Returning Questions A Dialogical Introduction To Philosophy:

Returning Questions Joseph R. Cronin, Otto R. Piechowski, 2003 The readings presented in Returning Questions A Dialogical Introduction to Philosophy are short clear and direct They are meant to stimulate meaningful dialogue and interactive learning to populations of students who do not have the time energy or background to commit hours of heavy study to a required three hour philosophy course This text presents a broad scope of philosophical issues and primary sources from the history of philosophy with the intent of providing students with a general introduction to significant and relevant questions in philosophy the humanities and the history of thought The Journal of Philosophy, 2003 The Dialogical Spirit Amos Yong, 2015-04-30 Contemporary proposals for Christian theology from post liberalism to Radical Orthodoxy and beyond have espoused their own methodological paradigms Those who have ventured into this domain of theological method however have usually had to stake their claims vis a vis trends in what may be called the contemporary post al age whether of the post modern post Christendom post Enlightenment post Western or post colonial varieties This volume is unique among offerings in this arena in suggesting a way forward that engages on each of these fronts and does so from a particularistic Christian perspective without giving up on Christian theology's traditional claims to universality This is accomplished through the articulation of a distinctive dialogical methodology informed by both Pentecostalism and Evangelicalism one rooted in the Christian salvation history narrative of Incarnation and Pentecost that is yet open to the world in its many and various cultural ethnic religious and disciplinary discourses Amos Yong here engages with twelve different interlocutors representing different ecumenical religious and disciplinary perspectives The Dialogical Spirit thus not only proffers a model for Christian theological method suitable for the twenty first century global context but also exemplifies this methodological approach through its interactions across the contemporary scholarly inter religious and theological landscape American Book Publishing Record, 2003 Dialogical Rhetoric W. Slob, 2013-11-11 Contemporary developments in philosophy have declared truth as such troublesome and not merely gaining access to it In a systematic survey this study investigates what is at stake when truth is given up A historical overview shows how the current problem of truth came about and suggests ways to overcome rather than to repair the problem A key issue resulting from the loss of truth is the lack of normativity Truth provided an alternative understanding of normativity Elaborating on the dialectical shift in logic a dialogico rhetorical understanding of normativity is presented Rather than requiring truth agreement or rationality dialogico rhetorical normativity is the result of a balance of particular standards This type of normativity is shaped within discussions by advancing and accepting arguments and is not located in sets of predetermined rules The result is a small but strong form of normativity If this understanding of normativity is viable one of the central problems of contemporary philosophy the problem of incommensurability can be seen in a different light As a result truth reappears again Surviving the postmodern criticisms it is a matter of accountability rather than of description An Introduction to Dialectics Theodor

W. Adorno, 2017-03-09 This volume comprises Adorno's first lectures specifically dedicated to the subject of the dialectic a concept which has been key to philosophical debate since classical times While discussing connections with Plato and Kant Adorno concentrates on the most systematic development of the dialectic in Hegel's philosophy and its relationship to Marx as well as elaborating his own conception of dialectical thinking as a critical response to this tradition Delivered in the summer semester of 1958 these lectures allow Adorno to explore and probe the significant difficulties and challenges this way of thinking posed within the cultural and intellectual context of the post war period In this connection he develops the thesis of a complementary relationship between positivist or functionalist approaches particularly in the social sciences as well as calling for the renewal of ontological and metaphysical modes of thought which attempt to transcend the abstractness of modern social experience by appeal to regressive philosophical categories While providing an account of many central themes of Hegelian thought he also alludes to a whole range of other philosophical literary and artistic figures of central importance to his conception of critical theory notably Walter Benjamin and the idea of a constellation of concepts as the model for an open or fractured dialectic beyond the constraints of method and system These lectures are seasoned with lively anecdotes and personal recollections which allow the reader to glimpse what has been described as the workshop of Adorno's thought As such they provide an ideal entry point for all students and scholars in the humanities and social sciences who are interested in Adorno's work as well as those seeking to understand the nature of dialectical thinking

Mao Zedong on Dialectical Materialism Zedong Mao, 1990 New and annotated translations of philosophical essays written by Mao Zedong in 1937 which have come to be regarded as a cornerstone in the development of Chinese Marxism The editor analyzes their textual philosophical and historical significance

Phenomenology and Dialectical Materialism Đức Thảo Trần, 1986 Tran Duc Thao a brilliant student of philosophy at the Ecole Normale Supérieure within the post 1935 decade of political disaster born in Vietnam shortly after the First World War recipient of a scholarship in Paris in 1935-37 was early noted for his independent and original mind_ While the 1930s twisted down to the defeat of the Spanish Republic the compromise with German Fascism at Munich and the start of the Second World War and while the 1940s began with hypocritical stability at the Western Front followed by the defeat of France and the occupation of Paris by the German power together with French collaborators and the ended with liberation and a search for a new understanding of human situations the young Thao was deeply immersed in the classical works of European philosophy He was also the attentive but critical student of a quite special generation of French metaphysicians and social philosophers Gaston Berger Maurice Merleau-Ponty Emile Brehier Henri Lefebvre René Lévinas Jean Paul Sartre perhaps the young Louis Althusser They in their several modes of response had been meditating for more than a decade on the philosophy of Edmund Husserl which came to France in the thirties as a new metaphysical enlightenment phenomenology

