Patterns Of Change In Developing Regions:

Patterns Of Change In Developing Rural Regions Dafna Schwartz,Raphael Bar-El,Avrom Bendavid-Val,Gerald Karaska,2019-07-11 Development specialists often overlook the fact that the towns of a rural region play as essential a role in the region's economy as does agriculture and they design and implement broad strategies without due recognition of the unique and dynamic character of each individual region Proper analysis requires consideration of the changing nature of rural regions and the principal agents of change The contributors to this volume argue that development strategists should focus on processes rather than on products by taking the nonfarm aspects as well as the farm aspects of rural development into account and by recognizing that land labor water and technology do not alone lead to balanced regional and agricultural development The analytical approaches presented in this book incorporate wide ranging variables from the urban space of rural regions markets towns service industries and organizations that have major impacts on the rural regional economy These methodologies aim at improving rural regional development processes

The Climate Change Convention and Developing Countries J. Gupta, 2013-03-09 The climate change problem can only be effectively dealt with if global anthropogenic greenhouse gas GHG emissions can be reduced substantially Since the emission of such gases is closely related to the economic growth of countries a critical problem to be addressed by the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change FCCC is how will the permissible emission levels be shared between industrialised ICs and developing countries DCs The thesis of this book is that the long term effectiveness of the FCCC runs the risk of a horizontal negotiation deadlock between countries and the risk of vertical standstill within countries if there is little domestic support for the domestic implementation of measures being announced in international negotiations The research question is Can one observe trends towards horizontal deadlock and vertical standstill and if yes how can the treaty design be improved so as to avoid such potential future bottlenecks The research focuses on the perspectives of domestic actors on the climate convention and related issues in four developing countries India Indonesia Kenya and Brazil The following key findings emerge from the research 1 Handicapped negotiating power The common theme of the foreign policy of DCs is that ICs are responsible for the bulk of the GHG emissions and need to take appropriate domestic action
