from an historical perspective this book provides a new approach to the history of Public Administration as a scientific discipline Original and interdisciplinary chapters address the question of how scholars from the U S Germany and France mutually influenced each other from the closing years of the 19th Century up until the neo liberal turn of the 1970s Offering a thorough analysis of the transatlantic history of Public Administration the conclusion argues that it is vital to learn from the past in order to make Public Administration more realistic in theory as well as more successful in practice Advanced undergraduate and postgraduate political science scholars will find this to be a valuable tool in understanding the foundations of transatlantic Public Administration This book will also greatly benefit researchers on comparative and transnational history with a keen interest in Public Administration Social Equity in the Public Administration Classroom interdisciplinary examination of public value is necessary to establish an essential definition and up to date picture of the field In reflecting on the public value project this book points to how the field has broadened well beyond its original focus on public sector management has deepened in terms of the development of the analytical concepts and frameworks that linked the concepts together and has been applied increasingly in concrete circumstances by academics consultants and practitioners This book covers three main topics deepening and enriching the theory of creating public value broadening the theory and practice of creating public value to voluntary and commercial organisations and collaborative networks and the challenge and opportunity that the concept of public value poses to social science and universities Collectively it offers new ways of looking at public and social assets against a backdrop of increasing financial pressure new insights into changing social attitudes and perceptions of value and new models for increasingly complicated collaborative forms of service delivery involving public private and not for profit players Transforming Public Leadership for the 21st Century Ricardo S.