Dialectical Anatomy of the Eucharist Donald Wallenfang, 2017-05-16 For centuries Christian theology has understood the Eucharist in terms of metaphysics or in protest against it Today an opening has been made to imagine the sacrament through the method of phenomenology bringing about new theological life and meaning In Dialectical Anatomy of the Eucharist Donald Wallenfang conducts a sustained analysis of the Eucharist through the aperture of phenomenology yet concludes the study with poetic and metaphysical twists Engaging the work of Jean Luc Marion Paul Ricoeur and Emmanuel Levinas Wallenfang proposes pioneering ideas for contemporary sacramental theology that have vast implications for interfaith and interreligious dialogue By tapping into the various currents within the Judeo Christian tradition Jewish Catholic Orthodox and Protestant a radical argument is developed that leverages the tension among them all Several new frontiers are explored dialectical theology a fourth phenomenological reduction the phenomenology of human personhood the poetics of the Eucharist and a reinterpretation of the concept of gift as conversation On the whole Wallenfang advances recent debates surrounding the relationship between phenomenology and theology by claiming an uncanny way out of emerging dead ends in philosophical theology return to the fray

Phenomenology and Dialectical Materialism Trần Duc Thao,D.J. Herman,D.V. Morano,2012-12-06 Tran Duc Thao a brilliant student of philosophy at the Ecole Normale Supérieure within the post 1935 decade of political disaster born in Vietnam shortly after the First World War recipient of a scholarship in Paris in 1935-37 was early noted for his independent and original mind_ While the 1930s twisted down to the defeat of the Spanish Republic the compromise with German Fascism at Munich and the start of the Second World War and while the 1940s began with hypocritical stability at the Western Front followed by the defeat of France and the occupation of Paris by the German power together with French collaborators and then ended with liberation and a search for a new understanding of human situations the young Thao was deeply immersed in the classical works of European philosophy He was also the attentive but critical student of a quite special generation of French metaphysicians and social philosophers Gaston Berger Maurice Merleau-Ponty Emile Brehier Henri Lefebvre René Lévinas Jean Paul Sartre perhaps the young Louis Althusser They in their several modes of response had been meditating for more than a decade on the philosophy of Edmund Husserl which came to France in the thirties as a new metaphysical enlightenment phenomenology

Dialectical Materialism, an Introduction Gustav A. Wetter,1963

Dialectical Thinking Tommi Juhani Hanhijärvi,2015-04-01 This book introduces the reader to dialectical reasoning a kind of thinking found in ancient East Asia and Greece as well as modern Europe and elsewhere in the contemporary world Here we focus on Zeno Socrates Kant and Marx with appendices on Karl Popper and the Frankfurt School Studying these sources from different regions and periods we see that the thinking is essentially the same A similar formal pattern recurs dialectical thought is always oppositional and self-relational This book is written in the belief that dialectical thought is understandable and relevant to many kinds of persons One does not need to have a degree in philosophy to be moved by the great dialecticians One may even be a dialectician without academic training

Technology and Rationality Thomas Krogh,2019-06-04 First published in 1998 this volume deals with the position and role that the technology of modern society has traditionally had and ought to have within modern social philosophy and social theory These two considerations are by no means one and the same This selectivity is expressed both by Thomas Krogh s choice of historical writers and in the systematic orientation towards a discussion of the way in which technology is treated in social philosophy or social theories that have been inspired by and reflect philosophy and that move on a relatively high level of abstraction These include those proposed by Gehlen Marx Sartre Habermas and Luhmann

Vladimir Solov'ev William Peter van den Bercken, Manon de Courten, Evert van der Zweerde, 2000 Vladimir Solov'ev 1853 1900 is regarded as the most original and systematic of the Russian philosophers in the 19th century He has once again become the subject of international scholarly attention both in Slavic countries and the West This volume contains selected papers presented at the international conference on Vladimir Solov'ev held at Nijmegen University the Netherlands in September 1998 The scope of this conference was wide ranging dealing with theological metaphysical philosophical and historical themes Though Solov'ev s broad intellectual activity defies any strict attempt at categorisation the editors have classified its major themes under the dual characteristic of reconciliation and polemics Solov'ev was passionately committed to the reconciliation of all beings under the idea of all unity which he attempted to achieve by engaging in uncompromising polemics with his contemporaries The thirty contributors to this volume are specialists from Russia Ukraine Bulgaria Western Europe and the United States The volume makes a significant contribution to the intellectual reassessment of Vladimir Solov'ev since the rediscovery of his philosophical heritage in his own homeland in the 1980s

Karl Marx and the Intellectual Origins of Dialectical Materialism J. White, 1996-10-25 The book provides a genealogy of dialectical materialism by tracing the development of Marxist ideas from their origins in German philosophical thought to the ideology of the social democratic groups in Russia in the 1890s from which Lenin and the revolutionary generation emerged It reconstructs Marx s original conceptions and examines the modifications that were made to them by himself and by his Russian followers which eventually gave rise to the doctrine of dialectical materialism first expounded by Plekhanov
