Conversations with Peter Brook: 1970-2000 Margaret Croyden, 2010-02-01 A fascinating and provocatively stimulating distillation of three decades of intense conversations between one of the twentieth century's few true theater innovators and America's leading writer on the theatrical avant garde. A splendid book. Clive Barnes: Peter Brook continues to astonish not in an ordinary fashionable way but in an ancient insistent way that always forces one inward. There is a true honest fearless voice in this fascinating conversation. Ken Burns: Peter Brook, one of the most important contemporary theatrical directors in the West, shares his most insightful thoughts and deepest feelings about theater with Margaret Croyden, who has followed his career for thirty years, gaining an unparalleled perspective on the evolution of his work. In these interchanges from 1970 to 2000, Brook freely discusses major works such as his landmark airborne A Midsummer Night's Dream and his untraditional interpretation of the opera La Traviata. He also covers the establishment of the Paris Center, his work in the Middle East and Africa, and his masterwork, the nine-hour production of The Mahabharata, which has virtually reinvented the way actors and directors think about theater. Margaret Croyden is a well-known critic, commentator, and journalist whose articles on theater and the arts have appeared in The New York Times, The Nation, The Village Voice, American Theatre, and Antioch Review, among others. She is the author of Lunatics, Lovers, and Poets, a seminal book on the development of nonliterary theater.

The Open Door Peter Brook, 1993 From King Lear to the Tragedy of Carmen, from Marat-Sade to the epic Mahabharata, Peter Brook has reinvented modern theatre not once but again and again. In The Open Door, the visionary director and theorist offers a lucid, comprehensive exposition of the philosophy that underlies his work. It is a philosophy of paradoxes: We come to the theatre to find life, but that life must be different from the life we find outside. Actors have to prepare painstakingly yet be willing to sacrifice the results of their preparation. The director's most reliable tool may be his capacity to be bored. Brook illustrates these principles with anecdotes that span his entire career and that demonstrate his familiarity with Shakespeare, Chekhov, and the indigenous theatres of India and Iran. The result is an unparalleled look at what happens both onstage and behind the scenes, fresh in its insights and elegant in its prose. From the Trade Paperback edition.

Peter Brook John Courtenay Trewin, 1971

The Paris Jigsaw David Bradby, Maria M. Delgado, 2002 This book examines the creation and development of communities of actors, directors, designers, and playwrights in Paris over the past thirty years. It shows how the willingness of the city to welcome international influences has enriched its creative life and that many of the most important trends and new developments have been the direct result of the creative combination of influences from all over the world.

Conference of the Birds John Heilpern, 1999 Part theater expedition and experiment, part spiritual search and comedy of errors, Brook's adventure was in essence a search for a new beginning and a completely new form of theater. The actors performed at each village they came to, improvising before stunned villagers with whom they shared no common language. The outcome was to have far-reaching implications for the future of theater and a seminal impact on all of Brook's groundbreaking work thereafter from his ninety minute Carmen to his seven hour epic The Mahabharata BOOK JACKET This classic book is the most penetrating account written about the ideas and personality of the man described as the world's greatest theater director BOOK JACKET Signs of Performance Colin Counsell, 1996 Colin Counsell takes a historical look at theatre as a cultural practice clearly tracing connections between key practitioners' own ideas about performance the theatrical practices prompted by those ideas the resulting signs which emerge in performance the meanings and political consequences of those signs The Routledge Companion to Directors' Shakespeare John Russell Brown, 2009-06-02 The Routledge Companion to Directors' Shakespeare is a major collaborative book about plays in performance Thirty authoritative accounts describe in illuminating detail how some of theatre's most talented directors have brought Shakespeare's texts to the stage Each chapter has a revealing story to tell as it explores a new and revitalising approach to the most familiar works in the English language A must have work of reference for students of both Shakespeare and theatre this book presents some of the most acclaimed productions of the last hundred years in a variety of cultural and political contexts Each entry describes a director's own theatrical vision and methods of rehearsal and production These studies chart the extraordinary feats of interpretation and innovation that have given Shakespeare's plays enduring life in the theatre Notable entries include Ingmar Bergman Peter Brook Declan Donnellan Tyrone Guthrie Peter Hall Fritz Kortner Robert Lepage Joan Littlewood Ninagawa Yukio Joseph Papp Roger Planchon Max Reinhardt Giorgio Strehler Deborah Warner Orson Welles Franco Zeffirelli Screening the Royal Shakespeare Company John Wyver, 2019-06-27 No theatre company has been involved in such a broad range of adaptations for television and cinema as the Royal Shakespeare Company Starting with Richard III filmed in the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre before World War One the RSC's accomplishments continue today with highly successful live cinema broadcasts The Wars of the Roses BBC 1965 Peter Brook's film of King Lear 1971 Channel 4's epic version of Nicholas Nickleby 1982 and Hamlet with David Tennant BBC 2009 are among their most iconic adaptations Many other RSC productions live on as extracts in documentaries as archival recordings in trailers and in other fragmentary forms Screening the Royal Shakespeare Company explores this remarkable history of collaborations between stage and screen and considers key questions about adaptation that concern all those involved in theatre film and television John Wyver is a broadcasting historian and the producer of RSC Live from Stratford upon Avon and is uniquely well placed to provide a vivid account of the company's television and film productions He contributes an award winning practitioner's insight into screen adaptation's numerous challenges and rich potential The Methuen Drama Handbook of Interculturalism and Performance Daphne Lei, Charlotte McIvor, 2020-04-02 The Methuen Drama Handbook of Interculturalism and Performance explores ground breaking new directions and critical discourse in the field of intercultural theatre and performance while surveying key debates concerning interculturalism as an aesthetic and ethical series of encounters in theatre and performance from the 1960s onwards The handbook's global coverage challenges
