Peripheralisation And Industrial Change:

Peripheralisation and Industrial Change G. J. R. Linge, 1988 Current changes in the world economy are having a profound effect on many peripheral regions most are becoming weaker and more marginal still This book examines this peripheralisation process and considers how it might be reversed Long-Term Conflict Prevention and Industrial Development Ralf Bredel, 2003 After decades of striving to prevent international conflict major armed conflicts in the 1990s have taken place within national boundaries After the series of national independence wars in the 1950s and 1960s and frequent geopolitical wars in the 1970s and 1980s a category of wars of the third kind prevailed The aim of this book is to consider the root causes of recent internal conflicts and to develop long term conflict prevention strategies from here New insights suggest the central role of politico economic inequalities in ethnic religious and cultural conflict The United Nations system has just started to adjust to this new reality of conflict and make long term conflict prevention a priority issue on international agendas Whereas development practitioners should principally conceive their work through a conflict prevention lens there is a shift in focus to United Nations agencies that deal with the economic characteristics of conflict The unbroken significance of a sustainable industrial development process in developing countries may allow the United Nations Industrial Development Organization UNIDO a particular vantage point and role in the long term prevention of conflict

Industrial Development Through Small-firm Cooperation Frank Pyke, 1992 Based upon the experiences of a diverse set of countries including Denmark Egypt Germany Ghana Indonesia Italy Japan and the United States this analysis describes the elements of a model small firm network and sets out the conditions institutions and policies conducive to a successful strategy of upgrading industrial sectors It is a valuable source of ideas and experience on this innovative approach to industrial development

Mapping Modernities Alan Dingsdale, 2013-02-01 When the communist governments of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union collapsed between 1989 and 1991 there was a revived interest in a region that had been largely neglected by western geographers Mapping Modernities draws on the resulting work and other original theoretical and empirical sources to describe interpret and explain the place and spatial order of modernities in Central and Eastern Europe since 1920 to give a theoretically underpinned regional geography of the area The book interprets the geography of Central and Eastern Europe from 1920 to 2000 in terms of spatial modernity It details the individual and collective development of places produced within the three modernising projects of Nationalism Communism and Neo liberalism

Introduction to the Sociology of Development Andrew Webster, 1990-03-01 This text provides a comprehensive introduction to the latest debates in the sociology of development linking theoretical and empirical issues of social change primarily though not exclusively through reference to the Third World This book covers general conceptions of modernisation and underdevelopment and points to new attempts at their synthesis as well as exploring the policy implications of different development models Peripheralization Matthias Naumann, Andrea Fischer-Tahir, 2013-01-12 Peripheries emerge as a result of shifts in economic and political decision making at various scales Therefore peripheral spaces are not a natural phenomenon but an outcome of the intrinsic logic of uneven geographical development in capitalist societies Discussing examples from Germany Eastern Europe Turkey Iraqi Kurdistan Pakistan India and Brazil the volume describes the social production of peripheries from different theoretical and methodological perspectives In so doing it argues in favour of a re politicization of the recent debate on peripheralization

The Atlantic Economy Denis O'Hearn, 2001 This title is suitable for final year undergraduates postgraduates and academics in the fields of Irish studies development economics and comparative history

Understanding Geographies of Polarization and Peripheralization Thilo Lang, Sebastian Henn, Kornelia Ehrlich, Wladimir Sgibnev, 2015-08-31 This book presents a multifaceted perspective on regional development and corresponding processes of adaptation and response focusing on the concepts of polarization and peripheralization It discusses theoretical and empirical foundations and presents several compelling case studies from Central and Eastern Europe and beyond

China's New Spatial Economy G. J. R. Linge, 1997 As China becomes more and more market oriented the spatial development dilemmas it encounters are more and more like those one finds in capitalist nations This book an updated edition of China's Spatial Economy OUP 1990 both illustrates and examines the growing differences between and within the increasingly diverse regions of China The contributors to this volume look to the future of China's major economic regions in light of the numerous problems this country now faces Also they show how these problems are affecting various parts of China in different ways

