Hines, 2009-02-02 The Boy Who Wanted Too Much is a collection of poems that form a story There is prose to support the poetry and frame the story but at its heart poetry is the key Subject matter touches upon the realms of myth religion fantasy the human condition and love Each poem speaks with the authors unique voice Book Review Author reaches into his soul to explore life love Hillside poet reaches out to readers in his first book When one digs deep enough into one's feelings dreams thoughts and experiences one can create a poetic effect And the poetic effect literally speaking for Greg L Hines of Hillside has emerged into a book called The Boy Who Wanted Too Much Hines has introduced an interesting compilation of poetry and prose examining his own apparent state of growing into He has constructed his deepest dreams of reality into a manuscript that is separated in three sections The House of Emasculation Fairy Dust and the final section which is titled The Pleasure Letters And in all three he reaches into his innermost soul to decipher and to understand all that is happening to him in life and love Some of the poems that Hines has included in the book are extremely well written and find their way into a person's heart and soul Others however appear to have been written just for the moment and then cast aside Hines in a comment from the author in his opening pages explains that this is a novel written in a new writing form developing over a period of five years It is known as an abstracted reality He begins the book with a poem The Boy Who Wanted Too Much and an introduction that says it all He writes of enemies lost dreams girls angels love fear hate lust God and peace ecstasy doom every emotion that through the growing years turns a boy into a man And as a man he struggles with all these confrontations Hines reaches out to his readers to have them delve into their own feelings from boyhood to manhood and to know just what it is really like to grow up and face the world of reality The Boy Who Wanted Too Much is well worth perusing Some of the poetry actually sounds as if Hines had lyrics in mind for songs to be written And this reviewer really would not mind if it is placed on the shelf in a new category of poetry It will however need more of its kind upon which to lean Bea Smith editorial thelocalsource.com Article About the Book Poet grew with his material for first book By Bea Smith Staff Writer The reason it took Greg L Hines of Hillside 10 years to write The Boy Who Wanted Too Much a book of emotional poetry was because he grew along with the material Actually Hines explained I started writing the book when I was younger in my early 20s I wanted to be as authentic as possible And as my perspective changed so did the character of the book I call it a novel of abstract reality It felt like a story although not one that read from A to B Hines who is a musician by profession mentioned that I've been writing since I was 9 years old And with a book such as this for me a lot of it had to do with my life experiences It was pretty much a way of getting my feelings out and coping with a lot of things I had going on then With The Boy Who Wanted Too Much you can come away with the exact same story Hines said he takes great pride in the fact that this is my first published work even though it is self published by my own publishing company Hardkandy Publishing here in Hillside He also publishes his own music through Hardkandy Records Inc I'm self employed have my own record label and more New York Times Essential Library: Children's Movies Peter M.
