museum as well as an overview of Kiesler's life and multidisciplinary oeuvre His association with selected contemporary architectural theorists and architects is looked at to establish whether they had any influence on his eclectic thinking This is followed by a summary of Kiesler's manifesto On Correalism and Biotechnique A Definition of a New Approach to Building Design 1937-1939 The main body of the work is a detailed description of Art of This Century The notion that Kiesler's innovative theories and designs might be better understood in a twenty first century architectural context is finally explored This book finally restores Frederick Kiesler to his rightful place in the history of twentieth century art and architecture By a careful analysis of his sometimes fraught collaboration with the mercurial Peggy Guggenheim Haines Cooke uncovers the fascinating story of Kiesler's ground breaking new vision for the display of abstract art rendered all the more poignant by its significant yet largely subliminal influence on much of the best in recent museum and gallery architecture Dr Jonathan Hale University of Nottingham Museum Studies Bettina Messias Carbonell, 2012-04-23 Updated