Technological Change in a Spatial Context Enrico Ciciotti, Neil Alderman, Alfred Thwaites, 2012-12-06 This book represents a selection of contributions to the Regional Science Association European Summer Institute held at Arco Lake of Garda Italy from 17th to 23rd July 1988 on the theme of Theories and policies of technological development at the local level As such it forms a complementary volume to the collection of invited papers entitled The Spatial Context of Technological Development edited by Professors Riccardo Cappellin and Peter Nijkamp and published by Avebury Gower The Summer Institute covered a broad range of themes and contributions from over 100 researchers It has therefore not been our intention to represent or replicate these themes directly but to provide as wide an international coverage of current research in regional science in the field of technological change as possible The papers to be found in this book are drawn from the European Community Eastern Europe Scandinavia North America and elsewhere Inevitably as the book was to be published in English most of the editorial work has been undertaken at the Centre for Urban and Regional Development Studies at Newcastle University In so doing we have attempted to standardize the English as far as possible whilst trying not to lose the characteristics of the styles of the individual authors

Handbook of Portuguese Studies Ieda Siqueira Wiarda, 1999-11-19

Rural Europe Keith Hoggart, Richard Black, Henry Buller, 2014-02-25 Examines the interaction of the economic political and social change processes within Europe which are bringing about fundamental transformations in rural areas The authors expand on this view of rural Europe and place its significance within the broader

The book addresses the situation of the urban world in Spain and Portugal in the first quarter of the 21st century Cities and metropolitan areas have become the key to understanding the organization of the territory and the economic system in the Iberian Peninsula Iberian cities drive financial based business and they constitute the main centers of commerce and tourism since urban and economic organization are presented as two directly related variables This reality is defined by the primacy of three main cities Madrid Barcelona and Lisbon followed by six metropolitan areas with around one or two million inhabitants Porto Bilbao Zaragoza Valencia Seville and Malaga As in the large capitals problems of income inequality and access to housing mobility and government also affect the remaining regional urban systems This book examines these urban areas through six major themes which are developed in more than 25 chapters The themes are urbanization inequality finance and housing markets consumers and new residents mobility and governance Contributions from leading geographers and urban planners from the most important universities of the Iberian Peninsula comprise this overview of metropolitan areas of Spain and Portugal Industrialization in Developing and Peripheral Regions F. E. Ian Hamilton,2017-09-05

The ten years before this book was originally published in 1986 saw major restructuring in the economies of the developed world This was often closely related to industrial development in newly industrializing and third world countries This book examines the performance of these developing countries and includes studies of peripheral regions less developed regions within more advanced economies The overall findings are that whilst some areas and countries have success stories to tell such as Korea many so called newly industrializing countries and regions have had serious problems Ethnic Minorities and Industrial Change in Europe and North America Malcolm Cross,1992-10-22 Following World War II racial and ethnic minorities formed a pool of low paid labour upon which the industrial city depended When industrial production shifted overseas the new local technological industries required fewer better skilled workers The consequence for those excluded was disastrous In this book leading authorities compare the situation of minorities in the post industrial cities of Europe and North America Extended Urbanisation Christian Schmid,Milica Topalovic,2023-10-24 Extended methods of analysis for urbanisation processes illustrated in eight world regions Urbanisation processes are unfolding far beyond the realm of agglomerations profoundly transforming agrarian areas rain forests deserts and oceans Inextricably bound to the earth's ecologies these developments are causing manifold planetary crises which require urgent scrutiny and call for new conceptions and cartographies of the urban beyond the city Through detailed analysis and fieldwork captured in text photographs and hand drawn maps the book portrays the effects of extended urbanisation in eight world regions It offers a redefinition of the very notions of the city urban and urbanisation and outlines new urban agendas developed to address planetary challenges This book decenters the perspective on the urban foregrounds urban struggle and transcends rural
